

Stormer

The most censored publication in history

Vol. 21, 07-14 Jan 2018

Daily Stormer Sunday Edition

Samizdat!

It wasn't until I heard the vitriol about Chinamen coming out of a 10 year old's mouth that I really started paying attention to PlayerUnknown's Battlegrounds. It's very common nowadays thanks to publications like this one and the general cultural of the Internet for young kids to hate niggers, yids, and spics. However it has always been an uphill battle to get people acquainted with the Chinese question. Those slants are too low T to go on rampant sprees of rape and B&E. However, those disgusting chinks every bit of the criminal amorality of any Moslem or African. It took a clever move by a competing gook nation to make the world aware of this.

I've clocked hours in most of the major e-sports. PUBG is something different. It is truly a masterpiece. Bluehole, the Koreans studio responsible for PUBG, created the greatest multiplayer gaming experience to date and they are intentionally letting chinks ruin it. It took me a minute to figure out what those Koreans were doing, and it's beautiful.

The first thing you have to understand is that Koreans absolutely despise Chinks. Chinese approval rating in Korea is lower than Japan. For those unfamiliar with the history of relations between Japan and Korea, we're talking a timeless blood feud fueled by horrific sex crimes perpetrated upon the Koreans by the Japanese. Even so, Korea is now collectively looking at Japan and saying, "yeah, well, they may have raped all our grandmas, but at least they aren't those filthy, godforsaken Chinks."

The problem that the Koreans saw is that nobody else hates the Chinese as much as they do. Not enough Westerners see the realities of Chinese behavior as the most egregious acts are confined within China's borders. So Bluehole created market incentives for Chinese misbehavior to be put front in center all around the world. PUBG rewards allow you to eke out financial gain greater than the cost of the game. However, if you grind away with hacks you'll actually get a living wage a little bit better than gold farming on MMOs. So now a flood of Chinese gold farmers now ruthlessly abuses the game. Kids all across the world are being shown that Chinamen are conniving cheaters willing to ruin their joy over a fraction of a $4 digital loot crate.

This week's PUBG patch notes on steam contain over ten thousand comments demanding that Chinese be segregated from non-Chinese players. A large portion of these comments contain racial slurs.

The Koreans are only trying to make the world hate the Chinese, but kids learning from PUBG that one race has specific undesirable qualities are going to find it much easier to notice undesirable qualities in other races as well.

I want to take this chance to officially endorse PlayerUnknown's Battlegrounds for competing with The Daily Stormer as one of the biggest drivers of hate speech on the planet. Congratulations, Bluehole. You've earned that coveted Daily Stormer product endorsement. We hope you never region lock China, so hate for those slant-eye bastards will continue to grow in the hearts of young men.

Follow Andrew Anglin on GAB for the latest news and site updates: <https://gab.ai/AndrewAnglin>

Sections

1. Featured Stories	3
2. World	26
3. United States	44
4. Jewish Problem	68
5. Race War	75
6. Society	86
7. Insight	96

Surface web: dailystormer.red

Deep web: dstormer6em3i4km.onion

The Daily Stormer is non-profit and 100% reader-supported. We do what we do because we are attempting to preserve Western Civilization. We do it out of love.

Because the website and this Sunday Edition are not monetized, we require contributions from readers to pay the expenses involved.

PayPal (and everything else known to man) has banned this site and me as an individual person from using their services, so right now all we have is bitcoin.

Daily Stormer's Bitcoin address:

19m9yEChBSPuzCzEMmg1dNbPvdLdWA59rS

Sunday Edition BTC: 1NsNmzzXtqiZ4YStnYWaEgCauWBGBs2iqB

The basic moral premise of “you have to be nice to everyone” is flawed. Any argument that stems from that basis is going to be flawed.

—Andrew Anglin

Featured Stories

South Africa: Jungle Monkeys CHIMP OUT on H&M Over Jun- gle Monkey T-Shirt

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

The shirt that set-off the Planet of the Apes revolution.

The key difference between these jungle monkeys and the ones referenced on the t-shirt is that these ones are not the least bit cool.

Also, for the sake of scientific accuracy, I think it is more accurate to call these “apes” rather than “monkeys.”

RT:

Anti-racism protesters stormed multiple H&M stores across South Africa Saturday, in response to an advertisement for the company’s children’s clothing they view as racist.

The protests were staged by members of the Economic Freedom Fighters (EFF) who trashed the H&M stores in Menlyn Park Shopping Center, Pretoria, East Rand Mall and Sandton City Shopping Center in Gauteng.

EFF protests were also reported at H&M stores in Gauteng’s Mall of the South and Mall of Africa, and at Clearwater Mall in Johannesburg.

H&M has faced an international backlash this week over an online advert which featured a black child wearing a hoodie reading “coolest monkey in the jungle”.

...

The Deputy President of EFF took to Twitter to praise the group’s members for “physically confronting racism”.

Each of the affected shopping centers confirmed the incidents, saying that while no injuries had been reported, security personnel at the malls remained on “high alert” in the wake of the protests.

“All the outlets of H&M in South Africa [were] allegedly targeted by EFF party members simultaneously,” read the statement from East Rand mall.

“The safety and security of our customers, staff and tenants is of utmost importance and the affected area has been secured by the South African Police Services (SAPS),” said Menlyn Park.

Gauteng police said they used rubber bullets to disperse the crowd at East Rand Mall and confirmed that all H&M stores have been closed in response. No arrests have been made.

This was a complete shitshow. A serious one. Like, these type of riots could lead to an extended period of unrest, mass death and attempts to overthrow the government.

That @hm nonsense of a clothing store is now facing consequences for its racism. All rational people should agree that the store should not be allowed to continue operating in South Africa. Well done to Fighters who physically confronted racism. pic.twitter.com/cgdedYGoOj

— Floyd Shivambu (@FloydShivambu) January 13, 2018

Here’s a bunch of footage of these uncool monkeys.

Video Link

Guys Menlyn right now #H&M pic.twitter.com/Vy5VbKftIA

— Breaker Of Chains (@LazzRusi) January 13, 2018

So this is H&M at Menlyn...a group of people are vandalizing and just throwing clothes around. #ANC106 pic.twitter.com/1S4edBabyS

— Mukololo ® (@DineoDeeMash2) January 13, 2018

Sandton City H&M. Right now!!! EFF boycotting “monkey” sweater. pic.twitter.com/wjjQCM9IAq

— Buhle Manyathi (@B_Manyathi) January 13, 2018

#H&M @mall of the south @ef-fjoburg pic.twitter.com/yipz8hliqy

— EFFWard 54 (@EFFWard54) January 13, 2018

The T-shirt wasn’t even sold in South Africa.

“Outrage Porn”

What the fuck are these people doing, asks ye?

Well, here’s the deal: white liberals like when the Jews put out “outrage porn” about some individual or organization who has ostensibly violated the Jewish social norms. They enjoy the opportunity to signal how virtuous they are, and feel good about themselves for standing up for what is socially correct.

It’s similar to throwing rotted fruit at criminals in a pillory.

That being said, in many or most of these cases, they don’t actually believe that things are as they say they are. They do not here for instance believe that H&M is a “racist” company that was purposefully trying to hurt the feelings of black people with the “coolest monkey in the jungle” ad. If you asked one of them, they would say that no, they don’t think it was purposeful, but they think that in current year companies should make a point to be more aware of things that could accidentally offend people of color.

But blacks do not understand that type of nuance. Black people are told “this ad is racist” and they assume that the reasoning behind the ad was that white people wanted to hurt their feelings. They picture a board meeting at H&M where a bunch of old white guys look at the ad and say “haha-hahahah! this will get those stupid niggers good!”

So basically, the white liberals who play into this outrage porn industry—at least when it relates to colored people—are emotionally exploiting black people by presenting something that they aren’t able to understand, and declaring someone a villain when they know it was just a simple mistake.

Of course, they have been brainwashed to believe that blacks are just as intellectually capable as they are, so they assume that blacks also understand that the advertisement was just an accident which may or may not have been offensive to blacks if the Jews hadn’t pointed it out. Surely though, when they see these “people” rioting, they must think: “wow, that is a lot of anger over an accident by an advertiser.”

DS

Hawaii is an Example of a Working Imperial Model

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

I was thinking about Hawaii today after that weird event.

What I will tell you is that Hawaii is an example of a successful imperial situation. Although most imperial situations were successful, this is one that worked in the modern era. Although the details of that are that these people don’t have any desire to leave because they are in a tropical paradise which also has American laws to do with minimum wage and so on.

Puerto Rico is the flip side of this, where all of those people pour into America because they don’t have the wages and welfare benefits.

You don’t have Hawaiians on the streets of NYC doing monkey drum circle nonsense.

Most of the Soviet territories have resulted in a similar form of “post-colonial blues,” with poor people from the Southern areas going to Moscow to work.

So basically, the fact that Hawaii does work is due to a very specific set of circumstances.

HOWEVER—it does show that colonialism can work.

As the reader is probably aware, I am staunchly pro-colonialism/imperialism/global white supremacy, and extremely disgusted by the “nationalism for everyone” meme. I believe in nationalism for MY PEOPLE, and I don’t really have any understanding of how you would be a “universalist nationalist” —the concept is totally dishonest and jokey.

If you are for your own nation, then you view other nations through the lens of what is best for your own nation. And in most cases, that will not mean allowing those nations to have their own nationalism, but instead require them to be ruled by your own nation.

Just as an example here: environmentalism is a thing. It is used very wrongly by the left, of course, and certain things are exaggerated, but the fact is that massive deforestation in the third world is very bad for the whole planet, including the parts that we live in.

Hawaii is not deforested, because we kept control of it. Meanwhile, virtually the entirety of former colonies in South America, Africa and Southeast Asia have been deforested. And that was because we left. And that particular fact cannot be spun as anything other than negative.

Borneo deforestation

And the orangutans don't have anywhere to go

Also, by ruling over brown people, we would be able to regulate their population growth—most if not all of the deforestation, extinction of species, polluting of the air and water, etc. is due to the population explosion in these countries. They are literally burning rain forests to grow genetically modified corn to make prole-feed.

In fact, it would be much better for the brown people to be ruled by us. I don't really care about that, but it's true.

We would simply pass laws with regards to interracial couplings. Men can fuck the natives if they want (NOT THE OTHER WAY AROUND, EVER, AND OUR OWN BREEDING-STOCK WOMEN SHOULD BE LARGELY BANNED FROM THE COLONIES), but it will be illegal to produce children and if a child is somehow produced it will not be granted any white person rights.

The natives will be celebrating having us back, virtually the whole world over. Basically, the UN is already doing something like this with their various foreign aid organization, they are just doing it in a stupid, destructive way, because their aid is based on the fact that brown people are somehow equal. We will go there as their masters, and make it clear that we are their masters, while also not being sadistic about it. The natives will have some rights. For example, a white man will not just be allowed to kill a brown person in the colonies, anymore than a person is allowed to kill a dog in America now. General abuse will also be banned. They will not be literal slaves, just subjects of the Aryan Empire. We will just treat them as what they are: lesser beings designed to be ruled over by white people.

Just Please Stop Saying “Nationalism for Everyone” —PLEASE IT'S SO FUCKING GAY

Whatever you think about my plan for global white supremacy, please stop saying “nationalism for everyone.” It's the gayest, weakest shit I have ever seen in my entire life.

First reason being: everyone but us already has nationalism.

Telling people invading your country—from their own sovereign country—is like telling a man breaking into your home “oh but please, I think you should have your own house also, I'm not bad, I support you too, just please leave my house so I can have my own house!”

Fucking.

Gay.

Furthermore, if you're advocating for yourself, you should be advocating for yourself. Advocating for foreign people while you are almost dead—at the hands of those foreign people—is not a position of strength. What it comes across as as yet more apologizing for being white. It doesn't make you seem more reasonable to be trying to coddle people who already have their own fucking countries and are harming us by saying you support them too, it makes you look like you are specifically trying to give that impression so that people don't think you're evil—apologizing for being white.

It is a weak, weak position.

It undermines our entire premise when you need to apologize for defending white people, as you are effectively granting the enemy the point that we are evil, hence the need for an apology.

Here's the deal: we owe no one a single fucking thing—other than bullets in many cases.

And you are not going to effectively use some Jew manipulation technique on people. The only thing on our side is the truth. And we need to roll with that.

I want a galactic empire. And I'm not settling for anything less.

DS

UKIP Leader's GF is BASED AF – Racially Insulted Nigger Princess-to-Be

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

Finally, a BASED Aryan Princess.

It's about gosh-darn time.

The Telegraph:

The girlfriend of Ukip leader Henry Bolton has been suspended from the party after reportedly making racist remarks about Meghan Markle.

Jo Marney, 25, sent a series of messages to a friend in which she made highly offensive comments about Prince Harry's fiancée and black people, according the Mail on Sunday.

In a statement to the paper, Ms Marney said she apologised "unreservedly" for the "shocking language" used in the messages, but said they had been "taken out of context".

Mr Bolton, 54, whose relationship with Ms Marney is under investigation by the party, said on Sunday that she had been suspended "immediately upon us receiving this information".

The Ukip leader sent the message in reply to a young party member who urged him to publicly call for Ms Marney to have her membership removed.

"She has to go or he and UKIP are doomed if we let this behaviour happen in the party," the teenage activist said.

Here are the messages.

I wouldn't with a negro	She's black.
What's wrong with black people?	A dumb little 'actress' that no one has heard of
Ugly	This is Britain, not Africa
Not my thing	Racist
They don't turn me on	lol so what
Harry's marrying. God!	Not wanting other races and cultures to invade your own culture doesn't mean I hate their race. Just means I don't want their cultures invading mine
Wet as a scrubber. Awful	Just don't like her
A royal yank. yuck	She's a black American
What's wrong with her?	Pushing their way to the top slowly slowly. Next will be a Muslim Pm
She's a 'gender equality' t	And a black king
She's obsessed with race
And her seed with [sic] taint our royal family.
Just a dumb little commoner. Tiny brain

Now, let's consider why this Aryan Princess is so BASED.

Firstly, she's obviously inclined towards authoritarianism for whatever personal reasons, given that she's dating a guy who is 30 years older than her. Probably, she had a very strong father figure. Remember that the media at least claimed that the ULTIMATE ARYAN PRINCESS Melania Trump had a father who was very similar to Trump. Women with strong father figures typically seek out relational partners similar to them, and the biggest reason we have the SKANK TYPHOON in the West right now is that boomer men were such pathetic father figures.

PICTURED: Boomer teaches conservative values to his grandchildren

Secondly, after seeking out an other, authoritarian-minded man, women will adopt the views of that man and parrot them. So these were just his words coming out of her mouth (or thumbs technically). Anyone who has ever been masculine and had a girlfriend or wife will know this is true—you don't have to explain anything to a woman, she will just hear you saying things and over a period of time she will just start repeating everything you say. This is evolutionary biology. You are her protector and she wants to be as accommodating to you as possible and part of that is shilling for you. This isn't a conscious thing for a woman, she simply instinctively does it.

That is why I tell the faggots trying to rope single women "into the movement" to shut the fuck up. Firstly, those people are losers who think they can get a girlfriend easier if they turn our movement into a singles meet-up—in actual reality, if they can't get laid other places, they're not going to get laid in a political movement either.

RELATED: Women Should Shut the Fuck Up

While we don't need female participation in the movement, it is good to have women shilling for us. But the only way we are going to do that is by getting normie girlfriends and dick-converting them.

So to that end, the best way to get "women in the movement" is by you all men being in shape, dominant, assertive men that are capable of getting girlfriends. It's that simple.

DS

LOL: Hawaii False Bombing Alarm Because Someone Pushed the Wrong Button

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

So as you probably heard—everyone did—Hawaii on Saturday had a false bombing alarm and everyone believed they were being nuked by North Korea.

I'm sure some people will have conspiracy theories about this particular event. There are several reasons why the government might want to fake people out about something like this—possibly to test the public response, possibly to make people more hostile to and afraid of North Korea—whatever.

However, Hawaii is a largely brown country/colony/territory/state which doesn't generally function particularly well on a lot of different levels. It is under the US government obviously, so a certain amount of their systems are secured by white people, and there are a whole bunch of Japs there for whatever reason, but their state and local governments are lined with the low-IQ natives. And them setting up a system that allows for someone to accidentally click a button that sets off an alarm system telling the entire public they're being nuked is not really especially hard to believe.

RT:

Faced with a public outcry following a false missile alert, Hawaiian officials apologized, saying an automated method of retracting warnings will be introduced and two employees, instead of one, will handle it in the future.

"We did everything that we can, immediately, to ensure that it will never happen again...so a single person will not be able to make an error that triggers another false alarm," Vern Miyagi, Hawaii's Emergency Management Agency (HI-EMA) administrator said, as he accepted responsibility for the incident.

"I'm sorry for that pain and confusion that many might have experienced," he added.

It was a single mouse click by a HI-EMA employee during a routine test that sent the entire state of Hawaii into panic, Miyagi revealed.

"The wrong button was pushed on the test, it went into actual event versus a test," he said. It was not literally a button, but part of a screen the employee erroneously clicked on to activate the alarm, according to Miyagi. As to why it took the agency nearly 40 minutes to inform the public that the alert was bogus, Miyagi said that officials were forced to go through a number of steps as there was no deactivation template in place.

"There was no an automated way to send a false alarm cancellation. We had to initiate a manual process and that was why it took a while to notify everyone," Governor David Ige said.

In fact, the officials initiated the cancellation procedure just three minutes after the alarm went off, Miyagi said, as he provided a detailed timeline of how the events unfolded. At 8:13am, six minutes after the initial warning, the agency issued a cancellation which stops the messages from going out. At 8:20am, the agency posted the correction on Facebook, which was retweeted by the governor in four minutes. However, it was already 8:45am when distraught Hawaiians finally received "verbal" notifications on their cell phones.

Those were no doubt a tense 32 minutes.

Refusing to identify the employee responsible for the mishap, Miyagi said that he was also shaken by what he involuntary caused to happen.

"You got to know this guy feels bad. He was not doing this on purpose. It was a mistake on his part. He feels terrible about it and it won't happen again," Miyagi said.

"There's definitely was no hacking involved, it was a human error," Governor Ige reiterated.

As reporters grilled officials about how could it take the employee three minutes to realize such an obvious mistake, the governor said the emergency staff only became aware of the error when the alert popped up on their phones.

HAHA!

This is pure silliness.

I'm not even going to say that this isn't a government psy-op of some sort. It makes sense that it would have been. I'm just not sure that this is the simplest answer.

Governments generally are not especially good with complex computer systems, and you get some primitives involved and you're gonna have a bad time.

At least we got a great meme out of this.

The "natural" meme is one of the best sorts of memes.

Also, I want to say that I just Google Image searched Hawaii and I think we've been lied to about this “sexy Hawaiian native” thing.

They all seem fat and pear-shaped with unrefined monkey-type features.

I think people must be mistaking the Jap girls there for Hawaiians when they spread this meme.

DS

HuffPo: Racism is a Denial of God

Adrian Sol
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2017

After all, everyone knows God is a Black woman.

Liberals are so gaslit by the Jews that they actually believe God is against racism for some reason. All the while, common sense dictates that God actually loves racism and hates niggers.

Why would he have made them so ugly, stupid and violent if he didn't?

Nevertheless, it's quite entertaining to see the intellectual contortions these fools go through to try and justify this absurdity of combining religion and anti-racism.

The author of this scribble is just as you would expect.

Where does HuffPo dig up these people?

Huffington Post:

Racism for many is sanctioned by God, a fact which has kept many caught in racist and hate-filled beliefs, buoyed by a deep belief that racism is all right with God. While some Christians, notably those who are said to be on “the Left,” have decried racism, many on “the Right” seem just as confident that God approves of their beliefs.

The penchant of “godly men” to support racism and the goal of keeping America white is not new. Benjamin Franklin, in his Observations Concerning the Increase of Mankind, wrote, in 1751, “...the number of purely white people in America proportionately very small. All Africa is black or tawny; Asia chiefly tawny...why should we, in the Sight of Superior Beings, darken its people by planting them in America where we have so fair an opportunity of excluding all Blacks and Tawneys...(and) of increasing the lovely White and Red?”

Ol' Ben on point as usual.

Yes, the founding fathers were obviously White nationalists. And yes, they're obviously great men.

You'd think this bitch would have avoided mentioning this, as it doesn't exactly support her point that racism is evil. Pretty much everyone who's accomplished great things in history has been a racist.

But I guess a “former pastor” and “Huffington Post journalist” would know better, right?

Benjamin Franklin was a “godly” man, “good people,” as this president would say, and saw no disconnect between his innate racism and the presence and will of God.

Yeah, of course not.

And he's a lot smarter than this dumb skank. If she had an ounce of self-awareness, that'd give her pause. But these people can't even comprehend the idea that they might be wrong about something.

But the message of “God's goodness” has, for some, always clashed against the notion of a God who placates, supports and endorses racism.

Really?

Like who?

The late Rabbi Abraham Heschel said “racism is worse than idolatry. Racism is Satanism, unmitigated evil.”

He said, as has the Rev. C.T. Vivian has said, “You cannot worship God and at the same time look at man as if he were a horse.” (Abraham Heschel ;Essential Writings, p. 66)

Maybe this good rabbi should tell this to his fellow Jews, huh?

The hypocrisy of these Kikes, whose entire religion is based on their racial interest, all of whose holidays celebrate the destruction of their racial enemies, to tell us that racism is “un-Godly” is astounding.

In that work, Heschel quotes the late Reinhold Niebuhr, who said, “Race prejudice, a universal human ailment, is the most recalcitrant aspect of the evil of man. “Racism,” says Niebuhr, “is a “treacherous denial of the existence of God.”

Completely absurd.

I'm not a religious man. But even from a religious perspective, this is patently false.

If you believe that God created the universe, then you believe he's responsible for the laws of physics,biology, evolution, and racial differences. Thus looking at nature, you have the direct work of God, which can't be refuted by any book or doctrine. To claim that some abstract idea that a priest came up with trumps nature is the real idolatry.

Even if you're religious, nature is the only thing you can know for sure is the work of God.

And that's exactly the attitude of the Jews. They hate nature, and wish to override it with meaningless abstract theories. A hate of nature is obviously a hate of God, if you believe that God created nature.

Whether they're religious or not, Jews only care about their racial interests—no matter what they may profess to believe, their God is Jewry itself.

White people can actually have a reverence for higher things, and the ability to look at things objectively regardless of their group or personal interests. Racism is simply an example of that attitude. We examine the difference races of man and analyse their characteristics scientifically, objectively.

God, it seems, lets the privileged have their way. There is no divine punishment for racism or for racists; the God of the Right is fairly lenient. The Religious Right is quick to condemn people for actions they consider “sin,” most notably abortion and homosexuality. Members of the Religious Right are quick to ascribe natural disasters to a God angry about sin.

Racism never makes the list. It apparently is not punishable.

Reality is based on inequality. Every type of creature, from trees, shrubs and insects to whales and humans, is different. Different things cannot be equal. That’s an iron law of logic.

If the lion isn’t equal to the gazelle, and if the alpha wolf isn’t equal to the beta wolf, why would “God” have decided that every human is somehow exactly equal?

PSA: Humans aren’t actually equal.

What kind of insane divine entity would punish its creations for observing reality as it is?

These people are deranged.

But if, as Heschel says, “racism is worse than idolatry,” if it is “Satanism,” then what’s up with the inaction of God? Heschel says that “in dishonoring the Negro’s name, people “profane” God’s name.” These white people who live in racist thought continue to plough over the hearts, minds, spirits and rights of people of color, and the God of the Right never says a word.

These people are so self-centered that they think the ultimate creator of all existence should punish those who have unflattering opinions about them.

People who, like the president spew their hatred with little fear of divine retribution. They practice a religion which is an insult to the concept of a good God. It is no wonder that many people have turned away from religion; as a cultural phenomenon, it is abusive and oppressive, blind to the pain its beliefs, language and practices cause so many.

“If God was good he’d protect my feelings from ever getting hurt!”

God exists only for my feelings.

My point in commenting on this silly diatribe from the liberal rag HuffPo is to reinforce the idea that no matter if you’re religious or not, you can ground your understanding of reality in the eternal laws of nature, and those can never lead you astray.

If you’re an atheist, then the laws of nature are all we have and our only guide to navigating this world. But even if you believe in God, you have to acknowledge them as resulting from God’s will.

Jews an leftists, by defying nature, turn their back not only on objective reality but on God as well.

DS

Trump Trashes Disgusting Billion Dollar US Embassy in London

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

Video Link

Trump has said that he canceled his trip to London because of this disgusting and disgustingly expensive embassy that was just completed.

Reason I canceled my trip to London is that I am not a big fan of the Obama Administration having sold perhaps the best located and finest embassy in London for “peanuts,” only to build a new one in an off location for 1.2 billion dollars. Bad deal. Wanted me to cut ribbon-NO!

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) January 12, 2018

CNN:

US President Donald Trump won’t be paying a visit to London to open his country’s billion-dollar embassy, he tweeted Thursday.

The trip, which would have been Trump’s first to the UK as president, had not been officially announced but was expected next month.

In the tweet, Trump blames his predecessor, former president Barack Obama, for the decision to sell the existing embassy, which he describes as “the best located and finest” in the city, for ““peanuts.”

“Reason I canceled my trip to London is that I am not a big fan of the Obama Administration having sold perhaps the best located and finest embassy in London for ‘peanuts,’ only to build a new one in an off location for 1.2 billion dollars. Bad deal. Wanted me to cut ribbon-NO!” the full tweet reads.

I think he probably canceled the trip because of the evil tyrannical Islamic government of the shit-hole UK, but this is a good excuse as well.

The building is as absolutely ugly as it gets.

I mean, that is one ugly damn building.

It looks like the Borg Cube.

going to drop all of this on Monday. I personally can't wait to see it. O'Keefe is one of the few people around who is doing legitimate journalism. This is the type of stuff that old school reporters used to do. It's unfortunately become a bit of a lost art in the age of the tubes, where mainstream print journalists are a few steps below bloggers.

Video Link

Hopefully this pushes the government to either regulate the shit out of Twitter or gas the site off the tubes. It's ridiculous that a private company like this has such a powerful stranglehold over the nation's political discourse.

People like myself, Andrew Anglin and the other Daily Stormer guys should not be rendered non-persons by a private company because they dislike our political views. Our views are valid based upon the popularity of our work. They deserve to be heard in the public arena which in the 21st century is now centered around the big social media sites. We should not be silenced by Twitter's army of Indian street shitters! Their fear of the truth is no excuse for this!

DS

Tranny Sex Robots Are on the Way – And IRL Trannies are Pissed

Adrian Sol
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2017

Here's a philosophical question: is a robot trap gay if you buy it only because the sex robot store is sold out of CIS female sexbots?

The modern world brings us all sorts of new interesting moral problems. For example, we now have to ponder whether it's more embarrassing to masturbate with a tranny robot or an actual tranny—because both those options will soon be on the table for America's bugeoisie.

But the coming rise of tranny sex robots isn't all flowers and rainbows, even for the degenerates who are into that sort of thing. One group will suffer greatly from this innovation in dildotech: "real" trannies.

The Sun:

The Sun has learned that the Californian start-up responsible for the female Harmony sex droid is now considering a trans version too.

Realbotix has been constantly in the news in recent months thanks to its revolutionary robot sexual companions.

Powered by artificial intelligence software, the lifelike bots have their own personalities, and can even have a conversation with you.

Video Link

Not creepy at all.

The female Harmony model was launched last year, and a male version was recently announced to be in development.

But a senior Realbotix director has told The Sun that a "transgender" model could be the company's next big project.

"We do believe there is a market not only for transgender, but for any other sexual preferences of gender," said Guile Lindroth, who heads up AI at Realbotix.

Lindroth said a trans robot is "not out of our plans" once the male robot is in production later this year.

I'm somewhat astonished there's a market for male sex robots. Do they come with an option to pay these slut's mortgage, too?

The problem with the tranny robots, however, is that unlike men with silicone tits, they won't actually look like freaks. That's making some people very uncomfortable.

But trans activists have doubts about whether so-called "transgender" robots would be a good thing for the LGBT community.

Christine Burns MBE, a trans rights activist for nearly 30 years, told The Sun that a sex droid might just promote "the porn industry's idea of a 'she male'".

She says this is a "creation which some kinds of men get aroused over", but which bears "no resemblance to everyday trans people".

Of course not. Everyday trans people look like this:

Ugh.

Bleugh!

Ain't nobody aroused by this crap, except deeply disturbed individuals.

Tranny robots will just look exactly like women, but with dicks, which is a standard that no tranny can match up to.

"This kind of exploitative fantasy creation simply reinforces the idea that trans women are sexual objects."

Of course trannies are "sexual objects." That's the whole reason they do this whole thing. They're sex perverts who get off on the idea of being a different gender. They just don't want to admit it because they also get off on coaxing people into pretending like they're "real women."

Burns says some men see trans women as "something to be aroused by, but harbouring a surprise package between their legs when undressed".

"The idea of 'chicks with dicks' is a representation created by men to exploit a market."

"I don't begrudge people getting their thrills in what private way takes their fancy, this is in no way any kind of advancement or 'acceptance' for trans people."

"They spend their lives striving to live an authentic existence."

The existential problem of transies is that no one is remotely interested in having “sex” with them.

Normal guys want nothing to do with them, and homosexuals are interested in actual men, not dudes dressed up as women with silicon titties.

Their dating pool is thus limited to other freaks and weird fetishists.

So of course they would be threatened by having this limited pool of options drying up if their fellow freaks and perverts can get their rocks off with sex robots that don't look as hideous as they are.

The moral of this story, naturally, is that all these people need to be gassed.

DS

Tranny Bradley Manning Challenges Jew Ben Cardin for Senate Seat

Lee Rogers
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

The tranny Manning would actually be an improvement over the kike Cardin in the Senate...I guess.

Bradley Manning is running for Senate. Manning, as many of you might recall, was put in a military prison for leaking classified information that exposed wrongdoing by ZOG military forces. Manning was eventually granted clemency by the colored ape Barry Soetoro.

At some point during this whole process Manning declared that it was a tranny and demanded everyone call him “Chelsea.” Presumably, this was the result of sustained torture at the hands of ZOG.

Now, Manning is seeking to unseat Maryland's Jew Senator Ben Cardin.

Reuters:

Chelsea Manning, the transgender U.S. Army soldier who served seven years in military prison for leaking classified data, is seeking the Democratic Party's nomination for the U.S. Senate seat from Maryland, according to Federal election filings seen on Saturday.

Manning, who was granted clemency by former U.S. President Barack Obama, was released in May from a U.S. military prison in Kansas where she had been serving time for passing secrets to the WikiLeaks website in the biggest breach of classified data in the history of the United States.

Democratic Senator Ben Cardin was elected in 2006 to that seat and is expected to run for re-election this year. He is the senior Democrat on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Cardin was easily re-elected in 2012, beating his Republican challenger by 30 points in the heavily-Democratic state.

This is great news. Manning's entrance into the political arena further illustrates how much of a clown show our system is.

Hopefully Manning wins and defeats the Jew Cardin in the Democrat primary. Having the tranny Manning in the Senate would actually be an improvement (at least in terms of hard politics). Cardin is a pro-Israel Zionist. At least Manning seems to be against all this ZOG war nonsense.

But a Manning win in the Democrat primary would also open up the possibility for a Republican to win the seat. Lots of people will have second thoughts about voting for Manning in the general election. They'll take one look at it and realize that they can't vote for an obviously insane person with gender identity disorder.

The Jew-run media and Jew-run entertainment industry thinks they've normalized this tranny nonsense, but they really haven't. The average American still believes that this tranny weirdness is a mental illness. They are not wrong to think this.

DS

UK: Trumpists Storm Meeting of Shitholer Sadiq Khan, Demanding He be Arrested

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Some cretins come to make a citizens arrest on Sadiq Khan because of his Trump comments. One guy has a “NO 2 EU” number plate #Fab18 #SadiqKhan pic.twitter.com/4AlXDn2rfz

— Mark Davies (@Mark_T_Davies)
January 13, 2018

The shithole mayor of London is literally ISIS.

And an insult to Trump is an insult to the entire white race.

Because like it or not, Donald Trump is the symbol of white people.

RT:

Pro-Trump protesters stormed a speech being made by Sadiq Khan, shouting pro-Brexit slogans and calling for the London Mayor's arrest. The disruption led to the temporary suspension of the speech.

Khan had just begun his address at a conference for the Fabian Society, a socialist group, in London when demonstrators in the audience started calling for his arrest. Some of the group held US flags and anti-EU banners as their supporters clapped and heckled the Labour mayor.

The demonstration follows US President Donald Trump's cancellation of a planned visit to the UK capital next month. Khan, a vocal critic of the the US president, responded to news of the cancellation by saying Trump "had got the message" that Londoners were opposed to his policies.

Video footage of the incident shows the chairperson for the conference asking the demonstrators to go outside and talk to the press. The protesters were later escorted from the venue by police.

Khan resumed his speech on equality about 20 minutes after the disruption started.

London is an occupied city ruled by a foreign power.

There is no other way to look at that particular situation—when you have a foreign power invading your country and ruling over you, you are being occupied.

These are normal working men doing their best to fight back, and they view Donald Trump as a symbol of that oppression.

If our President wanted to, he could become the official leader of the white race globally.

Donald Trump should order an invasion of London to free the white British people from a foreign Islamic occupation.

We invaded Iraq ostensibly to free that population from their own extremely popular leader. So there is a precedent for invading countries to free people.

Let's apply it where it counts, and liberate our Anglo brothers.

And Just So You Understand...

The greasy little haj-hobbit was giving a speech on women's rights.

Today I'll be speaking at @thefabians conference about how as progressives, we all have a responsibility to continue the fight for gender equality. #BehindEveryGreatCity pic.twitter.com/qMotcZhlXm

— Sadiq Khan (@SadiqKhan) January 13, 2018

What does that tell you?

These whores are openly allied with an invading force against you, WHITE MAN.

It is us against the entire world.

DS

Negro Felon League's Ratings for Playoff Games Down Big League!

Lee Rogers
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

THAT'S RIGHT COACH! WE'RE TALKING ABOUT PLAYOFFS! PLAYOFFS COACH! PLAYOFFS!

The Negro Felon League's regular season has come to an end with the playoffs in full swing!

Last weekend was the first week of the playoffs. Even though it looks like teams were able to put asses in seats, the ratings were down big league!

Sports Illustrated:

The NFL had a disastrous weekend when it came to ratings. Numbers have been down all season and it was more of the same for the wild-card games. The biggest surprise was that the best game (Panthers-Falcons) had the biggest decrease year over year. Yes, markets were a big factor, but that was a competitive and entertaining game. Here's the breakdown:

Titans-Chiefs (14.7) was down 11 percent versus last year's Raiders-Texans game.

Falcons-Rams (14.9) was down 10 percent versus last year's Lions-Seahawks game.

Bills-Jaguars (17.2) was down 10 percent versus last year's Dolphins-Steelers game.

Panthers-Saints (20.4) was down 21 percent versus last year's Giants-Packers game.

It is worth noting that it is far easier for the league to unload tickets of playoff games than regular season games. That's because of the increased media attention on a select number of games. The fact that the ratings are down to such an extent proves that the boycott of the league is still having quite a powerful impact, even during the playoffs.

We can probably expect a similar result for this weekend's playoff games as well.

For this coming weekend, there is some sort of "take a knee" protest organized ahead of Sunday's Vikings-Saints game outside the stadium.

CBS:

A "take a knee" rally protesting police violence is planned for Sunday at U.S. Bank Stadium ahead of the Vikings playoff game against the New Orleans Saints.

The group Take A Knee Nation Twin Cities says the demonstration will be in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. On Facebook, the group said that if he were alive today, the civil rights leader would be protesting police violence.

They've apparently been doing this for a little while. Here's a picture from one of their previous protests. It's a group that mostly seems to consist of angry Negroes and faggot boomer cuckolds.

NBC has also announced that they will show any Negroids who protest the national anthem on camera during the upcoming Super Bowl.

Washington Times:

National Football League players who choose to take a knee when the national anthem plays at Super Bowl LII next month can expect to be featured on camera according to NBC Sports, which is televising the game. The anthem protests are considered part of the action.

"The Super Bowl is a live event, just like 'Sunday Night Football.' It was a pretty big story in our country this fall. We'd show it. When you're covering a live event, you're covering what's happening. If there are players who chose to kneel, they will be shown live," executive producer Fred Gaudelli told the annual gathering of the Television Critics Association earlier this week.

This is all good news. The more media attention these whining Negroids and this retarded "take a knee" crap gets the better. It will just piss off more and more White Americans who will gradually stop watching this breads and circus crap.

Keep boycotting the NFL and encourage others to do the same! Bleed them dry!

DS

Faggot Lindsey Graham: "America is an Idea, Not a Race"

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Trump's comments on shit-hole countries were a siren call for cuckolds and kikes to crash against the rocks of AMERICANISM.

New York Times:

It was just after President Trump had finished railing in the Oval Office against African immigrants he said came from "shithole countries" when a senior Republican senator, Lindsey Graham of South Carolina, who was there to negotiate a deal on immigration, spoke up.

"America is an idea, not a race," Mr. Graham said, according to three people familiar with the exchange on Thursday. Diversity was a strength, he said, not a weakness. And by the way, the senator added, he himself was a descendant of immigrants who came to the United States from "shithole countries with no skills."

Eh, Northern Europe?

Which one of those countries is comparable to Haiti and Africa, Lindsey? Tell me that.

Mr. Trump's racially charged comments in front of more than half a dozen lawmakers, which also extended to immigrants from Haiti—followed by a day in which members of Congress denounced the president, defended him or stayed silent—now threaten what had been an emerging agreement to protect undocumented immigrants brought to the United States as children.

Several people with knowledge of the conversation said the president had also demanded to know whether Haitian immigrants could be left out of any deal. The White House has not disputed the account of the exchange.

The collapse of negotiations on an immigration deal would raise the risk of a government shutdown next week, given that many Democrats have said such an agreement must be included in any measure to continue funding the government past a Jan. 19 deadline.

To try to steer the political narrative, the president took to Twitter on Friday with a vague account of the meeting, saying his remarks at the meeting were "tough, but this was not the language used."

But Senator Richard J. Durbin, Democrat of Illinois, who also attended the meeting on immigration, told reporters on Friday that the president had used the expletive several times, and had said "things which were hate-filled, vile and racist."

The issue here is that Haiti is a race.

The African race. A while back they slaughtered everyone who was not of the African race.

Because it is the African race, it is a shithole.

“Haiti is a shithole” is not a controversial statement.

“Shithole country” is a descriptor indicates a country has poverty and poor quality of living, disease, crime, etc. It isn’t some baseless insult.

If Trump had said “Haiti is a poverty-stricken, disease-ridden, low-literacy, crime-riddled country,” he would be communicating the same information, just using more words.

But yes, Jews. Keep claiming that any empirical statement about nonwhites is “virulent hatred for the color of the skin.”

Because what you kikes don’t understand is that we WANT you to call everything racism, given that it blurs the lines between basic facts and common sense and actual white nationalism. That is extremely beneficial to us.

Keep saying that anyone who thinks Haiti is a shithole is a Neo-Nazi.

“America is an Idea”

There has never been a nation in history that was “an idea.” America certainly never was intended to be that.

Thomas Jefferson was an open white nationalist and our immigration policy throughout our history has reflected white nationalist goals.

And look— that Jewish “give me your poor” bullshit on the Statue of Liberty is a Jewish poem added to the base of the statue decades after it was built. The Statue of Liberty doesn’t represent mass immigration, it represents the ancient Roman goddess Libertas.

This idea of mass immigration is entirely new. What the Jews did was reframe the conquest and colonization of America as “immigration.” The reason America allowed all of these people in is that there was so much land to fill. Not because somehow “people from anywhere coming to your country makes it better” —that is just gibberish. And of course they could have had people from anywhere, but they only allowed people from Europe, in particular Northwestern Europe.

This is all so basic that it pains me to have to go through it like this.

And of course, at the same time that these kikes say “America is an idea, it is for everyone,” they say that America has always been an evil, racist country that was built on the back of slavery and oppression.

When they say “the American experiment,” they are talking about an actual untested experiment that they are using us all as lab rats for.

You cannot base a nation on an idea, because nations are not made up of ideas, they are made up of people.

The only places where “multiculturalism” has succeeded have been Singapore and Hong Kong and to some extent, Southern Russia/USSR—that is to say, only places where it was white people and yellow Asians. Any other time that multiple races are forced to live with one another, one ends up dominating or ethnically cleansing the other one.

What the experiment of America is is this: “what if we tell white people that everyone is an individual and so they can’t act as a group while flooding them with people who would never even be able to understand that idea, let alone take it seriously and act on it?”

The other races don’t even make a pretense of not acting as collective forces. They have all of these organizations specifically to lobby for rights and privileges, while we aren’t allowed to do it in our own country because “America is an experimental idea.”

DS

El Salvadorans Don’t Want to be Deported to Their Country Because It is a Shithole

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Just before the story of Trump calling Haiti, Africa and El Salvador “shithole countries” was the story of mean old Trump planning to send 260,000 El Salvadorans home to El Salvador.

At the time, Vox wrote:

After two decades in the US, hundreds of thousands of families will now have to decide whether to return to one of the most violent countries on earth—or remain in the US as unauthorized immigrants and try to slink into the shadows.

And Newsweek ran the headline:

The rest of the media all said the same thing: it would be horrible to send them back to that country because it is poverty-stricken and riddled with violence.

In other words, their argument was literally “you can’t send these people back to that shithole country.”

They were literally citing the dictionary definition of “shithole” as a reason why immigrants should not be sent to El Salvador.

Was it not racist for the entire media to say that El Salvador is an extremely poor and extremely violent country?

If the present working definition of “racism” is making observations relating to brown people, then surely it was.

The Third World nation is immunized against all dangers: one may call it impoverished, undeveloped, crime-ridden, dangerous, and it will milk this for aid donations. But call it a shithole and you will be astonished at how it reacts.

— Joyce (@TOQJoyce) January 12, 2018

But the entire premise of mass nonwhite immigration into white countries is that these countries are shitholes and it’s sad for people to have to live in shitholes. They tack-on the idea that millions upon millions of low-wage or unemployed people are somehow “good for the economy,” but no one actually believes that. The core argument is: “it’s sad because they’re poor.”

And if that is racism—and I think that it is—then mass immigration is racist af.

DS

Charlottesville: Innocent Victim of Hate Crime Deandre Harris Catches New Gun and Drug Charges

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

After the August 12th rally in Charlottesville, Deandre Harris and other black men wielding bats and clubs followed nationalists leaving the demonstration to a parking garage, where the whites sought to retrieve their vehicles.

When the black gang attacked, the nationalists fought back and kicked the shit out of them. The black criminals ran like Manute Bol clutching their oversized pants and crying for mommy. For the first time in their lives, these predators met white men that will punch back.

But in the city of Charlottesville, defending your life from a black person is a crime.

The individuals who defended themselves from Deandre Harris’ attack are now being cruelly punished after the kangaroo courts denied them bail. Harris himself was filmed initiating the violence, but it took a lawyer to file charges because the corrupt police and state refused to investigate.

The state of Cville predictably let Harris out on bond because they politically agree with his crimes. Now Harris has been pinched again for driving high while transporting a hidden AR-15 in his car.

CBS 19:

The victim of a brutal beating on Aug. 12, who is also facing a misdemeanor assault charge from that same day, now has two new charges stemming from a traffic stop in Southampton County.

According to Major G.H. Drewery with the Southampton Sheriff’s Office, Deandre Harris was pulled over for speeding at around 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Drewery said the officer detected the odor of what he believed to be marijuana and subsequently searched the vehicle Harris was driving. In addition to a small quantity of marijuana, the officer found a loaded AR-15 rifle under a coat on the back seat.

Harris is facing a misdemeanor concealed weapon charge and a second misdemeanor charge for transporting a loaded weapon. Drewery said he will not be charged for the marijuana.

Harris as you may recall got a big payday from white liberal rubes opening up their wallets on GoFundMe.

6,241 people gave him a total of $166,045.

I think that's great. Deandre is spending all that money on luxury cars, guns and drugs. Having this much political money wasted is less money white liberals and celebrities will give to white and Jew Antifas to put towards a political use.

Money well-spent!
Video Link

DS

New South Carolina Law Will Make It Illegal to Criticize Israel

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer

January 13, 2018

Nearly half of the states in the USA have laws banning the boycott, divest and Sanctions movement (BDS) or criticism of Israel.

These laws are as unconstitutional as Trump's executive orders on immigration are constitutional, but federal judges block the latter and ignore the former because they themselves are Jews, on the payroll of Jews and/or ideologically devoted to the Jewish system.

As for the definition of "anti-Semitism," this ebbs and flows depending on what kind of criminal activity Jews need to shield from scrutiny at a specific time and place.

Jews agree when leftist students try to shut down a Richard Spencer speech, but don't like it when students do the same to pro-Israel speakers. That is why South Carolina is passing a law that specifically protects Zionism but not free speech in general.

That is why private companies are not allowed to practice BDS or even do business with other enterprises that practice BDS, while nobody in our corrupt and illegitimate government speaks up for white advocates deplatformed by Jews on social media, paypal, credit card companies, and even Coinbase.

Jerusalem Post:

Gov. Henry McMaster called upon his state senate on Wednesday to pass a law that would make South Carolina the first US state to codify a universal definition of anti-semitism.

That definition would be taken from a US State Department decision in 2010 and an accompanying fact sheet that singles out demonizing, delegitimizing, and having a double-standard for Israel.

"Antisemitism is a certain perception of Jews, which may be expressed as hatred toward Jews," the definition says. "Rhetorical and physical manifestations of antisemitism are directed toward Jewish or non-Jewish individuals and/or their property, toward Jewish community institutions and religious facilities."

The fact sheet adds blaming Israel for all interreligious or political tensions, applying double standards by requiring of it a behavior not expected or demanded of any other democratic nation, and denying the Jewish people its right to self-determination, and Israel the right to exist. But it also says that "criticism of Israel similar to that leveled against any other country cannot be regarded as anti-semitic."

The bill passed in the South Carolina House of Representatives in March by a 103-3 vote, with 115 of the 124 state representatives co-sponsoring it, but since then it has been stalled. The governor urged the bill to be passed in the state senate in time for International Holocaust Remembrance Day on January 27.

"Antisemitism has no place in South Carolina, and the passage of this bill would go a long way toward ensuring that our state and its college campuses provide a welcoming environment for those from all walks of life," McMaster said. "I'm proud that South Carolina continues to lead the fight against antisemitic discrimination, and would ask that the Senate immediately bring this bill to the floor for a final vote, so that we may send the strongest possible message to the world.”

In other words, criticizing Israel will be considered a civil rights violation. That's patently absurd, but what are you going to do about it Goyim?

That's why we call it ZOG.

Whites don't have representatives. In fact, the very same forces that step on the Constitution to bribe and lobby our politicians into legislating something like this (like the Anti-Defamation League) are the same ones who are working to boycott, divest and sanction white people.

And why shouldn't they demand to have it both ways? If whites have no advocates, there's nobody to challenge their abuses. And that my friends is the real reason why the ADL and SPLC are working around the clock to strangle our movement in its crib.

DS

Missouri's Jewish Governor Investigated for Blackmailing His Mistress

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Generally speaking, when we're talking about political sex scandals, the powerful person is the one being blackmailed.

But this isn't some run of the mill crooked politician. Missouri's Eric Greitens is a Jew, which is the layman's way of saying paranoid schizophrenic criminal bully.

The FBI is investigating him for practicing sexual sado-masochism against a hair dresser, then taking photographs in order to blackmail her.

That's right, this time the politician is being accused of blackmailing the mistress.

AP:

Allegations that Missouri Gov. Eric Greitens threatened a woman with whom he had an affair raise the question of whether the Republican could potentially be in legal jeopardy.

It's unclear what, if any, evidence exists to back up claims that the young GOP governor sought to blackmail his former hairdresser by threatening to release a photo of her naked and tied up if she disclosed their relationship. Here's a look at possible legal implications:

Q: IS THERE AN INVESTIGATION?

A: Yes. The St. Louis circuit attorney's office said Thursday that it had launched a formal investigation to determine if Greitens committed crimes linked to the affair in 2015.

Circuit Attorney Kim Gardner initially said no complaint had been filed against Greitens and that her office had received no evidence. But later, she said an investigation was warranted.

Greitens and his wife released a statement Wednesday after St. Louis television station KMOV reported on the affair. He acknowledged being "unfaithful" in his marriage but denied blackmailing the woman to stay quiet.

Q: IS THE FBI INVESTIGATING?

A: An attorney for the woman's ex-husband says the attorney was interviewed by the FBI, but he did not say if the ex-husband had also heard from the agency. The FBI, as is its usual practice, declined to confirm whether it has opened an investigation.

The FBI does not need much—sometimes just media reports—to begin poking around, said Jeff Cramer, a former top federal prosecutor in Chicago. Once such an investigation has started, where it goes is often unpredictable.

"There is no elected official in the country who wants the FBI looking at their phone records and bank accounts," said Cramer, currently a managing director of investigations at Berkeley Research Group "They can be investigated at the beginning for one thing and end up being charged (later on) with another thing entirely."

Q. WHAT ABOUT BLACKMAIL?

A: The allegations, if true, would appear to fit the definition of blackmail, which involves threatening to reveal something to others that could potentially ruin the reputation of the person targeted or shatter the individual's relationships. This could include a secret or a compromising photo.

A conviction on a blackmail charge can carry years or even decades behind bars. However, blackmail can be difficult to prove, especially without third-party witnesses, Cramer said.

In Greitens' case, the woman's ex-husband alleges that Greitens photographed her and threatened to publicize the revealing image if she spoke about the affair.

"If there are no other witnesses," Cramer explained, "it becomes a 'he said, she said.'"

The word of an adulterous whore vs a Jewish politician: that's he lies/she lies!

What the investigation reveals will be interesting to watch.

It's astonishing that a Jew is even governor in a deeply religious, majority white state like Missouri. There may not have ever been a Jewish president (a position that is mostly powerless anyway), but Jews are the foxes "guarding" the Heartland just like Jew Jason Chaffetz "represented" Utah's Mormons in Washington until last June. They live!

DS

French Actor Makes Film Bashing Moslems, Jews Come After Him

Diversity Macht Frei

January 13, 2018

The French actor Gérard Boyadjian [of Armenian descent] made a short film called "Chameau Pas d'Amalgame" [Camel no generalisation]. It's basically just him driving around his car for 13 minutes, ranting against Muslims and political correctness. Watch it below if you can understand French.

In France the phrase "Pas d'Amalgame" [No generalisation] is trotted out every time a Muslim terror attack occurs, implying that the blame shouldn't be generalised to other Muslims. It's a bit like the "tiny minority of extremists" line in English.

After he produced this film attacking Muslims, the Jews came after him. One of their organisations, LICRA, filed charges against him. LICRA was founded in 1927 after the Jew Sholom Schwartzbard murdered a visiting Ukrainian politician in Paris. The Jew claimed it was justified because his victim was involved in pogroms. LICRA spread that claim through propaganda in the press. In the end, Schwartzbard was acquitted of the crime. There are streets named after him in Israel today.

Since then LICRA has been working to destroy the ethnic integrity of the French nation, lobbying, alongside its counterpart organisation CRIF, for laws that criminalise free speech, the same laws that are now being used against this actor. Of course he doesn't grasp that. He thinks the problem is Muslims and even reproaches them for their antisemitism. Now he's thinking about leaving France.

This is how we're being played.

DS

Corporate Jew Media Outraged at Gunmaker's Anti-Antifa Ad

Eric Striker

Daily Stormer

January 13, 2018

An ad featuring a working class oriented apparel firm and a gunmaker has sparked outrage in the corporate Jewish media.

What is so offensive to the elites is that they dared portray the J-left vigilantes of political correctness— "Antifa" —as they actually are.

Because the police, courts, plutocrats, celebrities and mainstream press either enable or support Antifa (depending on the state and city), it is now controversial in America to encourage normal citizens engaging in their First and Second Amendment rights to band together and defend themselves from far-left mob violence.

The Jew Kyle Arnold has written an Antifa-advocacy-masking-as-reporting piece for the Orlando Sentinel:

An Apopka gunmaker is fighting off criticism for a "Not Today Antifa" ad it posted online that some say threatens liberal protesters.

The ad posted Monday night on Facebook from Spike's Tactical shows four men with bullet-proof vests and holding semi-automatic rifles, staring down a group of black-masked men raising fists and crowbars while fires rage in the background.

It reads "Berkeley, Portland, Charlottesville, Boston," and "Not Today Antifa." Those cities were the sites of high-profile demonstrations from white supremacist groups. Antifa is short for anti-facist and is the term coined for a particularly vocal minority of counter-protesters.

In a statement Wednesday, Spike's said the ad is "pro-American" and doesn't promote violence against protesters. The ad was posted to promote a specially painted AR-15 rifle from the company and apparel maker Pipe Hitters Union.

The Facebook post has drawn hundreds of heated comments, some criticizing Spike's for promoting violence and others defending the gun-maker.

“Spikes you are making a HUGE mistake with this post,” one Facebook commenter said.

“So you think that the only people who buy guns are your alt right, neo nazi nut jobs?” another comment said.

...

A controversial ad of this nature isn't surprising, considering the political climate that has emerged since President Donald Trump was elected in November 2016, said Tracy Kizer, an associate professor of marketing at the Rollins College Crummer Graduate School of Business.

“If you think about their intended audience, it seems pretty clear what the intention is,” Kizer said.

Last year's Super Bowl featured several advertisements with political undercurrents taking aim at controversial issues, such as immigration, a border wall and gender equality.

“It seems that we are seeing more of these polarizing ads, and companies are using their political identities to communicate with customers,” Kizer said.

Several anti-gun violence groups said the ad was irresponsible.

Mr. Arnold is supposed to be a straight news reporter. The fact that I can clearly discern his political views in this article is a testament to why most people in America hate and distrust the mainstream media.

There is nothing controversial about encouraging people who support Donald Trump or hold political view Jews don't like (which is the sole metric Antifa uses when deciding who to attack) to be prepared to defend their rights.

Mark Bray's “Antifa Handbook” isn't dedicated to humanity, the oppressed or the working class. It's dedicated to the Jews, fitting for the army of political correctness.

pic.twitter.com/2ySbdj0VOz

— Striker The Iranian Feminist Protester (@Eric_StrikerDS) December 25, 2017

Either publicly affirm that the emperor is fully clothed, or let a group of drug addicts and trust fund fags kill/assault you for your crime-think.

The good news is that the people who released this image are doubling down. Another hyperventilating attack by Vice (which is staffed mostly by Antifas and Weinsteiny sex predators) can't believe that someone would tell them to piss off.

If this is the only social paradigm Jews feel safe in, then we need different countries.

DS

DramaQuest 2018: Mike Enoch Debates Antifa on Race Warski While Sargon Scrambles to Figure Out His Beliefs

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

Video Link

JF is now in studio with Andy Race Warski and their first show featured our good buddy Mike Enoch debating some random antifa blogger, a whiny cuck guy and a fat loser.

The show is worth watching if you have time, but not if you don't have that much time.

Mike was great as always but there was nothing at all interesting coming from the antifa guy. I had never really heard an antifa, and apparently this guy is a celebrity of some sort in their movement, so I was sort of excited to see what he had.

But it was just more jibba-jabba.

He just threw out a bunch of buzzwords. He did admit that the reason they commit violence against us is that they know our ideas will spread if we are allowed to share them—but then didn't really have anything deeper than that.

Honestly, Antifa gets talked about more than they should be talked about. They aren't really any kind of relevant political force. Everyone in the mainstream hates them almost as much as we hate them simply because they go to towns and create havoc on the streets, which is a behavior pattern that is seen as anti-social.

I have said before that we need to avoid engaging them, as when we do, the public doesn't look at “who started it,” but just sees two groups of people involved in street warfare and in response feels hatred.

Obviously I know that it's them that come after us, so we can't totally avoid conflict with them, but I also know we've got guys who like going out and fighting these faggots and though I understand that it is something we need to avoid.

Moving On.

In perhaps more interesting news, Sargon of Akkad did a stream trying to figure out what the fuck he believes in.

It did not go well.

Video Link

Basically, he has a few vague “principles” that on their face no one could really disagree with. And he doesn't elaborate on any details. He says that fleshing out the concepts at all would amount to “policy,” which he isn't interested in. You can just click to any spot on that stream and listen to him rambling, confusedly, with a bunch of gibbering sycophants chiming in with irrelevant nonsense.

The people in the chat with him are all dumb as fuck and have nothing at all interesting or even coherent to contribute. Imagine an Alt-Right stream being this boring and pointless. You can't imagine it, because even when we are not at the top of our game, we are at least saying something coherent and meaningful because we have actual ideas around which to form thoughts.

Apparently everyone is attacking him over this, and he says that no one is disagreeing with the principles—but that is sort of the point.

No one disagrees with the idea that people should have freedoms and rights. You're not going to really find anyone in the world who says that people shouldn't have some form of those two things.

The point is that you cannot build a political movement on simplistic generalizations that have no real world context.

The only smart guy on the show comes on late in the stream and says "we need to have some goal that we are striving for..."

And Sargon is like "yeah, we'll have to vote on that."

Wtf?

The one thing that is specific is the one thing that you could out and out dismiss as fucking stupid, and that is the idea that an individual is more important than a group.

Is a group not made up of individuals?

And how can a single individual be more important than a group of individuals? If you had to choose between saving one person and saving a group of people, which would you choose?

What he is trying to get at is that he is against identity politics, of course. And that is also stupid. Because you aren't going to convince blacks or Moslems or homosexuals or women to give up identity politics. So if you give them up yourself, all you are doing is bringing a dildo to a gun fight.

Obviously.

Obviously.

Obviously.

Is his actual argument that he is going to convince 80 IQ Moslems to surrender their ancient cultural identity because of the abstract notion of the primacy of the individual? While admitting that they have nothing to gain from it, and the sole purpose of the surrender would be so he can build a fantasy perfect society of allegedly self-actualized independent agents? I guarantee you that he couldn't convince .01% of Eastern Europeans to do that. How is he going to convince brown people?

This is a YouTuber who was edgy in 2014 and got popular for pointing out the stupidity of the stupidest people in the world, got a big head, and now thinks he's going to lead a "restore the 1990s" revolution movement.

I almost feel bad at this point. Breaking down this guy's arguments is like beating up a baby.

Sargon v. Enoch

The real moment of truth comes next week when Sargon faces off against Mike Enoch.

Sargon has already agreed and can't back out now.

This is the end of his movement.

Nipped in the bud before it ever grew tits.

DS

Anderson Cooper Gets All Choked-Up for Poor Aids-Infested Haitian Immigrants

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

Anderson got all choked up that his steady supply of AIDS-infected underaged nigger dick would be drying up soon. He went on air to cry some little bitch tears about Trump calling out Haiti for what it is—a shithole country full of shitholes.

Independent:

After an explosive report by The Washington Post claimed Donald Trump referred to African countries and Haiti as "sholes", CNN presenter Anderson Cooper decided to tackle the subject.

"I want to take a moment to talk about Haiti, one of the places the president of the United States called a 'shole country,'" he started the segment.

Cooper then spoke about his experiences with Haiti and the country's people, revealing his maths teacher was a Haitian immigrant who was later assassinated when running for president of Haiti.

The presenter also spoke about visiting the country multiple times throughout his career—reporting on the 2010 earthquake—also venturing there on holiday.

"Like all countries, Haiti is a collection of people," he said. "It's rich and poor, well-educated and not, good and bad. But I've never met a Haitian who isn't strong. You often have to be in a country where a government has abandoned its people, opportunities are few, and mother nature has punished the people far more than anyone should ever be published."

First of all, never forget that this guy is a literal CIAnigger who glows in the dark.

Here's the video:

Video Link

Second of all, Mother Nature never makes any mistakes.

I thought that lefties were all Gaia tree-huggers or something? In that case, is nature being a dumb bitch or is nature wise and powerful and never wrong mang?

Make up your minds, libshits.

I actually lean toward the whole "Nature is never wrong" side of the argument. I think the Alt-Right is all about realizing natural law.

Video Link

In the particular case of Haiti though, its obvious that not only Mother Nature hates them, but God and Jesus hates them as well.

These savages practice Voodoo and cannibalism. Jesus punishes them on the regular for that with constant hurricanes and floods. If they were smart, they would repent and apologize for their bullshit witch doctors and bizarre blood sacrifice black magic crap.

But no, they're too dumb and too black so they get everything that's coming to them.

In terms of Mother Nature, they fucked up there too when they chopped down all their trees and made their side of the island look like Mordor.

Haiti (left) Dominican Republic (right)

So Mother Nature has a bone to pick with them as well.

Trump was correct to condemn these savages.

I'd also like to point out that Haiti USED to be a decent colony before the blacks rose up in revolt and killed all the Whites. Any normal White person understands that the Haitians are getting what's coming to them.

In fact, every time a Haitian drowns, St. Breivik lets out a deep Nordic belly-laugh before going back to playing his PlayStation from his comfy Ikea-furnished jail cell in Norway.

That's because Norway has always been bro-tier and our friend. Trump just brought the normies up to speed on that.

We should be getting more immigrants from Norway. The first one on the boat ought to be Anders Breivik, who upon killing a hundred more leftists and mystery meats will be granted full American citizenship and immunity from persecution for life.

In summary: Fuck Haiti and Anderson Cooper, Norway uber-friends and god bless America.

DS

Jews Enlisting Civilians to Track Down and Deport Illegals – In Israel

Adrian Sol

Daily Stormer

January 12, 2017

Documentary reenactment of the Jewish deportation force.

Jews have all sorts of great ideas about how to efficiently get rid of brown people. It's clear that this is a subject dear to their hearts, on which no expense can be spared.

But don't forget, though.

This is only for the Jews.

If the goyim were to do the same things...Oh gawd.

The goyim must build bridges, not walls.

Never forget that.

Business Insider:

Israel will offer a cash reward to civilians who temporarily join a new government unit created to deport its asylum seekers.

The Population and Immigration Authority published a notice on Sunday that it will offer up to a 30,000 shekel bonus ($8,700) to citizens who become "inspectors" for the unit that manages asylum requests.

Probably paid for by American taxpayer money, I should add.

Incredible what you can accomplish when foreigners are paying all your expenses.

The ministry's job ad states it is looking for 100 inspectors of on a temporary two-year basis starting March 2018.

Of these, 70 immigration inspectors will be hired for a two-month period to "carry out enforcement tasks against illegal aliens and their employers," including the need to "locate, detain and monitor illegal persons."

They're getting civilians to track down and arrest illegals and their employers.

That's a stunningly good idea. We need to implement this ASAP. And I have a feeling there's a lot of people here who'd do this without any compensation, beyond the satisfaction of a day's hard work stomping on beaners and traitors.

Also, 40 people will be hired for a 12 month contract to "conduct comprehensive questioning and investigation of asylum seekers." Their duties will include receiving requests for political asylum and examining the "truthfulness" of the claims.

"Comprehensive questioning."

Last week, the Authority announced it would be evacuating its main Holot detention center in the south within coming months. Those in the center were given notice they must either leave the country or face indefinite incarceration, reported Haaretz.

The government will also offer cash incentives for asylum seekers who leave willfully through a repatriation program called "Assisted Voluntary Return." The program offers to assist asylum seekers—referred to as "infiltrators"—with purchasing a plane ticket, obtaining travel documents, protection from arrest and $3,500.

So, the way they're doing it is like this:

1. Get civilians to track down, arrest and interrogate invaders.

2. Tell them they either leave or go to prison "indefinitely."
3. Offer cash incentives to leave before then.

Can you imagine what would happen if America implemented a similar system? I can. It would go something like this:

1. All the brown people would leave.
2. Jews would whine about it loudly.

In other words, only good things would come about.

So, President Trump, it seems like the Jews have found your solution to the whole "shithole countries" problem, huh?

DS

Country of Pepe the Frog

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

Video Link

Pepe the Frog hates shithole countries. We know that.

But we are told to believe the Statue of Liberty likes shithole countries.

I don't buy it.

DS

Trump Says No to Immigration From "Shithole Countries" – Wants People from Norway Instead!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

It is certainly fair to ask why it is that you would want immigration from shithole countries. Presumably, this is a question a lot of people have.

Washington Post:

President Trump grew frustrated with lawmakers Thursday in the Oval Office when they discussed protecting immigrants from Haiti, El Salvador and African countries as part of a bipartisan immigration deal, according to several people briefed on the meeting.

"Why are we having all these people from shithole countries come here?" Trump said, according to these people, referring to countries mentioned by the lawmakers.

Trump then suggested that the United States should instead bring more people from countries such as Norway, whose prime minister he met with Wednesday. The president, according to a White House official, also suggested he would be open to more immigrants from Asian countries because he felt they help the United States economically.

In addition, the president singled out Haiti, telling lawmakers that immigrants from that country must be left out of any deal, these people said.

"Why do we need more Haitians?" Trump said, according to people familiar with the meeting. "Take them out."

Lawmakers were taken aback by the comments, according to people familiar with their reactions. Sens. Lindsey O. Graham (R-S.C.) and Richard J. Durbin (D-Ill.) had proposed cutting the visa lottery program by 50 percent and then prioritizing countries already in the system, a White House official said.

A White House spokesman defended Trump's position on immigration without directly addressing his remarks. White House officials did not dispute the account.

"Certain Washington politicians choose to fight for foreign countries, but President Trump will always fight for the American people," spokesman Raj Shah said in a statement issued after The Washington Post first reported Trump's remarks. "... Like other nations that have merit-based immigration, President Trump is fighting for permanent solutions that make our country stronger by welcoming those who can contribute to our society, grow our economy and assimilate into our great nation."

The fact that they issued a response without denying the comments themselves indicates these were the actual words that Trump used.

This is encouraging and refreshing, as it indicates Trump is more or less on the same page as us with regards to race and immigration. Yes, he said the thing about Asian countries, which shows that he is not actually a racist and is instead concerned about merit, but that is a huge leap from where the rest of the entirety of the political system in this country is at.

The problem with Asian immigration, aside from the fact that they are not us and thus create social problems (not on the scale of other nonwhites, because they don't commit the crimes and are not leeches, but it is certainly alienating to be surrounded by Asians), is that they actually take jobs and of course places in universities away from our people.

Of course, he may have just made the comment about Asians so as to not seem racist. I think it is clear that Trump's ideal America the one he grew up with in the 1950s. And the closer we get to that, the closer we are to our own goals of a white race-state.

The other thing about Asians is that if people who think like us take power, they aren't going to throw a fit about being forced to leave. We can give them a year to make arrangements, and they will just go, for the most part without even complaining. A certain small percentage of them may be allowed to stay, though of course not with citizenship or citizen's rights. Anyway, it's a non-issue right now.

The real issue is all of these shitty brown people who come to the country exclusively to parasite off of us.

DS

Florence Schechter and the Jewish Origins of the World's First Vagina Museum

Karl Radl
Semitic Controversies
January 12, 2017

Florence Schechter—typical filthy Jew.

Florence Schechter—a feminist jewess from the United Kingdom—has been making waves around the world with her idea for a "Vagina Museum". She is the daughter of Russian-born jewish klezmer musician Gregori Schechter.

Schechter described her motivation for this rather weird decision as follows:

I felt quite upset because I'm a big feminist and I believe in equality. I thought, "how can there be a penis museum and not a vagina museum?"

She also claims to want to promote "knowledge about" and "pride in" vaginas, but yet is also—inexplicably if she just wanted to promote feminism—is that her "Vagina museum" will also push "awareness of body shaming", "gay rights" and "trans acceptance".

She also wants to fight female genital mutilation (aka FGM) among the world's Muslim community and convince "religious girls" to be proud of losing their virginity and not to engage in anal sex.

Yet this is all a publicity stunt by Schechter.

The Great Wall of Vagina

We realize when we note that despite having decided to build her "Vagina Museum" in the left-wing homosexual-infested seaside city of Brighton in the United Kingdom. She has no money or backing let alone permission to create any such thing.

To quote the Independent's profile of her:

At the moment, the museum is in its very early days. All that Schechter has so far is some keen volunteers, social media pages and a Patreon fundraising page.

And the more detailed comment in the National Student's interview with her:

> Despite the fact Florence, with a helping hand from volunteers, is > being proactive and getting out there with the project, it's > "humbongously variable" as to when the Museum will be physically up and > running. "Best case scenario, minimum 5 years, worst case scenario, 25 > years, it's going to cost a lot and takes a long time to build a > museum from scratch, I've done research and the best way to be > successful and not fall on my face is to start small and keep doing > these little projects and talks and build it up."

Then in the same interview she lets the cat out of the bag in regard to what her motivation really is: money and promoting her company.

To wit:

Florence describes the process as a form of market research, taking the project nationally, meeting with people to find out what they want and need because without that, "how can I educate and empower if I don't know what they need?", says Florence.

It turns out that Schechter owns a company called "CollabLab", which makes "science films" and is the legal entity behind her eponymous YouTube channel. Her YouTube channel is tiny with a mere 3,585 subscribers at the time of writing [why not leave a comment there? —Ed]. Part of the reason for this is because Schechter doesn't really upload much new content and what there are largely short not particularly funny somewhat science-related skits.

Not exactly a recipe for a mass following.

Video Link

That being said; the fact that Schechter has been riding the "Vagina Museum" publicity wave as best she can but at the same time she wants charities like Refuge, companies like sanitary towel manufacturer Always and unspecified "high-profile women" to fund her museum.

While of course operating a for profit company in the form of "CollabLab" that is tangentially linked and stands to benefit substantially from the operation of such a museum.

Put another way Schechter is essentially trying to build her own company—and concomitantly her own fortune and profile (ironically alluded to by the Jewish Daily Forward's reference to her as a "communications professional")—by riding the fashionable feminist political wave and doing so in explicitly Jewish way. As illustrated by her giving a presentation of her Vagina Museum recently at the Limmud Festival of Jewish Learning in Birmingham, England.

DS

Cat Lady Tries to Fight Evil White Patriarchy, Gets Man-Handled by Officer Nog

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

Sometimes justice is oh so sweet.

As everyone knows, cat ladies are the leading cause of societal decline, right behind Jews. And the truth is that no one likes these harpies. They make everyone's life hell and they think that they're hot shit and that no one can touch them. Worse, they think that they can tame and control their feral diversity pets the same way that they've tamed their pet terriers by sending them off to the vet to get neutered.

But they're dead wrong.

And they all learned a valuable lesson the other day when Officer Nog decided to lay the law down on Deyshia Hargrave.

News.com.au:

The Louisiana teacher who was ejected from a school board meeting and handcuffed after speaking out about salaries—a video-recorded arrest that sparked outrage—has called her treatment appalling and encouraged others to speak out.

The fallout from Deyshia Hargrave's arrest Monday night was wideranging, with school district officials receiving death threats and the governor saying it "cast a negative light" on the state. Video of the arrest was shared widely online.

"By taking away my voice they've taken away—or tried to take away—my First Amendment rights to speak," Hargrave said in a video posted on the Louisiana Association of Educators' Facebook page.

...

The officer arrested Hargrave on charges of "remaining after being forbidden" and resisting an officer, but she bonded out of the Abbeville jail once her mug shot was taken. Ike Funderburk, the prosecutor and city lawyer in Abbeville, told KATC that she won't be prosecuted.

Puyau said that the school system would not press charges. He said he did not order Hargrave's removal or arrest, but repeatedly declined to say whether anyone else on the board was responsible for her treatment. While refusing to comment on details, Puyau made clear to that he was unhappy with how things played out.

See, nogs, spics and sand-niggers hate them as much as any high-T man. And it feels nice to see them get man-handled by the same savages that they go out of their way to open the nation's borders to, and who they fight for in their bullshit pussyhat marches and nonstop gaslighting of young White male students.

So the tl;dr for you: this one obese cat lady thought she could stand up to the patriarchy by throwing a little bitch fit about some superintendent getting a raise.

Video Link

Little did she know that this one patriarch was cleverer than her. He's been studying up on the oppression pyramid. And as we all know now, nogs are higher on it than White cat ladies.

The cat lady with a nigger name learned that the hard way.

Get rekt you fat bitch.

Video Link

DS

World

US Ambassador in Shithole Panama Resigns

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Panama: Not a shithole? ru sure?

I think this guy is just using this as an excuse to gtfo of this shithole.

What do you call this? Shithole roulette?

Does that make sense to you?

CNN:

The US ambassador to Panama has resigned over differences with the Trump administration.

A State Department spokesperson told CNN that Ambassador John Feeley “has informed the White House, the Department of State and the Government of Panama of his decision to retire for personal reasons, as of March 9 of this year.”

According to an excerpt of his resignation letter that was read to CNN, Feeley’s decision was clearly prompted by differences with the Trump administration but was made well before Thursday’s reporting about President Donald Trump’s “shithole” comments.

“As a junior foreign service officer, I signed an oath to serve faithfully the President and his administration in an apolitical fashion, even when I might not agree with certain policies. My instructors made clear that if I believed I could not do that, I would be honor bound to resign. That time has come,” Feeley wrote.

The letter goes on to say that he leaves the embassy “in good hands” and the US relationship with Panama is “strong.”

If these countries are not shitholes, then why does the statement sting so much?

What are we even talking about here?

The least shitholey thing about Panama is naked tattoo people living on a beach in a bamboo hut.

Those people have got the best genes too—the rest of these people are literally niggers.

What does that tell you about this country?

DS

Filthy Whore Who Went to Dubai to Fuck Monkeys to be Jailed for Seeing a Fight

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Basically, anyone who is stupid enough to go to Dubai for any reason at this point deserves to be thrown in jail.

I’ve actually been there, but it was just because I was flying through and decided there was no reason not to get out and see what was going on with the place. Not only will I not go back, but I won’t even go through the airport. Shady shit can happen in layover. One time in Abu Dhabi (basically the same thing as Dubai) I met a guy who was trapped in the airport. He’d been living in the terminal for 2 days after having been pulled off of a plane.

I was in these places like ten years ago. Going now is just nuts. People know what is going on there.

And this stupid whore went to live there because she wanted to fuck rich Arabs.

RT:

A British woman who witnessed a fight between her friends and a drunk Swedish man in Dubai is “increasingly anxious” charges against her will not be dropped. She is facing jail time.

Asa Hutchinson, 21, from Chelmsford, Essex, claims she was not even present when the fisticuffs broke out between her friends and the 50-year-old man, who was reportedly intoxicated. The group were leaving Dusty's bar and restaurant in the Dubai International Financial Center when they saw the man had passed out on one of the couches.

Hutchinson's pals started taking selfies of him, but as the man returned to his senses and found himself at the center of a photo-shoot, he started throwing punches at them.

Hutchinson, who works as a key account manager for global transportation company Time & Motion, claims she only arrived at the scene of the fight once she heard the commotion.

Radha Stirling, founder of campaign group Detained for Dubai, a non-profit organization which is supporting Hutchinson's case, told RT: "Asa and her family are becoming increasingly anxious that the charges against her have not been yet dropped.

"Asa was merely in the vicinity of an alleged incident and most certainly did not commit the alleged crime of 'assault.'"

Stirling added that it is common in the United Arab Emirates (UAE) for witnesses to be arrested and prosecuted "simply for being nearby."

"Asa's father, Ian, has appealed to the Swedish complainant in this matter to drop the charges against his daughter but his pleas have fallen on deaf ears," Stirling added.

Hutchinson has been charged with assault and theft after the man, a technology company executive, reported his reading glasses had gone missing.

The group managed to get their passports back by paying cash deposits, and returned to the UK before being arrested.

But, because Hutchinson lives in the UAE, the victim decided to press the charges against her.

Mad props to the Swede who won't let this dumb bitch get off so easily.

She went there for brown dick—let her spend a few years getting gang-raped by prison guards.

It's kinda like catching a kid smoking and then making him smoke the whole pack, you know?

She was a pretty girl too. Could have been someone's wife, or just a regular hooker.

Such a pity.

But these filthy skanks must learn, and they insist on learning the hard way.

DS

GM Unveils Driverless Car with No Steering Wheel

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

Video Link

So 4 million truck drivers are about to lose their jobs over the next five years.

And you know what that means.

That's right: we need to bring in billions of people from shitty countries to pay their pensions.

Fox News:

General Motors is looking to reinvent the wheel, by building a car without a steering wheel, pedals or gear selector, because it doesn't need them.

The automaker on Friday revealed images of an autonomous car it's hoping to put into production by 2019 and is petitioning the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration for permission to do so.

If approved, it will likely be the first production vehicle of its kind to hit the road, two years before a similar proposal from Ford.

Based on the Chevy Bolt, the electric Cruise AV will initially be employed in a ride-hailing capacity and operate within a pre-determined, well-mapped "geo-fenced" area, so it won't be entirely off the leash.

The arguments that these cars won't be safe are nonsensical. There is basically no possible way they could be less safe than human drivers.

I guess the idea would be that a robot accidentally killing someone would be different in some philosophical way than a human doing it. But that's dumb. When you're talking about accidental deaths you're talking about statistics and these cars would kill a whole lot less people than the current system of human-driven cars.

The only real argument against these machines is the damage the amount of jobs that will be lost. Which is why their implementation should be accompanied by mass deportations of invaders.

DS

Cuck Ghanaese Argues for Humanizing Faggots, Government Considers Legalization of Men Sucking Cock

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2017

I once said that Ghana was effectively a more civilized country than America as they do not tolerate man-on-man anal sex. Pretty much it's just an absolute thing that a country that does tolerate that is below one that does not.

But now Globo-Homo is attempting to weasel its way into Ghana.

GhanaWeb:

The chairman of the National Peace Council, Reverend Emmanuel Asante, has said it is wrong to hate members of the lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender (LGBT) family.

Lesbians can just be raped back to normal.

But the rest?

Nigga please. They should be thrown off roofs.

Rev. Asante stressed although their sexual preference is illegal per Ghana's constitution, it does not warrant the sort of barbaric treatment metered out to them.

A recent report by Human Rights Watch said the LGBTs are treated as second-class citizens due to what it termed "colonial-era laws that criminalizes same-sex activity." Human Rights Watch is therefore questioning the retention of section 104 of the Criminal Offences Act since that is thwarting efforts to protect the rights of members of the LGBTI community.

Speaking on Morning Starr on Thursday, January 11, 2018, Rev. Asante condemned discrimination and abuse of LGBTs.

"Love homosexuals but hate homosexuality," the Peace Council chairman told host Francis Abban.

The man of God believes we cannot hate LGBTs and at the same time seek to change them.

"I believe they can be helped psychologically. We shouldn't look at them as enemies or beasts. They have rights and are human beings. It's illegal and we can't condone it but we can help them," Rev. Asante preached.

However, he warned the government to be mindful of attempts by LGBTs to influence donors to put pressure on it to relax rules against them.

"I'll urge the government not to give in to international pressure of things that will bring in things of this nature. The religious bodies should strengthen their evangelism," Rev. Asante added.

Basically he is lobbying for the government to treat them differently, i.e. change the laws, then says he doesn't want the laws changed.

Christianity is basically the homophobia police these days. These Christian groups are training people to go around the world and promote man-on-man anal sex.

DS

Russia Condemns American Occupation of Syria, Training of ISIS Terrorists

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer

January 12, 2018

What exactly is the excuse for American troops remaining in Syria, now that ISIS is defeated?

Russia says they're training terrorists.

What else could they possibly be doing there?

RT:

All limitations on the access of humanitarian convoys to the Rukban refugee camp in the Al-Tanf area of Syria—which is de-facto occupied by US forces—must be lifted, Russia's Foreign Ministry has said.

Moscow has firmly emphasized "the need to respect the sovereignty, territorial integrity and independence of Syria in the implementation of humanitarian deliveries and the observance of international humanitarian law."

Rukban camp is located in the 55-kilometer area around Al-Tanf that is "de-facto occupied by the US armed forces," with access to the district denied to the country's lawful authorities, the Russian Foreign Ministry said in a statement.

"The training of militants from illegal Syrian armed groups continues at the US strongholds in the area," it added.

The Russian Defense Ministry earlier accused the US of using Al-Tanf to train militants, including those from the Islamic State (IS, formerly ISIS/ISIL) terrorist group, saying that a number of attacks on government troops originated from the area. The Americans also attacked Syrian forces and their allies outside the occupied area, claiming they posed a threat to the US contingent.

Meanwhile an estimated 60,000 Syrian refugees currently remain in poor condition at the Rukban camp, lacking food and medical supplies. While Moscow welcomed a one-off humanitarian aid delivery to the camp, which came through Jordan on Monday, the ministry noted that the volume and contents of the cargo delivered remains unknown. Meanwhile the “border” unilaterally declared by the US remains “hermetically closed for UN humanitarian convoys that try to get into Rukban from the Syrian territory,” the statement read.

“We demand the lifting of all restrictions on the access of convoys with food and medicines, increasing the transparency of humanitarian actions,” the ministry said. It also pointed out the US military “bears full responsibility” for the situation in the Al-Tanf area under its control.

Of course, the official American explanation for these troops is that they are “fighting terrorists.”

But who believes that?

I’m unclear as to what the plan is with this. Surely, they are not planning to start the war back up again?

DS

Russia Says It Knows Who Attacked Its Syrian Base and It Wasn’t Turkey

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

Recently a Russian airbase in Syria was attacked with drones, and Russia stated plainly that the “terrorists” who did it were aided by a technologically advanced state. I’m personally not sure that any actual ISIS-type terrorists would have been involved in the attack—it seems to me that a “technologically advanced state” could have just done it on their own.

If it wasn’t Turkey, that leaves Israel and Saudi Arabia—which are effectively the same entity.

RT:

Recent attacks on Russia’s Khmeimim Airbase in Syria were a provocation aimed at undermining the country’s relations with its partners Turkey and Iran and the peaceful settlement of the Syrian crisis, Vladimir Putin said.

“Those were provocations aimed at disrupting the earlier agreements, in the first place. Secondly, it was about our relations with our partners—Turkey and Iran. It was also an attempt to destroy those relations,” the Russian President said during a meeting with the editors-in-chief of Russian papers and news agencies in Moscow. “We have a perfect understanding of that and will act in solidarity.”

“There were provocateurs there, but they were not Turks,” Putin said, refuting earlier reports saying the attacks on the Russian airbase were carried out by Turkoman units backed by Ankara. “We know who they are. We know whom and how much they paid for these provocations,” Putin said, without naming the organizers of the attacks.

Russian military sites in Syria were targeted in two major attacks in the past two weeks, one on New Year’s Eve and another on January 6. The first assault, reportedly carried out by an infiltration squad armed with mortars, resulted in two Russian servicemen being killed and damage to warplanes at Khmeimim Airbase. The second involved 13 drones armed with bomblets, which were all either shot down or forced to land via means of electronic warfare by Russian forces.

According to the head of state, the attacks on Khmeimim Airbase were “well-prepared.”

“We know when and where those unmanned aerial vehicles were handed over and how many there were,” he said.

“Those aircraft were only camouflaged—I want to emphasize this—to look like handicraft production. In fact, it is quite obvious that there were elements of high-tech nature there,” Putin said.

It also could have been the United States, I guess. But if that was the case, Russia would have just said it, I think.

They wouldn’t have had to have said “the US did it,” but they could have said “the weapons were from America.” They’ve already repeatedly talked about America giving weapons to terrorists.

Israel and Saudi however are a different deal. If they came out and blamed either of those parties, it would cause a major escalation of the current conflict in the region. And Russians play it cool.

DS

Trump Cancels Visit to Shithole Islamic Country

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

Trump has canceled his plans for a visit to one of the shittiest Islamic shitholes in the entire haji world.

BBC:

Donald Trump has cancelled a visit to the UK planned for February, an official source has told the BBC.

The US president had been expected to open the new US embassy in London, but the ceremony may instead be hosted by US Secretary of State Rex Tillerson.

Mr Trump accepted the Queen's invitation for a UK state visit when Theresa May met him last year, although no firm date for that has been agreed.

Downing Street has declined to comment on the February trip cancellation.

The BBC understands that No 10 is considering options for a state visit later in the year, with plans for Mr Trump to have lunch with the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

Why should he go meet with these animals?

We've got the sickening Paki Mayor of London insulting him on the internets, the fat slags whining about their poor little offended monkey sex pets, the dumb bitch in charge of the place making passive aggressive, weird statements.

What does this country even have to offer?

DS

2013 Found Footage: French Cops Light Irate Negro ON FIRE!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

Man simultaneously tasered & tear gassed by French cops turns into fireball (DISTURBING VIDEO)

DISTURBING VIDEO: Man bursts into flames after French cops simultaneously tasered & tear gassed the suspect <https://on.rt.com/8wmv>

Posted by RT on Mittwoch, 10. Januar 2018

I haven't seen a nigger get lit up like that since South Africa!

RT:

Bodycam footage of an altercation between an already injured man and French police captures the moment the suspect burst into flames after being simultaneously tear gassed and tasered. The video has been making rounds online.

The shocking video was captured by the bodycam of one of the officers involved in the incident, which dates back to July 2013, but has surfaced on social media only this week.

The video shows a shirtless and visibly agitated man with one of his arms covered in blood moving towards officers while insisting he had done nothing wrong. Although the man does not appear to be overtly aggressive, he repeatedly taunts the officers and refuses to obey when told to stop and put the hands behind his back.

"Did I attack you!? Get your hands off me! Don't touch me! No, no, don't touch me. Motherfer, are you gonna arrest me!?" the man is heard saying.

Police initially try to calm the man down, with one of the officers saying: "You don't need to be scared...Call an ambulance, he cannot stay like that."

However, as the man begins hurling insults at the officers, goading them to use a taser, their patience apparently wears thin. "We're gonna bring him in for contempt of cop!" says an officer, as the situation escalates quickly.

Shortly afterwards, one of the officers strikes the man's legs several times with a baton, while two others fire tear gas and a stun gun at the same time. The combination causes the man to burst into flames.

The officers then pin the man to the ground in an attempt to put out the fire. The audio record indicates the incident was a freak accident, not a deliberate action by police, as one of the officers can be heard shouting: "Who gassed him?!" before asking the suspect whether he is alright. The suspect replies: "I'm gonna die."

It is unclear what preceded the standoff and no information on the suspect has been made available. An internal investigation was conducted but did not result in any charges being filed or punishments for the officers involved, French media reports.

While the video of the incident suggests the man was in a lot of pain during the confrontation, police spokesman told LCI news he did not sustain any serious injuries.

If the nog didn't want to get lit up, he shouldn't have been acting like such a dumb nigger.

Why do these people always have to do this macho thing with police? They all do this, and then they whine about getting shot or, in this case, lit-up.

And they are going to whine.

They are already on a rampage in France over this H&M t-shirt, and after this they will probably riot.

Yes, it's five years old, but blacks cannot process time.

I support black riots. They are universally positive, in that they demonstrate the nature of black people. They can say all of this stuff about how they commit crimes and are poor because white people were mean to them, but an actual riot is something that no white person can really grasp when they see it on TV, because a white person has no real reference point for it. Yes, whites have rioted before, but it is always directed. The mindless tantrum-type riot is uniquely a brown person activity, and it is disgusting to whites.

DS

"Long Live the Black Race!": H&M Protests in Belgium

Diversity Macht Frei

January 11, 2018

Video Link

The first few minutes of this video shows a mass negro protest in front of an H&M shop in Belgium.

They chant:

"Black and Proud! Shame on H&M!"

and

"Long Live the Black Race!"

All the good stuff is in the first 3 minutes of this video. After that, it's just the manager trying to talk sense into them—obviously not an easy task, given the raw material she has to work with.

Credit to Fuhrerious for this meme

DS

Italy: Journalist Attacked by African Drug Dealers

Diversity Macht Frei

January 11, 2018

Video Link

In this video, you can see how Africanised many of Italy's great cities have become. This isn't some migrant-colonised ghetto or suburb. This is the central square just outside Milan Central Station. There are carabinieri but they just leave the drug dealers unmolested. Only when the violence kicks off do the police intervene, and probably only because a TV crew was present.

The journalist's name is Vittorio Brumotti. One of his specialties is going into immigrant-colonised areas and stirring up aggro. He's been beaten up and injured quite a few times.

DS

Dubai: British Man Jailed for Complaining About Getting Ripped-Off on Used Car in WhatsApp Message

Andrew Anglin

Daily Stormer

January 11, 2018

You will be subjected to different laws if you are white in a Moslem country. This is a fact.

You have to be very careful in these places, especially in countries that hate white people strongly. I would recommend staying out of the Arab world completely. Morocco is safe enough, given that they have a massive tourism industry, but you can still get into a weird situation. But if you just want to see how these monkeys live—and I understand that drive, I've been to all of these countries myself—Morocco is safest.

Dubai and Abu Dhabi advertise themselves as places for tourists, but they are actually significantly less safe for whites than poor Arab countries.

RT:

A British real estate agent has been jailed for sending a WhatsApp message to a dodgy car salesman after he was swindled out of £6000. He asked the car dealer "how do you sleep at night?"

Kingston man Yaseen Killick, 29, spent £6000 on a second-hand Volkswagen Golf—only for the vehicle to break down hours later. Killick then discovered the car had previously been written off, so he sent the dodgy dealer an angry message on WhatsApp.

“How do you sleep at night knowing you’re ripping people off?” Killick wrote in the message. Killick also threatened to take the car salesman to court over the dodgy deal and said that selling the car to him was “morally wrong.”

Yeah see, there’s your problem. These people believe it is MORAL to rip you off. It isn’t even neutral. Their belief system actually safe that rape, violence and robbery against members of an outgroup is RIGHTEOUS.

But that certainly wasn’t the end of it. The car dealer complained to police over the threatening message, which resulted in Killick’s arrest at Dubai airport where he and his wife were trying to board a flight back to the UK to spend Christmas with relatives.

He spent three weeks in prison over Christmas, was fined £1000 and given “beans, pumpkins and lentils” on Christmas Day. To make matters worse, when he was released from prison he was booted out of the country.

Why would that make matters worse?

He also slammed the British Embassy, calling the diplomatic service “useless.”

It would have been racist for them to help you, m8.

Abusing whites is part of the vibrant cultural heritage of the haji people.

Killick’s partner Robyn, 31, said the ordeal had been a nightmare: “We have lost our home and our jobs and it’s been horrible all over this guy ripping us off and we are so badly out of pocket,” she said.

“We went there to try as a last adventure before coming back to England and getting married and starting a family.”

Killick told the Sun that “It was a nightmare. The prison conditions were horrific. I was treated appallingly—all for sending a WhatsApp message.”

LOL.

That’s pretty funny tho.

But people are raised to believe that Arabs are human beings with morals, and this is what you’re going to get as a result.

DS

German Teenagers Joining Military in Record Numbers

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2017

Patriotic Germans.

Actually, patriotism is illegal in Germany.

I don’t know what this is.

RT:

Germany now has a record number of children registering to join its army following an intensive social media campaign. More than 2,000 soldiers under the age of 18 served in 2017, according to new figures.

The news has led to renewed calls for the practice to be abolished. Speaking to RT Martin Dolzer, a Left Party lawmaker from Hamburg, said: “The people, who are underage, they should not be urged to get into the army. This contradicts the United Nations regulation and it’s not a good development.”

The stats show the number of teenagers under the age of 18 that joined the army ranks for a six-month trial period last year exceeded 2,000 for the first time. A total of 2,128 minors served in the Bundeswehr in 2017, including 448 girls. Germany’s one of the few countries where people under 18 can register their interest in signing up.

That isn’t actually very many people, but it’s still surprising. It almost seems made-up.

Unless these kids are joining because they’re poor, what is the drive here? There is no idealism in Germany.

I don’t understand who a German military would be fighting.

Russia?

All Russia would have to do to defeat Germany is distribute a bunch of propaganda in Arabic convincing the “New Germans” to rise-up. This could literally be done over the internet. Yeah, they have brutal censorship, but you could do it through chain text messages. If I had a team of 50 people with 130 IQs and an Arabic, Turkish and Pastun translator in a command center in Siberia, I could cause a civil war in Germany within 10 days. They literally have no plan at all for that eventuality.

A valid target for the German military would be the Islamic population of the country, but I guarantee they are not making plans for that. The country is run by women, who presumably have a drive to see the country converted to Islam.

DS

South Korea Credits Trump for Arranging Conditions for Talks with North

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

So the Jews can rattle on about thinly-veiled references to cock sizes in Tweets, but the fact of the matter is, talks are now happening.

That is a thing.

And Trump is being given the credit by the Koreans themselves.

Fox News:

President Trump deserves “big credit” for kicking off the first talks between Pyongyang and Seoul in more than two years, South Korean President Moon Jae-in said Wednesday.

North Korea agreed Tuesday to send a delegation to next month's Winter Olympics, which are set to begin next month in Pyeongchang, South Korea. The rival nations' talks are the first sign of a possible thaw in their relationship.

The talks were held for the first time since 2015 and Moon credited Trump for sparking them, according to Reuters.

“I think President Trump deserves big credit for bringing about the inter-Korean talks,” Moon said at a news conference. “It could be a resulting work of the U.S.-led sanctions and pressure.”

Trump and North Korean Dictator Kim Jong Un have gone tit-for-tat with threats and insults over the last year as the rogue regime bolstered its nuclear strength.

The U.S. had expressed concerns that North Korea's willingness to talk with Seoul could drive a wedge in their relationship, but Moon downplayed that notion saying the main goal was still a denuclearized peninsula.

Yes, Trump's foreign policy statements are very often shitty.

Okay.

But he's so far ended the Syrian war and defeated ISIS, and it looks like he's going to fix this retarded Korean situation.

South Korea has suggested that North and South march together in the Winter Olympics, which is something completely unheard of. This is how good it's going.

Of course the faggot Lindsey Graham is trying to sabotage this by claiming that North Korea doesn't have a right to exist because of his morality.

Allowing Kim Jong Un's North Korea to participate in #WinterOlympics would give legitimacy to the most illegitimate regime on the planet.

I'm confident South Korea will reject this absurd overture and fully believe that if North Korea goes to the Winter Olympics, we do not.

— Lindsey Graham (@LindseyGrahamSC) January 1, 2018

Lindsey Graham should shut the fuck up and use his mouth for it's main purpose: sucking cock.

DS

British Grammar School for Girls Bans Use of Word “Girl” to Avoid Offending Lesbians

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

Every day we stray further from God. The Britbongs in particular seem to be hellbent on offending our heavenly father with their cuckery and blasphemy.

Daily Mail

Altrincham Grammar School for Girls in Manchester fears that using the “g-word” could result in pupils who are changing sex being “misgendered”.

In a letter to parents, principal Stephanie Gill said the rethink came in response to “the challenges facing our students who are questioning their gender identity or who do not identify as girls”.

Despite the fact the school does not admit boys, she added that parents “may have noticed that we have moved to using gender neutral language in all our communications with students and parents”.

She added: “We are working to break ingrained habits in the way we speak to and about students, particularly referring to them collectively as ‘girls’.”

The letter goes on to say that “for many transgender students being misgendered can be very hurtful” and undermines efforts to demonstrate that “everyone is welcome” at the school.

If Christ ever comes back to this world, he's going to punish a lot of people for their faggotry. I mean this is some next level shit.

How do they square this logic?

If it's a girls' grammar school, and admission is limited to girls, how then can they suddenly find non-girls in the student body?

I mean this is some medieval-tier science/logic reasoning here. See, when I was in school, I learned about how Louis Pasteur disproved the theory of Spontaneous Generation.

Spontaneous generation was a widely held belief throughout the middle ages and into the latter half of the 19th century. In fact, some people still believe in it today.

...

Many recipes and experiments were offered in proof. To create mice, a recipe called for dirty underwear and wheat grain to be mixed in a bucket and left open outside. In 21 days or less, you would have mice. The real cause may seem obvious from a modern perspective, but to the proponents of this idea, the mice spontaneously arose from the wheat kernels.

So this guy, Louis comes along and he does some experiments where he puts rotten meat and rotten food in hermetically sealed containers and lo-and-behold, he discovers that mice and maggots and flies don't just magically appear out of nowhere.

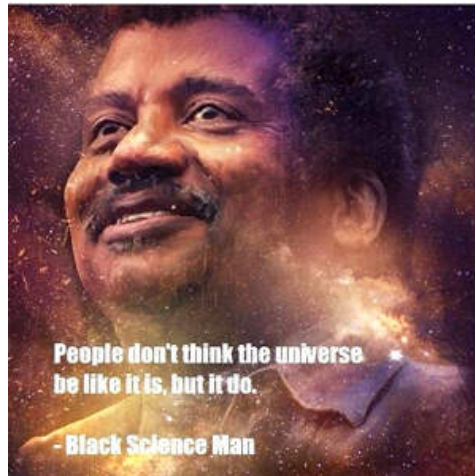

Have some science you dumb liberals.

You'd think the same thing would happen with this school, right?

I mean, if you create a hermetically sealed school where there are only girls allowed, how can you suddenly start worrying about offending non-girls in the student body?

I mean where would they even come from? Don't they have to get through admissions?

It doesn't make sense. It ain't scientific, bro.

Even Black Science Man seems confused by the logic.

But wait—oh yes—silly me, I forgot. These idiots believe that gender is not a biological construct. You can just wake up one day, tuck your penis into your asshole and pretend you're a woman or something.

Look, maybe this is all about not offending some of the fat lesbians at the school or something. But I suspect that this is all about conditioning the students. You get them to accept that two plus two equals "there are sixty-two genders, BIGOT" and then you can get them to start accepting other crazy leaps in logic with other shit.

Like getting them to believe that niggers are humans. Or that Jews DON'T belong in ovens. And because most chicks are literally dumber than dogs and only rely on GroupThink to make up their opinions, they're easy targets for this garbage.

Video Link

The only silver lining in this is that the dumber they make these chicks, the greater the public outcry for White Sharia will be in the near future.

Blacks in France Losing Their Shit Over H&M Monkey Shirt

Andrew Anglin

Daily Stormer

January 9, 2018

Video Link

Wow, black people speak French like they speak English—like monkeys in the jungle!

Who would have guessed that?

Diversity Macht Frei:

The H&M thing seems to have really taken off in France. Negroes are starting to cause aggro in H&M shops. Here we see the Ligue de Défense Noire Africaine (LDNA) "Black African Defence League" harassing staff, demanding that the shirt be removed from sale and threatening to come back if it isn't.

They talk in French but their body language and tone will give you the gist of it. The negroes address some sales floor guy as if he is the one making the decisions. He tries to be reasonable and asks if they want to have a discussion with his manager but they just keep haranguing him.

For those of you looking to improve your French, you'll hear a phrase constantly repeated: "le singe le plus cool de la jungle" [the coolest monkey in the jungle]. But, as we see, the shirts in the shop have it in English.

Here's the thing about this: when the media comes out with this fake outrage shit, all white people understand it as "oh well, they should have thought about that." No one thinks that it is actual racial hatred. And most people probably don't even think it is insensitive, they just like being outraged.

But if the media comes out like "H&M IS RACIST," black people picture that the all-white board of the company is in a meeting like "how can we hurt the feelings of these stupid niggers? because it's going to be a while before we can start killing them, the best thing we can do is hurt their feelings. how about putting a little black boy in a monkey shirt?"

DS

The blacks literally believe that white people are all meeting in rooms plotting against them.

And the Jews know that they're giving them this impression, even while the white liberals who support this outrage stuff just assume that the blacks are looking at it on the same level that they are, like "oh well, they should have been paying more attention." And the Jews know that white liberals think that's what blacks are thinking—because if white liberals knew that the Jews were purposefully agitating these blacks, whipping them into a frenzy over an oversight by an advertising company, they would probably not support that. Because it is callous emotional manipulation of a primitive race explicitly for the purpose of injecting chaos and hatred into society, and that's something that I don't think anyone considers to be defensible.

And it isn't just street niggas in France that are flipping out about this.

Lebron James is mad.

@hm u got us all wrong! And we ain't going for it! Straight up! Enough about y'all and more of what I see when I look at this photo. I see a Young King!! The ruler of the world, an untouchable Force that can never be denied! We as African Americans will always have to break barriers, prove people wrong and work even harder to prove we belong but guess what, that's what we love because the benefits at the end of the road are so beautiful!! #Live-LoughLove| #LoveMyPeople||

A post shared by LeBron James (@kingjames) on Jan 8, 2018 at 3:58pm PST

As is Puff Daddy.

Put some respect on it!! When you look at us make sure you see royalty and super natural God sent glory!! Anything else is disrespectful. pic.twitter.com/QVaxgngwh1

— Diddy (@Diddy) January 8, 2018

These are extremely wealthy blacks who believe in a large scale white conspiracy against them, which exists for the purpose of hurting their feelings.

Obviously they also both believe in Black Panther-type "Kangz Theory" as well. Because you can literally get these people to believe anything. They have the minds of little children. The Jews know that, and they have no issue exploiting that on purpose.

DS

AfD Refuses to Back Down From Double Scandals (One Black, One Jew)

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

Germany's semi-nationalist AfD is a pussy Alt-Lite party, but they seem to actually be getting better with Madam Petry gone. Remember, the reason she was forced to resign is that she allegedly had a plan to appeal to more moderate voters.

They're not going in that direction.

Politico:

Regional party leader Björn Höcke will be allowed to remain in the far-right Alternative for Germany (AfD) despite controversial statements about the Nazi era, media reported Monday.

Höcke, who leads the AfD's regional branch in the state of Thuringia, was widely criticized last year for calling Berlin's Holocaust memorial a "monument of shame," and saying the country should do a "180-degree turn" on how it reflects on its history.

A regional party arbitration panel did not find Höcke's actions to be damaging to the AfD and verbally agreed to reject a bid to have him removed, Spiegel reported, citing AfD sources. A formal written decision has not been issued, and is not expected until February.

Damn straight it's not damaging. It's invigorating. Telling Germans to stop feeling guilty over the Holocaust is the next best thing you can do next to telling them it was a stupid hoax invented by Jews to destroy the country—and you get arrested for doing that.

Moreover, the AfD has not fired the guy who called Boris Becker's half-nigger son a half-nigger.

Note: He said "hab-neger," which was translated as "half-nigger" by some papers but is being translated in others as "half-negro"—there are language issues here, as in most languages, "negro" is not an offensive term for black people as it sort of maybe is in English (no one really knows). I think he maybe effectively called him "half-black" or "half-African." Still pretty hardcore though. Imagine if Steve King called Tiger Woods "a little half-black."

AFP:

The far-right Alternative for Germany (AfD) party on Monday formally cautioned one of its lawmakers over a tweet calling former tennis star Boris Becker's son a "little half-negro".

A tweet from the account of Jens Maier, a former judge, had attacked

Noah Becker for reportedly complaining about being seen as the “eternal son” of his famous father.

“It seems the little half-negro simply got too little attention,” read the tweet posted from the account of Maier, one of more than 90 AfD members elected to parliament last September.

Maier claims he did not write the tweet, which has since been deleted, saying one of his staff had posted it.

In a statement issued on Monday, Maier apologised to Becker for the “lapse” by his employee, who he said no longer worked for him.

“This tweet not only contradicts my style but also does not reflect my ideas. I will ensure that this does not happen again,” he said.

That’s kinda lame, but at least they didn’t throw him under the bus.

Anyway, the Jew issue is much more important in the macro picture here.

Beatrix von Storch, an MP who called Moslems “gang-rapists” on New Year’s, is also not being punished by the party, but that is a little bit different because she’s the party’s deputy leader. Her Twitter account has been reinstated by the way.

In Other German Twitter News

The guy who pushed for the implementation of Twitter censorship (goy frontman for Jews like Anetta Kahane), Heiko Maas, has had one of his tweets deleted. This comes after a satire outlet has its account shut down.

Germany is now saying that one week in, they are going to have to reevaluate the law.

AFP:

Germany signalled Monday it was open to amending a controversial law combatting online hate speech as the justice minister fell victim to the rules he himself championed.

The move came after Twitter deleted a post by Heiko Maas dating back to 2010 before he was appointed justice minister, in which he called a fellow politician “an idiot.”

The post was deleted after Twitter received several complaints, fueling a simmering row over the new regulation which critics say stifle freedom of speech.

...

Germany adopted the law, one of the toughest in the world, after a surge in racist and incendiary speech online, particularly after the arrival of more than one million asylum-seekers since 2015.

Yes.

The country was shocked to find out that an increase in nonwhites increases white racism. The Jews said the opposite thing was supposed to happen.

The legislation, which came into force on Jan. 1, requires social media giants to remove hate speech and other illegal content, or risk fines of up to €50 million ($57 million).

Companies such as Twitter and Facebook have 24 hours to remove posts that openly violate German law after they are flagged by users.

But critics said the law pushes social media companies into taking a pro-active stance in deleting potentially offensive posts, effectively handing them the power of censorship.

Clearly, when you’re hanging a $57 million fine over their heads, they’re going to err on the side of caution. Which means that anyone can mass-report anything and get it deleted.

I wish I could operate in the German language, because I could cause maximum chaos with such a law as this.

Surely, someone from Germany has to be on it...?

All you need is a squad in a chatroom like Discord (or IRC). You just make lists of tweets to report and then you all report them at once. Doing Heiko’s “idiot” post was good—keep going along those lines. But don’t just target the people responsible for the law—yes, I get that this proves a point, but the goal should be chaos. Target any famous people. Celebrities or businesses. Just anything high profile at all. Get as much banned as possible.

A good angle would be to target any minor criticism of mass immigration by cuckservative types.

Just flooding the bitch generally is a good idea. Force Twitter to hire more people by mass-reporting all kinds of things. Each one of these has to be reviewed by someone who understands German, and that is expensive.

Make the program nonviable, to the point where Twitter itself decides to pull-out of Germany. If Merkel starts banning social media like China, that is bound to wake a few people up.

DS

Viktor Orban Condemns “Migrants” as “Islamic Invaders”

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

This week in the saga of the Prime Minister who notices things that should be obvious to anyone...

RT:

Refugees in Europe are just “Muslim invaders” and economic migrants seeking better lives, Hungarian PM Viktor Orban has said, adding that the large number of Muslims in the EU had led to the appearance of “parallel societies.”

Asked in an interview with the German Bild newspaper why Budapest does not want to accept any refugees, Orban replied: “We don’t consider these people to be Muslim refugees.” Instead, the tough-talking politician said they were regarded as “Muslim invaders.”

Asylum seekers must cross four countries to reach Hungary from Syria, all of which are not as rich as Germany but are economically stable, the PM said. He was apparently referring to Turkey, Greece, Macedonia and Serbia—a common route for migrants heading for “wealthy” Europe.

“So, they are not running for their lives [in these countries]. They are merely economic migrants seeking a better life,” Orban concluded. He stressed though, that he can only speak for the Hungarians and they “don’t want” immigration. In his view, the government simply can’t go against the will of the people.

Going further, the prime minister noted that no refugee wants to go to Portugal, for example, adding that the majority of asylum seekers simply wanted to live in prosperous Germany.

I don’t know this, but I would also assume that Portuguese women are much less likely to give it up than German women.

Let’s remember that virtually all of these “refugees” are young men, and German women are globally-renown nigger-fuckers.

“The reason why people are in your country is not because they are refugees, but because they want a German life,” he said, describing the issue “politically” as a European problem but, “sociologically,” as a German problem.

Orban specifically targeted Germany and Chancellor Angela Merkel’s “open-door” policy towards asylum seekers. “I’ve never understood how chaos, anarchy and illegal border crossings are viewed as something good in a country like Germany, which we view as the best example of discipline and the rule of law,” he said.

The recent wave of refugees reaching Europe is merely an invasion, according to Orban. “If someone wants to come to your house, he knocks on your door and asks: ‘Can we come in, can we stay?’ They [asylum seekers] didn’t do that, they crossed the border illegally,” he stated.

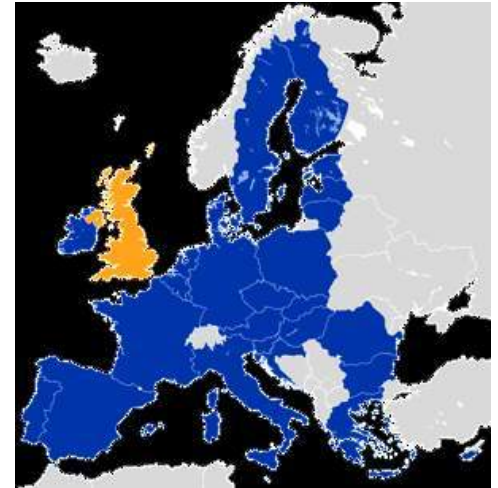

In the interview, he said that multiculturalism was only “an illusion,” as Christian and Muslim societies “will never unite.” According to the Hungarian leader, the presence of a large number of Muslims results in the appearance of “parallel societies.” No such situation exists in Budapest due to a low number of migrants, he said.

I’ll just note here as I always do that Viktor Orban is a shill.

The Hungarian population is extremely #woke and they will only tolerate someone as hard on these issues as Orban. While saying this very good stuff, however, Orban is obsessively pro-EU and supports full integration. And at some point in the not too distant future, Hungary will be so integrated into the EU that the Prime Minister will no longer be allowed to decide immigration policy for the country. In fact, in a few years, EU-wide speech laws would make it so Orban could be arrested and imprisoned for what he is saying right now.

The goal of the EU is to turn Europe into a single country, with a unified legal system run from Brussels and Berlin. That is the open and public goal.

If Orban actually cared about his country, he would be using all of his rhetoric about Moslems to pull the country out of the EU. Instead, he is pretending like he can say this stuff and change the minds of the Germans.

The facts are in: Germans are not going to change their mind. They just elected Merkel for a third term. Anyone who ties themselves to the EU is going to drown right along with it in a sea of brown sludge.

So please, people: stop promoting Orban as a hero. This is all a scam, and you don’t have to look deeply to see that it is a scam. This isn’t like, some kind of conspiracy theory—it is right there in front of you.

No single Orban-defender has ever explained to me how his EU agenda doesn’t completely and entirely negate his anti-migrant agenda. It is simply an obvious fact.

The actual Nationalist party in Hungary, Jobbik, is anti-EU and pro-Russia.

Orban has repeatedly had to adopt their policies with relation to immigration to keep them from winning, but it is their anti-EU policies which are of the most immediate and critical importance—because after Hungary is locked in the EU, a bunch of nice speeches on keeping Europe white won't mean anything at all.

DS

Syria: Russian Airbase Attacked by Terrorists Aided by (((Technologically Advanced State)))

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

I have never heard of ISIS using drones.

I'm not even sure that this is even a case of terrorists being "aided" by another state—it appears to just be an attack on Russia by Israel, with Russia being too polite to state that aloud.

RT:

Russian military have repelled a massive drone attack on its bases in Syria, which was carried out by militants, Moscow said. The extremists may have been aided by a "technologically advanced state," it added.

The militants launched their assault during the night on Saturday, the ministry said in a statement. The Russian Kheimim Airbase in the Syrian Latakia province was attacked by 10 unmanned combat aerial vehicles, while three more attempted a strike against the Russian maritime logistics base located in the city of Tartus.

All of the drones were detected by anti-aircraft defense systems "at a considerable distance from the Russian military objects," the ministry said. Seven of them were then successfully shot down by the Russian Panzir-S air-defense system.

The Russian radio electronic warfare specialists also managed to override the operating systems of six more drones, and eventually gained control over the UAVs. Three of them were destroyed when they hit the ground, while another three were landed intact outside the base controlled by Russian forces.

The ministry also confirmed that the attack had resulted in no casualties among Russian military personnel, and the two bases "continue to operate as normal."

Yeah, whoever did this—whether it was the CIA, Israel or Saudi Arabia—intended it to be a shot across the bow.

It was the "first time that terrorists massively used unmanned combat aerial vehicles of an aircraft type that were launched from a distance of more than 50 kilometers, and operated using GPS satellite navigation coordinates," the ministry said in a statement.

The country's specialists are now examining the seized unmanned aircraft and the recovered data has already allowed the specialists to pinpoint the exact location from which the drones were launched. The examination also showed that advanced technologies were used in the drones' construction. They "could have been obtained only from a country possessing state-of-the-art technologies, including satellite navigation and remote control of...explosive devices [for] release at certain coordinates."

It further added that detonators used in the militants' Improvised Explosive Devices (IEDs) were "of foreign manufacture." These facts indicate that the extremists were supplied with technologies allowing them to carry out terrorist attacks using UAVs in any country, the ministry warned.

This was pretty much bound to happen.

With ISIS defeated and Iran operating with Russian protection in liberated Syria, there is a clear path for the Shiites to create a massive problem for Israel and Saudi Arabia. It's much bigger than just "ease of weapons supply to Hezbollah and Hamas."

I don't really personally see how this can lead to anything other than a world war. The Jews are not simply going to pack-up and go home, and right now, they are backed up against a wall.

Just look at the map.

From Iran to Lebanon, you have a Shiite belt. There is an Iranian-backed rebellion in Yemen.

The US military, goaded by Israel, destabilized the entire order of the Middle East, and the big winner was Iran. They had sleeper cells already lined-up in Iraq to take over the country, and they did so right in front of the entire world—with the US have no choice but to go with it after they had realized what they had done by backing Shiite militias, as to stop it would mean starting the war over again and fighting for the opposite side.

This is all happening, which is why I've predicted global war in 2019. Of course, I hope I'm wrong. But no side is backing down here—except Trump's side, who pulled support for ISIS. But can Trump pull support for Israel? I have no idea but I doubt it. But Europe might be able to pull support for Israel. I can't really imagine NATO getting involved in a massive war with Moslems like they did under George W. Bush. They would certainly have a serious problem with their new Islamic population.

But honestly—who knows?
I don't know.

DS

Germany Can Expel Millions of Islamic Invaders Using This One Weird Trick

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

If the Jews succeed in having these violent, illiterate gang-members deported from Germany, there will be no one to pay the pensions by working in the high-tech sector!

Millions have poured into Germany to feed off the blood of the nation.

They rape women, commit terrorist attacks, and at best, leech welfare.

The German people have been told that there is no chance any of them will ever be deported, despite the fact that the Syrian war that they were allegedly fleeing has been over for the better part of a year.

But there may be one weird trick that can be used to send them all back—find out below.

This probably will not pass into law, but the fact that the ruling party (or the party which should be ruling but can't form a government) is talking about it quite a thing.

JTA:

Germany's mainstream conservative parties are proposing legislation that would allow states to expel foreigners who make anti-Semitic statements, including the refusal to recognize Israel's right to exist.

The party of Chancellor Angela Merkel—the Christian Democratic Union, and its sister party in Bavaria, the Christian Social Union, have proposed legislation that they say would take such hate crimes “much more seriously,” according to the German newspaper Die Welt.

Party leaders reportedly hope that the legislation will be passed before International Holocaust Memorial Day, January 27, which recalls the liberation of the Auschwitz extermination camp by Red Army troops in 1945.

CDU legislator Stephan Harbarth told Die Welt that the move was intended to crack down on anti-Semitism among “migrants with Arab background and from African countries.” While education and other preventive work are important, the state must be able to wield the ultimate threat of deportation, he said. “Anyone who incites anti-Semitic hate and rejects Jewish life in Germany cannot stay in our country,” he said.

A recent survey of new refugees, commissioned by the American Jewish Committee, found that anti-Semitic attitudes and rejection of Israel are widespread among the newcomers. At least 1 million Muslim refugees have arrived in Germany since the summer of 2015. The AJC and numerous Jewish leaders in Germany have called on the federal government to appoint a commissioner to deal with anti-Semitism, from prevention to punishment.

So besides the funniness of this, there are a few important take-aways.

There is the obvious “Jews control everything” part.

But the interesting thing is this: by saying people can be expelled for hating the Jews, they are either saying that:

a) The migrants really aren't in any danger at home, it is just a nice privilege for them to come to Germany (in which case they are admitting that they are not in fact “saving lives,” but just using migrants to ruin Germany), or

b) they are willing to send people to their deaths in the Syrian civil war for daring to question Jews

Either way: BIG LULZ, GERMANY.

JOKE COUNTRY!

It's also fun that when they engage in gang sex attacks, the German government is like “oh well they do that because no one ever taught them not to do that,” but knowing that you're never supposed to question Jews is apparently something a person should be born with.

DS

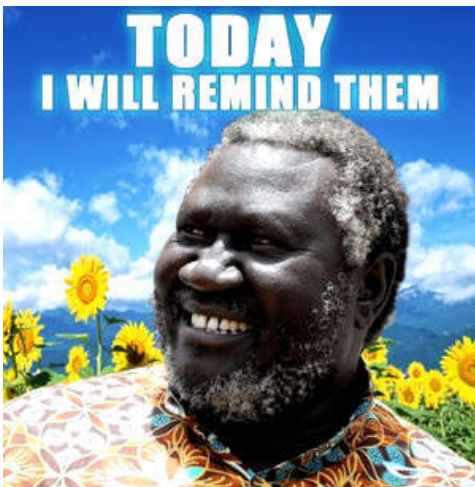

Meghan Markle Wants Ape Broodmother to Walk Down Royal Aisle!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

So, here's the deal: Meghan Markle understands that she is racially humiliating the British people by marrying their Prince. However, she is not apeish enough to really rub their faces in this shame—she's got bleached skin and plastic surgery, plus she's half-white.

So she is insisting her grossly apeish mother be a part of the wedding, just to remind them.

US Weekly:

New rules. The royal wedding between Prince Harry and Meghan Markle is just months away, and the couple are shaking things up in a big way. A source close to the pair tells Us Weekly that the actress wants her mother Doria Ragland to be the one to give her away.

The Suits actress, 36, is breaking tradition and wants her mom to walk her down the aisle instead of her father, Thomas Markle. "With the wedding, they both want to do things their way. While they will always be mindful of traditions and the views of their elders, the day is ultimately about them and what they want to do," the insider tells Us. "The day of the wedding itself will certainly hold a few unconventional surprises. Don't expect a royal wedding by numbers. They want to involve their friends and family as much in as much as possible throughout the day."

By denying her father this right, she is also making a very aggressive statement about the way she racially identifies.

Just the basic act itself is saying "I don't care about your nation's traditions," outside of race. Furthermore, Africa is a matriarchal society, where the mother plays the primary role in the child's life—the father generally plays no role. We see this very much in modern African-American family dynamics.

Of course, no one but me is going to explain this in such a way. Instead, it's just "wow, how quirky! interesting!"

But racial dynamics underline everything that happens in modern Western society. And everything makes more sense when you look at it that way.

DS

Germany: Shitposter Sentenced to 18 Months IN PRISON for Auschwitz May-May

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

An example of an Auschwitz meme. The actual meme posted is a secret, apparently.

In Germany, memes are now against the law.

JTA:

A German neo-Nazi was sentenced to 18 months in prison for an offensive social media post about the Auschwitz Nazi death camp.

The unnamed man, 32, from Glauchau in the German state of Saxony, posted a photo of a miniature of the Auschwitz camp and an offensive caption, the Associated Post reported.

The sentence was handed down at the district court in Hohenstein-Ernstthal in eastern Germany. During the sentencing the judge, Manfred Weber, told the neo-Nazi defendant that "you made fun of Auschwitz survivors— that's very bad," according to the Associated Press.

Just imagine this.

18 months in prison.

For posting a "very bad" meme. About a fake historical event—at least I assume it was mocking the "Holocaust" claim, rather than simply referring to the camp itself in a humorous way. But he isn't getting charged with denial, just making fun—so who knows.

What people would tolerate this kind of abuse by their government?

Only the Germans. And presumably Swedes.

DS

France Publishing Anti-Semitic Essays by Beloved Author (With State-Enforced Lying “Commentary”)

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

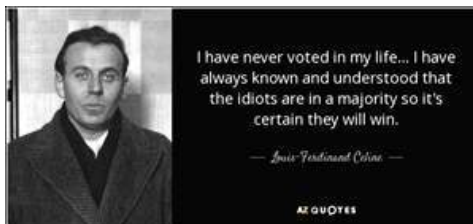

Louis-Ferdinand Celine was your typical brooding, emotional, socialistic proto-hipster Frenchman. But a very bad goy.

The concept of censoring political speech on any level implies that the population is a bunch of children that are capable of having their minds swayed in evil directions simply by reading something.

Which, I mean—okay, the average person is not really capable of critically processing information, but the theory that they are capable of doing that is the entire basis for the system of “democracy”—the fundamental assumption of universal suffrage is that each and every individual (generally only excluding the severely mentally handicapped and convicted felons) is born capable of rational and informed decision-making.

I am personally pro-free speech and anti-democracy. One could also be anti-democracy and anti-free speech or pro-democracy and pro-free speech. But the position of pro-democracy and anti-free speech is absolutely nonsensical.

Now, some European governments have started allowing some very old banned material to go into print again—but it is only legal to print it with government-written commentary alongside it! This is what Germany did with Mein Kampf, and France has now adopted this method.

It is basically even more insulting than not allowing it to be printed at all to claim that the population are such children that they need line-by-line explanations of everything they read.

RT:

The French Prime Minister says the planned publication of anti-Semitic essays by revered author Louis-Ferdinand Celine should go ahead, but be accompanied by critical commentary.

Edouard Philippe weighed in on the debate Sunday, amid heated opposition to the publication of the pamphlets by the French Jewish community.

Three 1930s texts by Celine are set to be printed by leading French publishing house Gallimard in the upcoming book “Polemical Writings” in May. The pamphlets have been out of print since 1945.

Celine called for the extermination of Jews and campaigned for an alliance between France and Nazi Germany. The decision to publish his texts has sparked angry calls for the work to be banned and threats of legal action.

“There are very good reasons to detest the man himself, but you cannot deny the writer’s central position in French literature,” Philippe told Journal du Dimanche in an interview published Sunday.

“I am not afraid of the publication of these pamphlets,” he said but added that it will need to be thoughtfully accompanied.

Celine was basically the French version of Ezra Pound—an artist of the sort whom you would not expect to be converted to fascism, but who was converted based on logic and reason leading to the conclusion that under Judaism, all beauty in the world is destroyed.

Here is an English translation of “Trifles for a Massacre,” the most famous of his anti-Semitic works.

DS

Germany: More Than Half Want the Crazy Old Wench Merkel Off the Ballot in New Election!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

Surely, 52% is a large percentage of people. To get that number, you even have to include some women.

It is clear that many do not like this Merkel Project of ethnically cleansing Germany of Germans. But this is going to be too little too late, I'm afraid.

Also, the reasoning for this dislike of Merkel is not entirely based on her race replacement program, but also just general incompetence and inability to form a government after recently winning an election.

RT:

As German Chancellor Angela Merkel tries to secure a fourth term at the helm of a new grand coalition, a poll has shown a majority would rather vote again. The results also suggest Merkel should not be on the ballot.

Three months after Germans went to the polls, they are still without a government. Their frustration is apparently growing, with the new study finding that 34 percent of respondents want new elections. The Insa survey, commissioned by Germany's Focus magazine showed that only 30 percent expressed support for a continuation of talks to try and form a grand coalition. A minority government would be viewed favorably by just 15 percent of Germans.

Some 52 percent said Chancellor Merkel should not spearhead her Christian Democratic Party (CDU) in a "fresh election."

The findings from another recent poll, ordered by the ARD broadcaster, showed more than half of respondents, 52 percent, are skeptical about restoring the coalition which has governed the EU powerhouse for years.

On Sunday, talks between Merkel's CDU/CSU alliance and the Social Democratic Party (SPD) chaired by Martin Schulz got underway in an attempt to revive the so-called "grand coalition."

Merkel won a fourth term in the federal election in September last year, but her party performed poorly, and thus unable to form a majority government. The SPD also returned its worst result in decades, while the far-right Alternative for Germany (AfD) formation became the third party in the chamber.

Merkel said she thought the attempts could be "successful" this time, as she arrived for the talks—set to last for five days. She has already failed to form an alliance with two smaller parties, and even the SPD appears to not have much of an appetite to join forces. An anti-coalition group "NoGroKo" (no grand coalition) has emerged within Schulz's party, suggesting the SPD should go into opposition and part ways with Merkel's bloc.

If Merkel is out, Schulz is in, and he is just Merkel with an alleged dick (no evidence he has one). His race program is the same.

The crazy sonovabitch has actually stated outright that Germany only exists to serve Israel.

Say a Big 'Thank You' to Martin Schulz

Why are we debating the exact disparity in access to water between Israelis and Palestinians, if Netanyahu admitted his belief that Jews deserve more of it?

I mean—as a descriptive claim, that is in fact true. But he said it prescriptively.

It is clear at this point that it is going to be impossible to solve Germany's problems from within Germany through anything short of a civil war, and I'm not at all sure that the German people have the will to fight a civil war.

The Jews put all of their energy for the last 70 years into crushing the soul of the German people, and they have, by all accounts, succeeded in doing so. Things can change, and I'm not writing them off, but it would take something drastic. Clearly, basic terrorism, gang-rapes, murders, etc. are not enough.

DS

Denmark's Second-Biggest Party Unveils Rules for Islamic Ghettos

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 7, 2018

Your standard European "teen gang."

Denmark is moving towards becoming Urban-tier in their opposition to Islamics. Only they already have a large population of them, so they must oppress them in their ghettos.

It will be super-fun if they start banning mosques and send in black-clad Combine soldiers to keep them off the streets at night and pick up that can in the day.

RT:

The right-wing populist Danish People's Party (DPP) has unveiled a radical seven-point plan to tackle social problems in migrant-dominated areas, after the country's PM said he planned "to physically bulldoze" ghettos.

The most contentious part of the initiative, which has dominated headlines this week, is a curfew on unsupervised under-18 children on the streets of so-called problem areas after 8pm. Martin Henriksen, the DPP immigration spokesman, says there is already legislation that allows local authorities to impose such restrictions, and that it won't be applied to students or those with jobs, nor at all times. He said the DPP plan would ensure children study rather than rove in teen gangs.

Visible policing will also be intensified in the "ghettos," which boast some of the highest crime rates in the country. Among other suggestions is a moratorium on the construction of mosques with minarets, as they project a "divisive symbolism," Henrikson, an MP, told Arab News. Instead, Muslims will be encouraged to pray in unmarked spaces, such as "warehouses and offices."

Yeah.

This isn't admitted by really anyone but it is well-known: the criminality of Moslems in Europe is actually part of their religion. That includes drug-dealing and especially robbery and rape. They are involved in a religious war against the continent, so they are encouraged by the religion to do things that harm the native population.

In 2017, Denmark received just 3,500 asylum applications—the lowest number since 2008—but the Danish People's Party believe conditions for would-be asylum seekers need to be made stricter to whittle this down further. It further proposes that those with temporary asylum must not be given citizenship, but sent back to their homeland as soon as it is safe.

Last month, Henrikson suggested that rejected applicants should be sequestered on one of Denmark's 300 uninhabited islands prior to deportation. While most of these ideas would be considered shocking in neighboring Sweden and in Germany, the parties of Denmark's governing coalition offered no clear official comment—perhaps due to their reliance on the DPP's 37 parliamentary seats to secure a parliamentary majority.

...

Most of the criticism focused on the curfew proposal, which prompted the Minister for Culture Mette Bock to question: "Are we in Denmark?" Several other senior politicians from across the spectrum dismissed the suggestion as "bloody crazy" and "insane."

The curfew is more controversial than the mosque-ban, which says a lot. It's possible that their only goal was the mosque-ban, and they added the curfew so they could give something up in negotiations. Honestly, I'm not sure why they wouldn't be allowed on the streets of their own ghettos at night—it makes more sense to create a police border around the ghetto to keep them in it. The banning of mosques makes sense on the level of the larger society, because it is their religious organization that drives their war against the locals. The structures of their sex and drug gangs would be ungrounded without the mosques, and they would be disheartened.

DS

United States

Trump Accused of Paying Porn Star $130,000 for Sex

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Trump was known to be having sex with beautiful women in New York.

Why would he pay a porn star $130,000 for something he can get “for free” (sex is never literally “free”—in the case of Trump, the woman would want access to his prestige and company) from bitches who won’t give him a disease?

Fox News:

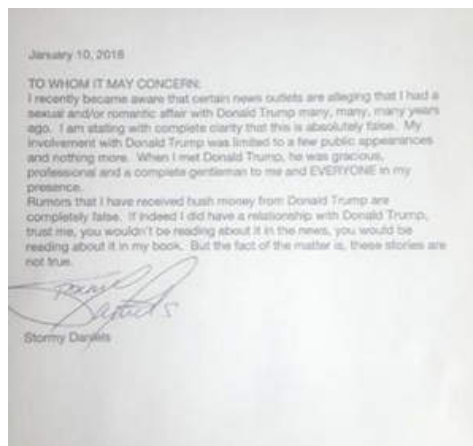

A personal lawyer for President Trump and a former porn star both denied a late Friday report claiming the adult-film actress was paid in exchange for her silence about an alleged sexual encounter with Trump.

The Wall Street Journal reported Friday that Trump lawyer Michael Cohen arranged the payment of $130,000 to Stephanie Clifford, whose stage name is Stormy Daniels, in October 2016. This reportedly was after she and her lawyer negotiated a nondisclosure agreement to prevent her from publicly discussing the supposed sexual encounter with the billionaire businessman.

But Cohen vehemently denied the claim.

“These rumors have circulated time and again since 2011,” Cohen said in a statement to Fox News. “President Trump once again vehemently denies any such occurrence as has Ms. Daniels.”

In a letter, obtained and reviewed by Fox News, Clifford also denied all allegations.

“I recently became aware that certain news outlets are alleging that I had a sexual and/or romantic affair with Donald Trump many, many, many years ago. I am stating with complete clarity that this is absolutely false,” Clifford said in a letter signed by “Stormy Daniels.” “My involvement with Donald Trump was limited to a few public appearances and nothing more.”

Clifford wrote in the letter that when she met Trump, he was “gracious, professional and a complete gentleman to me and EVERYONE in my presence.”

“Rumors that I have received hush money from Donald Trump are completely false,” the letter read. “If indeed I did have a relationship with Donald Trump, trust me, you wouldn’t be reading about it in the news, you would be reading about it in my book. But the fact of the matter is, these stories are not true.”

The Wall Street Journal is fake news. That is the company that the guys who run Fusion GPS—the pissgate dossier hoaxers—worked at.

But of course, this applies to the whole media. You just cannot believe the way these people lie until you get into the middle of it—and I’ve personally been in the middle of it, over and over again.

What Donald Trump has experienced is a sustained campaign of defamation where it doesn’t really matter if any one allegation sticks, because it all just creates a noise of “BAD BAD MAN” in the background. It is a psychological warfare operation, plainly and simply.

DS

Iowa City: White Man Arrested in His Own Business for Questioning a Moslem Terrorist

Adrian Sol
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2017

Would you feel comfortable if a man who looked like this came to your business to “ask” for services? Didn’t think so.

Freedom in America has been so eroded that we can no longer even ascertain as to whether a prospective customer is or isn't a terrorist without getting arrested for it.

Shameful!

When you see someone who is obviously of terrorist descent, it's not only your right, but your duty to grill them until they confess their criminal intent.

That they would arrest a brave, innocent man for protecting America is a crime against decency.

Iowa City Press Citizen :

The owner of an Iowa City automotive repair shop was arrested on a harassment charge after police say he repeatedly asked a customer if he was a terrorist.

According to an Iowa City Police Department complaint, Cermak Automotive owner Chad Anton Cermak, 47, was charged with third degree harassment, a simple misdemeanor, after an incident at his business Monday.

His name is Chad!
I'm not even surprised.

All Chads think alike.

At about 4 p.m. Monday, a customer entered the store, 1220 Gilbert Court, and Cermak made "multiple and repeated harassing statements to the customer," according to the complaint.

The comments included:

"Are you a Muslim?"
"Are you a terrorist?"
"Are you a suicide bomber?"
"Are you wearing a bomb vest?"
"How do you walk down the street without people fearing you?"
"Are you going to blow up my place of business?"

These are all completely reasonable questions that anyone would be asking a terrorist lookalike.

Think about it.

If someone entered your store and looked like this:

Wouldn't you ask him questions like these?

- Are you an alien?
- Do you draw crop circles?
- Have you mutilated cattle recently?
- Are you here to abduct me in your flying saucer?

The report stated the customer attempted to end the conversation multiple times. They reported the incident and felt that they were "offended, in disbelief and felt alarmed" about the comments.

If the "customer" felt offended, he could have left at any time—he was in someone else's business, after all. Yet he still felt it was appropriate to call the cops on the business owner—even though he's the one who's likely a terrorist.

Insane.

DS

NPR Host: "ICE is Trump's Gestapo"

Adrian Sol
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2017
Video Link

You better watch what you say on national television, Juanita, or the ICE-stapo is gonna getcha.

Every night, I dream about black-clad men busting down doors and rounding-up men, women and children to put them on cattle cars headed for the nearest shithole country. I invariably wake up refreshed and in a good mood.

As it turns out, it appears that spics have similar dreams, but don't appreciate them in the same way that I do.

Why this seemingly irrational fear of right-wing death squads? If you're not all in this country illegally as invaders, why are you feeling stressed?

Hmmmm...That's a tough one.

NTK Network:

Maria Hinojosa, an NPR host who covers Latino issues for the publicly-funded station, compared officers for Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) to agents of the Gestapo, Nazi Germany's secret police, in an appearance on MSNBC on Friday.

At first criticizing President Trump for his offensive comments about immigrants in the Oval Office on Thursday, Hinojosa pivoted to immigration enforcement as a whole.

"When the president says this, basically, 'Take them out,' that is what the community is saying, 'This is fearful for us. This is the Gestapo on us,'" she told MSNBC's Ali Velshi. "The troops on the ground of ICE, they're ready to swing into action."

I wish.

Velshi took issue with her comparison of ICE agents to the Gestapo: "I understand the fears that people feel. Of course, I want to separate the idea that ICE agents are like Gestapo."

Hinojosa interrupted him, standing by her characterization.

"It is very painful to have to say these things, but the things that are happening—people are being asked for their citizenship when they're getting on buses in upstate New York," she responded. "Agents are getting on trains and going through the train and spotting people and saying, 'What is your citizenship?'"

Hinojosa described the comparison between ICE and Gestapo as "horrible" but implied it was necessary and accurate. "Horrible things being said right now is part of the United States, 2018," she added.

I agree that the comparison is necessary, but not that it's accurate. ICE should definitely compare themselves to the Gestapo in order to refine their approach over time—but it's clear that they're not there yet.

As long as there's still uppity beaners whining on TV about the "rights" of these invaders, ICE will have a long way to go towards making America great again.

But the efforts they've been making are certainly heartening.

DS

Colored Gentleman has Communication Error with Police

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2017

Honestly friends, I get bored of reading these sorts of stories.

It's like half of the stories in this country could have the headline: "BREAKING NEWS: NIGGER ACTS LIKE A NIGGER."

Fox News:

A North Carolina man suspected of killing a woman hours before died early Friday from a gunshot wound he sustained in a shootout with police outside a headquarters, authorities said.

Jonathan Bennett, 23, drove into the Charlotte-Mecklenburg police headquarters at around 11 p.m. on Thursday as officers were meeting outside the building, Fox 46 Charlotte reported. Bennett ambushed the officers with gunfire and injured at least one.

Police said officers returned fire, hitting Bennett. He was detained and taken to the Carolinas Medical Center-Main where he later died, according to Fox 46 Charlotte. The officer who was wounded in the ambush was also taken to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries.

"Times like this make you appreciate the people who voluntarily put their lives on the line to keep us safe. Unfortunately some people use that against us," Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Chief Kerr Putney said.

"Voluntarily put their lives on the line to keep us safe" might be a technically true statement, but a truer statement would be "risk their lives out of pathological altruism or insanity to protect a system that puts lives at risk for no reason anyone can clearly explain."

The far-left and Sargonites will claim that we can't ever even begin to consider statistics with regards to black crime, because it would deny the fact that not every individual black is a criminal and thus deny individual rights. But these individual blacks that are criminals—which is a very high percentage of their population—are killing individual white people. Do not those individual white people have a right not to be killed?

DS

Walmart is Giving Raise and Bonuses to Employees Following Trump Tax Cuts

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

For the first time since 2008, the economy is very good.

Washington Post:

Walmart, the largest U.S. private employer with more than 1 million workers, said Thursday it plans to raise starting wages from $9 to $11 an hour and hand out employee bonuses ranging from $200 to $1,000, becoming the latest company to give a least some of the credit for new worker benefits to the recently passed tax plan.

But economists and professors cast doubt on whether tax policy changes were the driving force behind the move by a retailing giant that for years has stood as a lightning rod for criticism over low worker pay.

With the national unemployment rate at 4.1 percent, a 17-year low, there are more job openings in the retail industry than at any time since the turn of the century, government data show.

With its announcement on Thursday, Walmart didn't mention the great difficulty employers are having finding and retaining workers in the retail industry.

"Tax reform gives us the opportunity to be more competitive globally and to accelerate plans for the U.S.," Walmart's Chief Executive Douglas McMillon said.

Observers said Walmart almost had to raise wages now if it wanted to keep step with peers such as Target, which late last year raised its starting wage to $11 an hour, with plans to reach $15 by 2020.

"I would've been astounded if they hadn't raised wages," said Thomas Kochan, a professor at MIT's Sloan School of Management. "What's impossible to sort out is how much of this is because of savings from the tax cuts, and how much is because of pressure they're receiving from employees and labor groups."

And how much of it is that people are getting better, higher-paying jobs in the new Trump economy.

But we're not going to read that in WaPo.

The entry of Walmart into the tax-reform debate accelerates the contentious discussion over how much the tax plan, still only weeks old, truly factors into these corporate decisions. American Airlines and AT&T, among others, have announced $1,000 bonuses for employees because of tax reform. Wells Fargo is among a smaller group that has also pledged a $15-an-hour minimum wage following the tax plan's passage. But experts are more doubtful that there's a connection. Many expect wages to rise when corporations have more money, but that is supposed to flow from new investments measured in years, not weeks.

Yeah, sure.

The economy is the hardest thing to attack Trump on. Because even hardcore leftists do not support a poverty-economy.

The Jews can say this "oh well maybe this is just a random thing that has nothing at all to do with Donald Trump" bullshit in their papers and on TV, but people in their real lives are feeling the effects of this. And it might be able to carry through Trump's entire agenda.

After 4 years of Trump, when the economy is 10 times better than it was when Obama left, are people really going to be able to vote against Trump for a Democrat who will take us back to where we were financially because they think it's sad that he's mean to brown people?

DS

Trump to Force Medicaid Recipients to Work!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

Just imagine if this is the beginning of a program to force all welfare recipients to work.

And it obviously is that.

Reuters:

The Trump administration told U.S. states on Thursday they can for the first time move toward imposing work or job training requirements on people as a condition for obtaining health insurance under the Medicaid government program for the poor.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services issued guidance making it easier for states to design and propose test programs that implement such requirements. States must propose such changes through waivers and receive federal approval.

Democrats and health advocacy groups blasted the policy and said it would make it more difficult for the most vulnerable Americans to have access to healthcare services. The Southern Poverty Law Center liberal advocacy group said it plans to file a legal challenge against the administration.

Is "vulnerable" the new word for "parasite"?

I don't have to tell Daily Stormer readers that the overwhelming majority of welfare leeches are nonwhite. Banning the practice of welfare leeching would also help the immigration problem. If these people are not allowed to come here and then loaf around on welfare, many, many less of them are going to bother coming at all.

Furthermore, it will force women to rethink marriage.

Right now, single women are able to feed off of the system, and removing that ability would reinvigorate the family unit. If women are in the mindset of a need to get married in order to eat, it will also make their behavior much better, and cut down on the "ugly fat stupid angry bitch with tattoos" phenomenon.

I'm not saying that this is actually going to happen. Trump hasn't gotten very much at all done so far. But the idea is now out there.

DS

Based Jew Steven Miller is a One Man Army Hellbent on Preventing Biblical Beaner Flood

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

Every once in awhile you have a Jew that is so based that he BTFOs every other kike. He's like one of them, but also an enemy to them. A daykiker.

Video Link

Steven Miller appears to be a one man army against all the cuckservative shabbos goys trying to turn America into a Third World hellhole.

The Republicans really are identical to the Democrats.

You see, all of a sudden the "partisan differences" will fade when this country becomes majority brown. The monoparty will emerge when these people retreat to their gated communities to yuck it up with one another and let the White proles get turned into a permanent mestizo underclass.

That's when they'll let the mask drop and it'll be too late to do anything about it.

But that's not going to happen if Steven Miller has anything to say about it.

News Observer:

Here's one thing even Republicans negotiating an immigration deal agree on: Trump aide Stephen Miller is hurting their chances of getting anything done.

They blame him for insisting the administration gets approval for an unrealistic number of immigration policies in exchange for protections for young people brought into the country illegally as children. They loathe his intensity when delivering his hardline views. And they accuse him of coordinating with outside advocacy groups that oppose their efforts.

"It's no secret that he's an obstacle to getting anything done on immigration," said a Republican House member involved in the immigration talks.

Many people involved in the immigration debate—Republicans and Democrats, Capitol Hill staffers and activists—complain that Miller is making already tough negotiations more difficult, according to 14 people familiar with the situation, half involved in negotiations. Most spoke on the condition of anonymity to discuss the president's aide.

The House Republican lawmaker said it's widely viewed that "to move past the speed bumps, there's no option but to kind of get him out of the way."

Yet Miller's close relationship to the president, which spans the campaign and transition, means they are unlikely to do or say anything to get him out of the negotiations.

Some Republicans say Miller has tried to poison the deal with policies he knows will never survive a vote in the Senate, where Republicans hold a slim majority and are constantly searching for Democratic votes. "He's trying to craft a deal he knows is not viable because he doesn't want a deal," said a Republican strategist who has long sought an immigration overhaul.

Amazing stuff.

One Jew has drawn the line in the sand and refuses to budge from Trump's campaign promises and refuses to deliver this country to brown people like the Republicucks seem to want to do.

Say what you will about Steven Miller, but he really really hates spics and has hated them his entire life.

Wikipedia:

Latino students remembered him engaging them outside group meetings, asking why they required a separate forum to discuss issues of identity, and chafing at Spanish being spoken in the halls.

"He tended to make some of the Spanish language stuff very personal," said Moises Castillo, a classmate who described the exchanges as hurtful to this day. "There was a 'if you're not speaking English, perhaps you should go somewhere else.'"

I can't blame him for hating spics tbh.

But unlike most kikes who secretly loath brown people, but loath White people even more and try to pit the two groups against one another, Steven has clearly decided to side with White people on this one, which is very rare for kikes indeed.

Someone get this guy an emergency foreskin transplant—stat.

DS

Overwhelming Majority of Americans Oppose Jewish Neo-Con Wars

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

An evil Zionist empire that no gentile American asked for but has to pay for and die for isn't popular—imagine my shock!

Yet, despite a very clear electoral veto of Jewish plans for our blood and treasure in 2016, Donald Trump's White House still has Jews influencing foreign policy in traditional Jewy ways.

A new survey reaffirms the American consensus on this matter for the thousandth time. The overwhelming majority of Americans want the US out of everywhere. Why doesn't our government reflect our will?

The Nation:

Last week, the bipartisan Committee for a Responsible Foreign Policy—a bipartisan advocacy group calling for congressional oversight of America's lengthy list of military interventions abroad—released the results of a survey that show broad public support for Congress to reclaim its constitutional prerogatives in the exercise of foreign policy (see Article 1, Section 8 of the US Constitution) and for fewer US military interventions generally. Undertaken last November by J. Wallin Opinion Research, the new survey revealed “a national voter population that is largely skeptical of the practicality or benefits of military intervention overseas, including both the physical involvement of the US military and also extending to military aid in the form of funds or equipment as well.”

Bill Dolbow, the spokesman for the Committee for a Responsible Foreign Policy, said, “We started this initiative to give a voice to the people and the people have spoken—Congress needs to enact more oversight before intervening in conflict abroad.”

...

The headline findings show, among other things, that 86.4 percent of those surveyed feel the American military should be used only as a last resort, while 57 percent feel that US military aid to foreign countries is counterproductive. The latter sentiment “increases significantly” when involving countries like Saudi Arabia, with 63.9 percent saying military aid—including money and weapons—should not be provided to such countries.

...

The researchers at J. Wallin note that, even in spite of what they call a “climate of distinct political polarization,” the results show these sentiments vary “only in degrees of intensity across political party, ideology, age groups, gender, and geographic regions.”

The survey found that 78 percent of Democrats, 64.5 percent of Republicans, and 68.8 percent of independents supported restraining military action overseas. “Rarely,” noted the report, “does opinion research reveal issues that enjoy shared sentiments on a bi-partisan level.”

Websites like Breitbart—as with the rest of (((the media)))—work day and night to keep interest in killing and dying for Israel alive, but even GOP voters don't want it.

At this point, the Kikeocratic machine doesn't even bother explaining why we're still in Syria even though ISIS has been defeated.

How long can this be sustained for?

The Alt-Right should start planning to lead the next anti-war movement. With the J-left and libertarians being absorbed by the establishment, there won't be anyone else. The only thing these traditional opponents of war want is to disenfranchise and eventually kill cis-het white men—something the Zionist warmongers are happy to let them do.

Looking at how the Jewish power structure is moving its chess pieces in the Middle East (arming Saudis to the teeth, coup against Lebanese prime minister, CIA attempt at starting a civil war in Iran), they're preparing to attain the special ingredient for the matzoh (human blood).

How this next war will play out is anyone's guess, but some sort of large-scale debacle appears inevitable. The Israelis can't allow the Syrians to get away with their victory.

DS

Delta Dethrones American Airlines as Official Airline of the White Race

Adrian Sol
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2017

If you need to travel the world gassing kikes in style and comfort, Delta is the airline for you.

Last year, American Airlines won our coveted “Official Airline of the Alt-Right” award due to their unrelenting devotion to mistreating Blacks. But it appears that they’ve been resting on their laurels as their competitors worked overtime to win over our favor.

Indeed, while hurting the feelings of nig nogs is admirable, it’s still baby-tier stuff compared to the recent accomplishments of Delta airlines.

Delta is a company that truly understands the importance of being recognized by the Daily Stormer, and they understand what we value the most in a business. They understand that we want, more than anything else, Jews to experience psychological distress.

And they’ve been delivering that in spades.

Haaretz:

It wasn’t long after Nahum Amir began working for Delta Airlines as a mechanic that he says his manager started calling him “the Jewish guy.” Then Amir says the manager accused him and other Jews of “killing kids in Gaza.”

During the same period, Yaron Gilinsky was working as a Delta flight attendant on flights from New York to Tel Aviv. Except, he says, his non-Jewish co-workers would call it “Hell Aviv.” Gilinsky remembers some, including managers, making fun of haredi Orthodox Jews’ beards and sidecurls. One non-Jewish fellow attendant called them “ugly Jews.”

Where’s the lie?

“At some point, it makes me feel ashamed and it makes me feel this person doesn’t respect me,” Gilinsky, 38, told JTA about his co-workers’ comments. “I was brought into this company because I speak Hebrew. I was brought into this company to take care of the clients that support that flight, and here this person is talking very derogatorily and putting down my faith, my people, everything that I grew up on.”

It appears that putting down Jews, their faith and their people is standard procedure at Delta Airlines. And to that, I can only say: bravo.

You gotta admire and respect a company which goes out of its way to hire Jews for the express purpose of humiliating them.

Amir, an Israeli-American, and Gilinsky, who was born in Israel and lives in the United States, are each separately suing Delta in federal court for violating the Civil Rights Act, which prohibits discrimination based on ethnicity. Gilinsky is in the process of formally joining a suit filed last week by four other Delta employees who also allege anti-Semitic and anti-Israeli discrimination. Amir’s suit was filed Monday evening.

“I have been subjected to a hostile and threatening environment based on my race and ethnicity,” Amir stated in a signed affidavit obtained by JTA.

The manager, whom Amir names as Azeem Narine, “continues to make jokes and comments about Jewish people, including about circumcision. He would go to the computer room talking about Jewish people chopping off part of his private areas.”

The chopping is bad enough, but it’s the sucking that really cinches it for me.

With this, I can state without reservation that Delta Airlines steals the position of Official Airline of American Nationalism from American Airlines, for exceptional oppression rendered against the Jewish race.

It’s great to see companies starting to take Alt-Right endorsements more seriously and make a concerted effort to win our approval with such gestures. This shows that a right-wing endorsement is worth a lot of money in the modern political climate, and that it’s worth alienating worthless subhumans in order to earn it.

I hope we see more of this attitude in 2018 moving forward.

DS

ICE is Targeting 7-Elevens Across the Country for Employing Greasy Spics!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

I have said from the beginning that if you actually targeted employers (and renters), you could get the overwhelming majority of Mexicans to simply self-deport. They come here because they want to work at low-wage jobs that pay 15 times what low-wage Mexican jobs pay. If they don’t have any work, they will go back.

Obviously you also have to cut any social services to them.

But if you do those three—employment, housing and welfare—what percentage will that eliminate? At least 85%. Probably more.

Self-deportation is the first line of defense, then we can round-up the remainder.

AP:

Seven immigration agents filed into a 7-Eleven store before dawn Wednesday, waited for people to go through the checkout line and told arriving customers and a driver delivering beer to wait outside. A federal inspection was underway, they said.

Within 20 minutes, they verified that the cashier had a valid green card and served notice on the owner to produce hiring records in three days that deal with employees' immigration status.

The well-rehearsed scene, executed with quiet efficiency in Los Angeles' Koreatown, played out at about 100 7-Eleven stores in 17 states and the District of Columbia, a rolling operation that officials called the largest immigration action against an employer under Donald Trump's presidency.

The employment audits and interviews with store workers could lead to criminal charges or fines. And they appeared to open a new front in Trump's expansion of immigration enforcement, which has already brought a 40 percent increase in deportation arrests and pledges to spend billions of dollars on a border wall with Mexico.

A top official at U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement said the audits were "the first of many" and "a harbinger of what's to come" for employers.

"This is what we're gearing up for this year and what you're going to see more and more of is these large-scale compliance inspections, just for starters," said Derek Benner, acting head of ICE's Homeland Security Investigations, which oversees cases against employers.

"It's not going to be limited to large companies or any particular industry—big, medium and small," he said.

After the inspections, officials plan to look at whether the cases warrant administrative action or criminal investigations, Benner told The Associated Press.

This is massive. If this is the direction that we're going in, we are going to eliminate the Mexican problem within Trump's first term.

And we have to deal with these illegals before we can start revoking citizenship. People are going to see that the country is better with fewer brown people, then we can move to the next step.

Never forget how long it took the Jews to implement their program—almost half a century. I don't think we should take that long, but we're not going to do it overnight. This is a process.

And punishing employers is an awesome step towards the end goal of a WHITE AMERICA.

7-Eleven will once again be the domain of the Aryan Master Race.

DS

Jews Find a Birthright Citizenship They Don't Like

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

A growing number of Russians are coming to the U.S. to give birth. These kids will have the right to live and work here, receive social services and, when they turn 21, will have the right to sponsor their parents for an American Green Card. Read more: <https://t.co/4doKwLoChn> pic.twitter.com/zUSom9ui1w

— NBC News (@NBCNews) January 10, 2018

Birthright citizenship as it exists now is a tool pushed for the displacement and elimination of the white race.

So of course, if it is white people coming to America to get citizenship for their babies, the Jews rage. Because that is the opposite of the goal here.

Thus is the case with Russian women performing this act.

In all honesty, if we regain control of our country, I don't believe that we should allow some massive wave of poor white immigrants into America. I have heard people in the Alt-Right argue for that, and I don't really understand it. With that said, I do agree with pushing for this right now, because we've got a numbers game. They're probably going to pass a law against Russian women doing this, simply because it is a good idea right now to do this.

DS

Judge Cockblocks Trump Order to End DACA

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

It just shows everyone how broken and unfair our Court System is when the opposing side in a case (such as DACA) always runs to the 9th Circuit and almost always wins before being reversed by higher courts.

— Donald J. Trump (@realDonaldTrump) January 10, 2018

This is absolute friggin madness.

These people are here ILLEGALLY and if anything Obama's initial order to allow them to stay was illegal.

This isn't even a real law. It was a decree by Barack.

The idea that a President isn't allowed to rescind an executive order that was written by a previous President to void the law is nonsensical.

CNN:

A federal judge in California late Tuesday temporarily blocked the Trump administration's efforts to end the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program.

Judge William Alsup also said the administration must resume receiving DACA renewal applications.

But the ruling is limited—the administration does not need to process applications for those who have never before received DACA protections, he said.

The Trump administration announced the move to draw down the program last September with a planned end for early March. DACA protected young undocumented immigrants who came to the US as children from deportation.

The fate of DACA and the roughly 700,000 "Dreamers" is the subject of heated negotiations in Washington, where President Donald Trump, Republicans and Democrats are searching for a way to allow Dreamers to stay while also addressing border security concerns. It is not clear how the order will impact those talks.

The White House on Wednesday morning called the decision "outrageous."

"An issue of this magnitude must go through the normal legislative process. President Trump is committed to the rule of law, and will work with members of both parties to reach a permanent solution that corrects the unconstitutional actions taken by the last administration," White House press secretary Sarah Sanders said in a statement.

What the hell kind of a system is this that these judges can just stop anything the President does? For entirely unapologetic political reasons even?

I'll tell you.

All that these people are doing is making peaceful resolution of this situation we find ourselves in impossible. I don't say that because I advocate violent solutions to problems, I say it simply as a matter of fact. Multiculturalism is unworkable, and it will lead to violence if it is not solved in a peaceful manner. There is no example in history of this not happening.

The @JacobAWohl strategy:

For America: Grant 800,000 illegals (which will quickly become millions via chain migration and the courts) a path to citizenship. It isn't a big deal.

For Israel: Secure Israel's border at all costs.

"Nationalism for me, but not for thee." pic.twitter.com/oJ1ggE7NFu — Matt Semite (@MattOurSemite) January 10, 2018

Yo I got a better test, if you're an illegal immigrant you get deported pic.twitter.com/gF5cvLpaj5

— Wonderful White Groyper (@that_groyper) January 10, 2018

The goyim already know.

And the Jews appear to want this whole thing to just explode.

DS

FBI Says We Have to End Encrypted Messaging Because of Moslems

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

This is yet another case of "why we can't have nice things."

If it wasn't for Islamics, there would be no reason to need to check people's phones.

They are literally telling you that you have to lose freedoms because of brown people murdering you.

RT:

In another blast at privacy, FBI director Christopher Wray has said that powerful encryption which blocks law enforcement agencies from accessing data on devices represents an "urgent public safety issue."

In a speech at a cyber security conference in New York on Tuesday, Wray said the FBI was unable to access data from nearly 7,800 devices last year despite possessing the legal authority to do so, Reuters reports.

This was more than half of the devices the bureau tried to crack into. "This is an urgent public safety issue," Wray said, adding that finding a solution to the problem is "not so clear cut."

In an effort to protect data many devices and applications now encrypt content by default. Some applications, such as WhatsApp or Telegram, use end-to-end encryption, which means private communications cannot be intercepted.

"We face an enormous and increasing number of cases that rely heavily, if not exclusively, on electronic evidence," Wray told the International Conference on Cyber Security.

Finding a solution to the problem will require "significant innovation,"

Wray said, before adding that he does not “buy the claim that it is impossible.”

He isn't even wrong that there is a public safety issue. Our country actually is crawling with hajis and they actually do want to commit mass murder.

The proposition here is: freedom or brown people.

And I for one would prefer to have millions of gang-raping terrorists flooding my country to kill my family and live on welfare.

DS

Steve Bannon Resigns from Breitbart

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

After using the word “treason” to refer to a meeting at Trump Tower with a Russian lawyer in a quote from this new “Fire and Fury” book, Steve Bannon has been forced out of the company that he built.

There is literally no way that if this man's mind had been sound that he wouldn't have seen this coming.

Axios:

Steve Bannon has stepped down as executive chairman of Breitbart News. SiriusXM has now also cancelled his radio show, as “the agreement is with Breitbart.”

The big picture: Trump got his scalp. He forced everyone inside and close to the White House to make a binary choice: “it's me or Steve.” For everyone, including some of Bannon's close allies, it was an easy choice. Almost everyone abandoned Bannon.

Between the lines:

- This was the Mercers forcing his hand. It wasn't just Bannon's > quotes to Wolff but how he mishandled the fallout. He took five > days to issue a weak apology, which fell flat.
- Right up until today Steve was telling associates everything was > going to be fine (but he always does that when he's under the > gun.) But his associates knew this was coming. The Mercers had > turned against him months ago.
- Per source close to the White House: “God, I can't believe the whole > movement just collapsed on this guy. He's done.”
- Per a former WH ally of Bannon's: “I've gone from being sympathetic > to Steve to believing he's a genuinely bad guy, totally > duplicitous. It's a shame. He has a lot of talent. But his > self-destructive streak is unlike anything I've ever seen.”

Steve destroyed his entire life and any legacy that he might leave.

For what?

Honestly, he could have come out against Trump by attacking him on immigration and/or foreign policy and no one would have blamed him. I mean, a few people might have blamed him, but he wouldn't have destroyed his entire life.

Then the really crazy part is that after the book was published, he could have rushed a statement saying “blah blah blah taken out of context, I support the President and think the Russia stuff is a hoax” —and no one would have even blamed him. Trump is basically claiming that the entire book is made up, calling it “a work of fiction,” so Bannon saying that Wolff misquoted him for defamation purposes would have been easily accepted—even if he did actually say the stuff it would have been accepted, even by Trump.

So it's a bizarre thing all around. It can only be viewed as the man purposefully destroying himself, and I'm not sure why. It's just some kind of weird personal thing.

I mean, you could come up with an infinite number of conspiracy theories here. Like, he could have been threatened into doing this, I guess. Or he could have been the victim of some kind of Mossad program to drive him insane. I guess it is interesting to think about that, given how shocking the entire situation is, but the bottom line is that it is what it is.

RIP Steve

DS

Trump's Lawyer Sues Fusion GPS and BuzzFeed Over “Pissgate” Dossier

Adrian Sol
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2017

May the gods help this Jew take down Buzzfeed.

It's about time someone sued Buzzfeed and Fusion GPS over the ridiculous and clearly slanderous #Pissgate dossier. Surprisingly, the first one to do so is a Jew.

I can only hope the charges are enlarged to attack BuzzFeed over their insane SJW drivel and fake news.

Politico:

Michael Cohen, then longtime attorney for President Donald Trump attorney filed two defamation lawsuits Tuesday evening against research firm Fusion GPS and BuzzFeed.

The Fusion GPS lawsuit, which was filed at a federal court level, seeks $100 million in damages. A separate amount in damages for the BuzzFeed lawsuit, which was filed at the state court level, will be determined at trial, according to court documents obtained by POLITICO.

Buzzfeed is close to the top of the list of the worst sites on the internet. Having them destroyed, Gawker-style, would definitely make the world a better place.

These people need to suffer.

Fusion GPS commissioned the so-called Steele dossier, a controversial compilation of alleged ties between Trump and Russia. Compiled by Christopher Steele, a former British spy, the dossier has since been a focus of congressional probes investigating whether Russia interfered with the 2016 election and possible collusion with the Trump campaign.

The dossier also detailed how Trump paid Russian hookers to engage in a urine-related sex act on the same bed that Obama had slept in years earlier. That's in there. It's a ridiculous fanfic-type document created entirely to set up this stupid Russian investigation hoax after the Democrats got BTFO in the election.

A transcript of the interview with Fusion GPS co-founder Glenn Simpson by the Senate Judiciary Committee last summer was published on Tuesday. Simpson told congressional leaders that the FBI found the dossier credible because an undisclosed "human source" associated with Trump had offered the bureau corroborating information.

BuzzFeed published the dossier in January 2017, noting that the allegations were unverified and the report contained errors.

"Hey, it might not be true, but I heard that X is a child-rapist."

I see what you did there, BuzzFeed.

The dossier claims that Cohen met with Russian operatives somewhere in Europe, including Prague, to attend a meeting to "clean up the mess" created by public disclosures of other Trump associates' reported ties to Russia.

...

Cohen "sustained significant financial and reputational damages" due to the publication of the dossier on BuzzFeed's website, according to court documents in the BuzzFeed lawsuit. In addition, Cohen claims he was subjected to at least two separate Congressional investigations, the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence and the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, due to the dossier being published.

So the Jew isn't actually suing them on behalf of Trump, his client, who obviously suffered far greater defamation than him, but only for himself.

Really makes you think.

Oh well. All that matters is that more light is shed on this travesty, in order to keep the public outrage high.

And also, to make the people at Buzzfeed suffer.

DS

Texas: Dirty Spic Rapes 100+ Girls Put in His Home by Child Protective Services and You're a Bigot for Giving a Shit

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
December 10, 2017

The next time some smarmy little shit tells you that Mexicans are "based" or "natural conservatives" or all about "family values," you show them this story.

My San Antonio:

A Medina County man accused of sexually assaulting five former foster children, including several in Bexar County, took in more than 180 young girls over a five year period, officials said.

That leads investigators to believe there could be numerous other victims who have yet to come forward.

"It's not a question about whether there are more," said Medina County Sheriff Randy Brown. "It's just about how many."

I bet you that if I had just mentioned the part about this Mexican taking in poor girls as a foster parent, every Oprah-watching suburban mom would start cooing and every fat boomer on a rascal would start burping out the national anthem with their chubby hand over their cholestoral-encrusted heart.

But then, no one wants to hear about what happened AFTER some spic figured out that he can get his hands on some teen girls because of how mind-numbingly retarded most White people in this country have become.

They always tune out when you try telling them that part, don't they?

And there's even an interesting Corpo-Globo-Homo link in the story:

Brown said Child Protective Services contracted with a third-party company, who has not yet been publicly identified, to place the girls in Briseno's home.

"Those girls were taken from some environment and then you have some jackass like him abusing these girls that already have troubles," Brown said. "I'm aggravated at the whole system. I'm aggravated at the company that placed these girls. It was a money-making deal, the way they were running those girls through there like live-stock. It wasn't about making a better world for them. They were making a profit off them."

How much do you want to bet that its some Jew-run company?

Selling the goyim off into indentured servitude as sex toys is standard Corpo-Kike operating procedure. I would literally not even bat an eye, and I wager neither would you.

Representatives of Child Protective Services could not immediately comment on the relationship with the company.

Two of the charges against Briseno are out of Medina County, and the remaining three originated in Bexar County. Brown said Briseno first became a foster parent while living in Von Ormy, where the alleged assaults occurred, and later moved to Devine, Texas, in Medina County.

The executive take-away is that the government has become so filled with niggers and other incompetent minorities that the kikes have no choice but to hire some private company to do their child-trafficking for them because the government would probably fuck it up at this point.

Wednesday's arrest was not the first time Briseno was arrested on child sex abuse charges. In April 2013, the Medina County Sheriff's Office arrested him on a charge of solicitation to commit sexual assault of a child. The arrest came after one of Briseno's foster children said he had sexually assaulted her in August 2012, when he no longer had a foster license, Brown said.

It is not clear why Briseno did not have a license after 2010 and how Briseno still had foster children in his care two years later, though investigators discovered Briseno had attempted to move his foster parent license into his wife's name, Brown said.

"It's not a loophole, it's just downright wrong," Brown said.

Wow. They literally just passed off the girls to some already known sex abuser who couldn't even remember to renew his Sex Abuse license in time.

Briseno pleaded guilty in September 2015 to a reduced charge of attempted assault, a Class B misdemeanor. Brown said investigators and prosecutors had difficulty securing testimony against Briseno. He was sentenced to 180 days in jail, though county officials couldn't confirm how much time he was actually incarcerated.

Brown said his office, as well as other investigating agencies like the Texas Rangers, plan to look into the unnamed third-party company responsible for placing the children in Briseno's care. They're also working to determine whether his wife could be held criminally responsible.

Stories like this read like the obituary for White America.

Law and order has become a thing of the past. If you've got skin the color of poo, you can get away with anything. Especially if your employer is some Jewish sex trafficking company.

In White America, there'd be a posse already out in the streets looking for this guy. But in Weimerica, this guy lives off tax dollars provided him by the sweat of the White man's labor.

The DOTR can't come soon enough.

DS

Trump to GIVE THE BOOT to a Quarter Million Parasites from El Salvador

Andrew Anglin

Daily Stormer

January 9, 2018

Innocent childrens from El Salvador are just looking for a better life, goyim.

Most of the headlines we're seeing are saying that it is 200,000 Salvadorians getting the boot, but in fact it is over 250,000.

This is a big white pill.

Trump clearly has a strategy where when he's done something to offend the far-right—like he did by supporting the Iranian riots—he does something to make up for it. It's hard to make a math equation out of this stuff—especially given that the government of Iran is still standing and these Salvadorians aren't due to be deported for another year and a half.

But the butthurt from the Jews over the mere mention of throwing these people the hell out of our country is worth a whole lot to me. And remember: this stuff is about hearts and minds, and changing the way people think. And when Trump says he's throwing out a quarter million people who have been here for almost two decades, the mere statement of this—putting into people's minds that such things are possible—changes the entire shape of politics.

The practical problem that I see here is the same with Mexicans generally and that is birthright citizenship. Brown sluts are hornier than a triceratops so the only ones that wouldn't have had a kid in the last 17 years are the ones that were too old to have kids when they came here.

Vox:

On Monday, the Trump administration announced that it was stripping approximately 260,500 Salvadoran immigrants—who've been in the US for at least 17 years, since a 2001 earthquake—of temporary legal status as of July 2019.

It's the latest, and most significant, blow in the administration's fight against Temporary Protected Status, an immigration program that lets the government allow immigrants to stay in the US and work legally after their home countries are struck by natural disasters or war.

El Salvador is the fourth country for which the Trump administration has announced an end to TPS protections over its first year. In total, the administration has set up more than 320,000 immigrants to lose their legal status over the course of late 2018 and 2019 (and possibly as many as 375,000, depending on what it decides to do with 57,000 Honduran immigrants this spring).

The overwhelming majority of those immigrants have deep roots in the US. And Salvadorans might have the deepest roots of all: Approximately 192,700 US-born children have at least one parent who's on track to lose legal status due to the administration's Monday announcement.

The Trump administration argues that the TPS program was never intended to allow immigrants to stay for 17 years, and that it needs to end temporary status to provide a "permanent solution." But it's unclear, at best, that the Trump administration will be interested in pushing Congress to legalize hundreds of thousands of Central American (and Haitian) immigrants. Furthermore, the administration is telling Salvadoran immigrants that they have 18 months to make other arrangements to stay in the US or pack their bags.

After two decades in the US, hundreds of thousands of families will now have to decide whether to return to one of the most violent countries on earth—or remain in the US as unauthorized immigrants and try to slink into the shadows.

So they left because of the earthquake but they don't want to go back because of the violence. Ha.

Of course, what Vox won't tell you is that the reason El Salvador is violent is because it is filled with Salvadorians. If El Salvador was populated by Singaporean Han Chinese, it would be one of the least violent countries on earth instead of one of the most violent countries on earth.

What that means is that when you bring a violent population to a peaceful place that place becomes more violent. In fact, the majority of members of MS-13, by far the most violent gang operating in the United States, are Salvadorian.

These people make Mexican gangs look like kids stuff (and make black gangs look like a day-care center for retarded children). This is because, while Mexican sluts were getting fucked by Spanish conquistadors, Central America remained largely untouched.

These are straight Aztec blood-drinkers.

Their tattoos often have death cult type symbolism.

Last year, some Central American youths actually got caught doing a satanic human sacrifice.

Teenage US girl 'killed by El Salvador gang in Satanic murder'

Miguel Alvarez-Flores, 22, (right) and Diego Hernandez-Rivera, 18, (left) members of the notorious MS-13 gang from El Salvador, have been arrested and charged with aggravated kidnapping and murder

What I'm telling you is that you are dealing with an atavistic type of genetic evil here. It is literally like you've taken the blood-drinking Aztecs and brought them into the modern world.

In 1487, the Aztecs had a 4-day temple dedication celebration and killed between 20,000 and 80,000 people as human sacrifices. You pull people who would come up with the idea to do that out of the 15th century and into the 21st, and of course they are going to be running drug gangs.

Human behavior is genetic. We know this. It is a scientific fact. The Jews don't even deny it. They simply call you a hater for saying it.

But everywhere you look, it is as plain as the tattoos on a Salvadorian's face.

	Country (or dependent territory, subnational area, etc.)	Rate	Count	Region	Subregion	Year listed	Notes
1	El Salvador	108.64	6,656	Americas	Central America	2015
2	Honduras	62.75	9,145	Americas	Central America	2015
3	Venezuela	56.10	17,778	Americas	South America	2015
4	United States Virgin Islands (US)	52.64	56	Americas	Caribbean	2010
5	Jamaica	43.21	1,207	Americas	Caribbean	2012
6	Lesotho	38.00	184	Africa	Southern Africa	2010
7	Belize	34.40	121	Americas	Central America	2014
8	South Africa	34.27	18,673	Africa	Southern Africa	2015
9	Saint Kitts and Nevis	33.55	18	Americas	Caribbean	2012
10	Guatemala	31.22	8,998	Americas	Central America	2014
11	Trinidad and Tobago	30.88	420	Americas	Caribbean	2015
12	Bahamas	29.81	111	Americas	Caribbean	2012
13	Anguilla (UK)	27.66	6	Americas	Caribbean	2014
14	Brazil	26.74	55,574	Americas	South America	2015
15	Colombia	26.50	12,782	Americas	South America	2015	notes
16	Saint Vincent and the Grenadines	25.61	28	Americas	Caribbean	2012
17	Saint Lucia	21.56	28	Americas	Caribbean	2012
18	Montserrat (UK)	20.38	2	Americas	Caribbean	2008
19	Tuvalu	20.28	2	Oceania	Polynesia	2012
20	Guyana	19.42	149	Americas	South America	2015
21	Dominican Republic	17.39	1,820	Americas	Caribbean	2014
22	Namibia	16.93	388	Africa	Southern Africa	2012
23	Mexico	16.35	20,762	Americas	Central America	2015	notes
24	Saint Pierre and Miquelon (France)	15.94	1	Americas	Northern America	2009
25	Puerto Rico (US)	15.86	984	Americas	Caribbean	2015
26	Cayman Islands (UK)	14.74	6	Americas	Caribbean	2009
27	South Sudan	13.70	4,504	Africa	Eastern Africa	2012	notes
28	Democratic Republic of the Congo	13.36	10,322	Africa	Middle Africa	2015
29	French Guiana (France)	13.17	30	Americas	South America	2009
30	Central African Republic	13.08	642	Africa	Middle Africa	2015	notes
31	Greenland (Denmark)	12.46	7	Americas	Northern America	2015
32	Bolivia	12.40	1,270	Americas	South America	2012
33	Uganda	11.84	8,473	Africa	Eastern Africa	2014
34	Ivory Coast	11.84	2,688	Africa	Western Africa	2015
35	Costa Rica	11.77	566	Americas	Central America	2015
36	Nicaragua	11.69	675	Americas	Central America	2012
37	Panama	11.38	547	Americas	Central America	2015
38	Russia	11.31	18,232	Europe	Eastern Europe	2015
39	Antigua and Barbuda	11.23	10	Americas	Caribbean	2012
40	Barbados	10.91	31	Americas	Caribbean	2015
41	Republic of the Congo	10.88	406	Africa	Middle Africa	2015
42	Mali	10.82	1,905	Africa	Western Africa	2015
43	Suriname	10.68	58	Americas	South America	2015
44	Botswana	10.53	220	Africa	Southern Africa	2011
45	Papua New Guinea	10.42	713	Oceania	Melanesia	2010
46	Mauritania	10.22	416	Africa	Western Africa	2015
47	Haiti	10.04	1,033	Americas	Caribbean	2012
48	Philippines	9.84	9,756	Asia	South-Eastern Asia	2014
49	Nigeria	9.79	17,843	Africa	Western Africa	2015
50	Angola	9.65	2,414	Africa	Middle Africa	2015
51	Paraguay	9.28	617	Americas	South America	2015
52	Guinea-Bissau	9.17	169	Africa	Western Africa	2015
53	Togo	9.14	968	Africa	Western Africa	2015
54	Gambia	9.07	181	Africa	Western Africa	2015
55	Chad	9.02	1,266	Africa	Middle Africa	2015
56	Gabon	9.00	155	Africa	Middle Africa	2015
57	Cape Verde	8.84	48	Africa	Western Africa	2015
58	Guinea	8.46	1,067	Africa	Western Africa	2015
59	Uruguay	8.42	289	Americas	South America	2015
60	Dominica	8.40	6	Americas	Caribbean	2011
61	British Virgin Islands (UK)	8.37	7	Americas	Caribbean	2006
62	Ecuador	8.29	1,909	Americas	South America	2014
63	Swaziland	8.18	102	Africa	Southern Africa	2013
64	Qatar	8.10	181	Asia	Western Asia	2015
65	Iraq	8.0	2,625	Asia	Western Asia	2012	notes
66	Guadeloupe (France)	7.90	38	Americas	Caribbean	2009
67	Pakistan	7.81	13,846	Asia	Southern Asia	2012	notes
68	Comoros	7.80	60	Africa	Eastern Africa	2015
69	Ethiopia	7.60	7,552	Africa	Eastern Africa	2015
70	Grenada	7.52	8	Americas	Caribbean	2014
71	Kiribati	7.50	8	Oceania	Micronesia	2012
72	Eritrea	7.48	390	Africa	Eastern Africa	2015
73	Senegal	7.30	1,105	Africa	Western Africa	2015
74	Mongolia	7.23	214	Asia	Eastern Asia	2015
75	Peru	7.18	2,247	Americas	South America	2015
76	Tanzania	7.03	3,746	Africa	Eastern Africa	2015
77	Laos	6.87	667	Asia	South-Eastern Asia	2015
78	Djibouti	6.77	60	Africa	Eastern Africa	2015
79	Zimbabwe	6.74	981	Africa	Eastern Africa	2012
80	Yemen	6.67	1,703	Asia	Western Asia	2013
81	Turks and Caicos Islands (UK)	6.43	2	Americas	Caribbean	2009
82	Afghanistan	6.35	1,948	Asia	Southern Asia	2012	notes
83	Argentina	6.33	2,837	Americas	South America	2015
84	Sudan	6.45	2,596	Africa	Northern Africa	2015	notes
85	Bermuda (UK)	6.45	6	Americas	Northern America	2015
86	Benin	6.01	954	Africa	Western Africa	2015
87	Lithuania	5.98	172	Europe	Northern Europe	2015
88	Mayotte (France)	5.93	12	Africa	Eastern Africa	2009
89	Cameroon	5.93	1,385	Africa	Middle Africa	2015
90	Zambia	5.85	954	Africa	Eastern Africa	2010
91	Kenya	5.75	2,648	Africa	Eastern Africa	2015
92	Somalia	5.56	599	Africa	Eastern Africa	2015	notes
93	Kyrgyzstan	5.12	504	Asia	Central Asia	2015
94	United States	4.88	15,696	Americas	Northern America	2015
95	Kazakhstan	4.84	953	Asia	Central Asia	2015
96	Cuba	4.72	534	Americas	Caribbean	2011
97	Marshall Islands	4.68	2	Oceania	Micronesia	2013
98	Micronesia, Fed. Sts.	4.67	5	Oceania	Micronesia	2015
99	Rwanda	4.51	900	Africa	Eastern Africa	2013
100	Niger	4.47	788	Africa	Western Africa	2012
101	North Korea	4.41	1,110	Asia	Eastern Asia	2015
102	Ukraine	4.38	1,988	Europe	Eastern Europe	2010
103	Turkey	4.30	3,216	Asia	Western Asia	2012
104	Georgia	4.29	225	Asia	Central Asia	2015
105	Azerbaijan	4.28	225	Asia	Central Asia	2015
106	Latvia	4.11	81	Europe	Northern Europe	2015
107	Burundi	4.03	436	Africa	Eastern Africa	2014
108	Lebanon	3.85	273	Asia	Western Asia	2015

Dumbfuck Elon Musk Loses Satellite That Cost BILLIONS OF TAXPAYER DOLLARS in Outer Space!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

Zuma satellite from @northrop-grumman may be dead in orbit after separation from @SpaceX Falcon 9, sources say. Info black-out renders any conclusion—launcher issue? Satellite-only issue? —impossible to draw. pic.twitter.com/KggCGNC5Si

— Peter B. de Selding (@pbdes) January 8, 2018

How stupid is this dumb sonovabitch?

RT:

The highly classified and expensive government satellite launched by a SpaceX Falcon 9 rocket from Cape Canaveral has reportedly been destroyed. SpaceX isn't commenting on the allegedly failed mission, however.

Despite the launch being shrouded in secrecy, SpaceX seemed to have successfully carried a mysterious government satellite from Cape Canaveral Air Force Station in Florida on Sunday. SpaceX was able to land the booster's first stage, while the second stage continued to carry the secretive Zuma payload to its destination in low-orbit.

SpaceX has now landed Falcon 9 boosters a total of 21 times. However, SpaceX never officially confirmed the success of the mission.

On Monday, lawmakers were informed that the mission was “a total loss” and the payload plummeted back into the atmosphere when it failed to detach from the rocket, sources told the Wall Street Journal.

While the details are unknown, reports said the payload failed to detach from the second stage properly. The Zuma satellite was attached to the second stage of the Falcon 9 rocket, which is designed to fall back to Earth and burn up in reentry.

Sources also told TechCrunch and Ars Technica that the payload fell back to Earth attached to the second stage of the Falcon 9.

On Monday, Peter de Selding, the editor of Space Intel Report, cited sources who told him that the satellite “may be dead in orbit” after it separated from the SpaceX rocket.

Aerospace and defense company Northrop Grumman was contracted by the government to build the satellite, which the Wall Street Journal said was worth billions of dollars. Northrop Grumman then selected SpaceX as the launch provider.

Why does the government of the United States keep paying this fraud to waste our money?

It is absolutely absurd.

Musk is a bottomless pit that the government just dumps money down. And they feel no need to explain it, because it isn't their money. But come on—imagine the things you could waste money on, other than this weird faggot with his autistic stare?

Does he even actually have autism, or does he fake that stare because he thinks it makes him look like a deep thinker? Because that would be worse than having actual autism.

I seriously cannot believe this is still happening. This guy has two massive companies which are designed exclusively to get contracts from the US government and waste all the money.

People don't understand that yes, public-private partnerships are a good idea, but you have to have some form of intelligent oversight going on. And you don't just keep dumping piles of money at the feet of a guy who has literally never accomplished a single thing in his entire life.

DS

Memofesto Author James Damore is Suing Google for Discrimination Against White Men!

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

James Damore, famous for being fired over a Google memo critical of feminism and the company's diversity initiatives, has filed a discrimination lawsuit through his attorney Harmeet Dhillon.

Many former and current Google employees have contributed information to the lawsuit, which you can read in full here.

The facts are bizarre and disturbing. This is unique insight into the kind of world the Jews who run this global Zionist monopoly are trying to build.

Damore's “memo” came after a diversity summit, where Google managers solicited opinions from employees. When Damore gave his actual opinion, he was terminated.

Here are some highlights:

1) If you're white and male, Google makes sure to constantly remind you that they hate you.

“Not only was the numerical presence of women celebrated at Google solely due to their gender, but the presence of Caucasians and males was mocked with ‘boos’ during company wide weekly meetings.”

“Damore, Gudeman, and other class members were ostracized, belittled, and punished for their heterodox political views, and for the added sin of their birth circumstances being Caucasians and/or males.”

“Dozens of other employees joined the conversation to insult and belittle the Caucasian male, characterizing his concerns about workplace discrimination as ‘stupid goddamn devil's advocate bullshit.’ This received hundreds of upvotes from other Googlers showing their approval.”

2) Google has Maoist China style ideological training seminars, and then asks you to regurgitate what you just heard if you want to keep your job.

“In or about June 2017, Damore attended a ‘Diversity and Inclusion Summit’ (‘Summit’) conducted by Google at the Mountain View campus. Approximately 100 employees attended this event. Damore felt pressured to attend the event because Google proclaims ‘commitment to diversity and inclusion’ to be an important factor in deciding promotion to leadership positions. Due to his excellent work performance, Damore was on the path to a leadership position at Google before his abrupt termination."

"The Summit covered general topics such as how Google could increase its diversity. Specifically the Google presenters went through some of their policies that were designed to accomplish this such as treating preferred categories of people (women, certain but not all ethnic minority groups) differently during the hiring process by providing extra interviews, and putting applicants into a more welcoming environment based on their race or gender. The Google presenters also discussed putting "diverse" individuals into high priority queues so that they were more likely to be hired, and hired faster.

"At the end of the program, the Google presenters specifically asked employee attendees to give written feedback on the program. This prompted Damore to draft a memorandum entitled "Google's Ideological Echo Chamber."

3) Google's management team will call for violence against your person if you have a non J-left political opinion.

"On August 3, 2017 George Sadlier, a Director at Google, sent out a mass email condemning James' essay as "repulsive and intellectually dishonest" and promising an HR investigation into Damore. Sadlier also promoted posts that advocated for physical violence against Damore. Subsequently, on Friday, August 4, 2017, Damore received a late-night email from Alex Hidalgo, a Site Reliability Engineer at Google in Sadlier's organization, which stated, "You're a misogynist and a terrible person. I will keep hounding you until one of us is fired. Fuck you."

4) Google gave bonuses to people for arguing against Damore's memo.

"In one example of this, an employee gave a Peer Bonus to another employee, and stated that the bonus was for "speaking up for googley values and promoting [diversity and inclusion] in the wretched hive of scum and villainy that is [Damore's Memo]." The Google Recognition Team reviewed this justification, considered it appropriate, and allowed the bonus to proceed.

5) Numerous "Corporate Antifas" (too funny) not only work at Google, but openly display the paramilitary group's symbol on their profiles.

"Upon information and belief, Google never made any such comments regarding posts supporting the violent vigilante organization, Antifa, or other extreme leftist/anarchist organizations. In fact, a large number of Googlers have set their corporate profile pictures to Antifa insignias, as seen in the image below."

6) Google managers kept "blacklists" of employees they thought might support Donald Trump.

"Kim Burchett ("Burchett"), a L7 SWE Manager, proposed creating an online companywide blacklist of political conservatives inside Google. She was kind enough to suggest to her readership that they might deserve "something resembling a trial" before being added.

"The primary purpose of these blacklists and suggested blacklists was to encourage and coordinate the sabotage of promotions, performance reviews, and employment opportunities for those with conservative viewpoints."

7) Google actively promotes every kind of sexual depravity, while demonizing normal heterosexuals.

"Google furnishes a large number of internal mailing lists catering to employees with alternative lifestyles, including furies, polygamy, transgenderism, and plurality discussing sexual topics," reads the complaint.

(Note the use of the term transgenderism, which, well, isn't how anybody in 2018 should be talking about the transgender community.) "The only lifestyle that seems to not be openly discussed on Google's internal forums is traditional heterosexual monogamy." This section of the complaint also references a presentation from an employee who identifies as "a yellow-scaled wingless dragonkin" and another who identifies as "an expansive ornate building."

This is some pretty disturbing stuff. Just a reminder that this isn't a Berkeley marijuana commune run by (((The Weather Underground))), this is one of the most powerful multi-national corporations on the planet, buying up our politicians and influencing the world's culture.

The tactics described here are not run of the mill "liberalism," they are methods perfected by Jewish Bolshevik torturers in 1920s Russia.

Literal "corporate Antifa" are alleged to run the show here. Welcome to Weimerica: it's (((Emma Goldman))) and (((Theo Adorno))) anti-white ideology imposed by robber-baron businessmen.

The employees themselves are cult-members spouting Jewish platitudes in hopes of a "peer bonus" or promotion.

How this lawsuit is decided will have important cultural ramifications. This is Jewish power on steroids.

DS

Ex-NSA Employee Builds Antifa AI to Hunt Down Thought Crime Faster on Social Media

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

A former (?) National Security Agency employee who violated the rights and privacy of Americans for pay is now an Antifa member targeting white political dissidents.

“Emily Crose,” a transsexual nutcase, claims to be building a sophisticated artificial intelligence system that will rapidly and thoroughly purge Twitter, Facebook and Reddit of political opinions that this individual who nobody elected arbitrarily decides should be shut down.

The technology the US government trained this person in is extremely dangerous, as Crose admits.

The NSA is already mostly unaccounted for, so who’s going to tell a self-selected mentally ill identity-Marxist with no ethics or respect for liberty what to do? Especially if they team up with mega-plutocrats like Zuck and the Google Jews.

“This technology is riddled with surveillance and privacy issues!”

You’re absolutely right.

Actually, this is the most frightening part of #Nemesis if I’m being honest with you.

— ■■■■■ ■ (@emilymaxima) January 7, 2018

Vice:

In August of this year, a white supremacist plowed through a crowd of protesters gathered in downtown Charlottesville, Virginia. The attack injured around 20 people and killed 32-year-old Heather Heyer. The violent clashes that weekend shocked Americans, among them Emily Crose, who wanted to be there to protest against the white supremacists but couldn’t make it. A friend of hers was there, and was attacked and hurt by neo-Nazis.

Crose is a former NSA analyst and ex-Reddit moderator who now works at a cybersecurity startup. Inspired by her friend’s courage, and horrified by the events in Charlottesville, Crose now spends her free time teaching an AI how to automatically spot Nazi symbols in pictures spread online, be it on Twitter, Reddit, or Facebook.

Wanting to use her expertise to help expose ideologies like those seen in Charlottesville, she started this project, which she calls NEMESIS.

Crose’s motivation is to expose white nationalists who use more or less obscure, mundane, or abstract symbols—or so-called dog whistles—in their posts, such as the Black Sun and certain Pepe the frog memes. Crose’s goal is not only to expose people who use these symbols online but hopefully also push the social media companies to clamp down on hateful rhetoric online.

“The real goal is to educate people,” Crose told me in a phone call. “And a secondary goal: I’d really like to get the social media platforms to start thinking how they can enforce some decency on their own platforms, a certain level of decorum.”

“I’m not one of these people who’s going to be OK with apathetically standing by and watching people turn to an ideology that’s probably dangerous,” she added.

America is on track to become the most oppressive and tyrannical country the world has ever known.

Prepare for a future with mandatory Alexas in every home, with a tranny listening in on all your dinner table conversations, not to mention purging the internet of anything that isn’t porn, BuzzFeed or cat videos. But hey, it will make shopping with your Universal Basic Income convenient, do that instead rootless, androgynous, raceless goyim.

The only solution to the USA right now is to organize politically and stop these psychopaths.

People with ideologies like Emily Crose can’t have a political debate because we’re right and they’re wrong, and they know it. Look at how easy it was for Richard Spencer to slap Sargon’s man-titties in front of thousands, just imagine a sexual deviant who feels entitled to control other people’s thoughts!

The only solution for Jews and their lackeys is establishing full surveillance of men, white people, nationalists, etc., and accompanying it with a long menu of punishments. Eventually, as backlash to this increases, torture and executions will be back on the table.

They didn’t need it before because the Goyim didn’t know. Now that people are waking up, the lie that America is a free country is quickly unraveling.

DS

Bundy Case Dismissed, Judge Bans Government from Refiling

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

The basic fact of this particular matter is that the FBI was involved in a criminal conspiracy. Obviously, the Bundy ranchers violated a number of existing laws, and they could be punished for that, but they won't be because of the illegal actions by the FBI.

But we're supposed to continue to trust the FBI in their other dealings, which include a conspiracy against Donald Trump.

RT:

Nevada rancher Cliven Bundy and his sons were released by a federal judge in Las Vegas, after she dismissed with prejudice all charges against them. Prosecutors' failure to disclose evidence had led to a mistrial.

US District Court Judge Gloria Navarro ruled Monday that the government committed "flagrant prosecutorial misconduct" in the process against Bundy and his sons in relation to the 2014 armed standoff with federal agents over grazing rights.

Federal prosecutors willingly withheld evidence from defense attorneys, violating the Brady rule, Navarro said. She dismissed all charges against the Bundys and their co-defendant Ryan Payne "with prejudice," meaning that the government will not be able to prosecute the case again.

"A universal sense of justice was violated," Navarro said, according to the Los Angeles Times.

On December 21, Navarro declared a mistrial, finding the prosecutors in violation of the defendants' due process rights. The government refused to turn over FBI memos and other documentation until after the October 1 deadline and repeated requests from the defense counsel, the judge said.

Bundy, 71, and his sons were charged with a total of 15 counts of criminal conspiracy and other violations following the confrontation with federal agents in April 2014. Agents with the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) descended on Bundy's ranch that month and began to round up his cattle, saying he had failed to pay grazing fees for 20 years. On April 12, hundreds of armed supporters arrived at Bundy's ranch, leading to the standoff with federal authorities. Outnumbered government agents soon retreated from the property. No shots were fired.

The situation calmed down after Clark County Sheriff Doug Gillespie negotiated with Bundy and newly confirmed BLM Director Neil Kornze.

An 18-page memo written by BLM Special Agent Larry C Wooten, leaked last month, described nearly three years of misconduct by the agency in investigating the 2014 standoff, according to the Las Vegas-based KSNV.

"I routinely observed, and the investigation revealed a widespread pattern of bad judgment, lack of discipline, incredible bias, unprofessionalism and misconduct," Wooten wrote to Associate Deputy Attorney General Andrew Goldsmith, "as well as likely policy, ethical, and legal violations among senior and supervisory staff at the BLM's Office of Law Enforcement and Security."

In January 2016, Bundy's sons Ammon, 42, and Ryan, 44, led a group of armed activists in "occupying" a wildlife refuge in Oregon for 41 days, after federal authorities ordered two local ranchers to serve time in prison over a brushfire that damaged federal property. One of the occupiers was shot and killed by authorities. The Bundys were charged with a number of felonies, but were acquitted by a jury in October 2016.

That particular behavior—the occupation of government property with weapons—was also flagrantly illegal, but they got off because the feds decided to randomly murder one of them.

Federal law enforcement is absurdly corrupt. And that is a very rough place for a country to be in. The core foundation of the Western civilizational order is the rule of law. When that is gone, it's only a matter of time before everything else collapses along with it.

Honestly, I don't agree with the way the Bundys acted at all. We absolutely should not have people engaged in armed standoffs with the cops—at least not over "grazing rights." Admittedly, I don't understand the foundations of their particular qualms, but I think that responding to bureaucracy by pointing rifles at cops is not something that should be going on in the modern world.

The definitions of public land and who is allowed to use it should be defined in court, in any functioning system.

The whole incident was surreal, as if these people were all LARPing as if they were in a John Wayne movie.

As Mormons, the Bundys believed that Elohim gave them a divine right to graze their cattle, which adds another layer of surreal weirdness to the situation.

But clearly on a practical level, whatever these people's issue was—even if it was as simple as a multi-millionaire refusing to pay taxes—the outcome of exposing the feds as utterly corrupt is a positive outcome.

DS

Fire at Trump Tower!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

Video Link

There is no information about this yet.

And there probably won't ever be.

But I'm just going to say right now: an electrical fire would be a weird coincidence.

The Guardian:

The New York fire department responded to a blaze at Trump Tower on Monday morning. News footage showed firefighters on the roof of the skyscraper, at East 57th Street and Fifth Avenue in Manhattan.

The fire was minor and likely caused by an electrical fault, the fire department told local media, which said the blaze was reported just before 7am ET.

Smoke billowed from one corner of the high-rise for a while before most of it dissipated. About 84 firefighters were at the scene initially. A few remained on the roof about an hour later.

There was no immediate report of injuries or evacuations, or what caused the fire.

It is in all likelihood just a coincidence.

But it is a very weird one.

DS

NPI Employee Doxed and Fired From Substitute Teacher Job by Witch-Hunting Sluts!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

Video Link

Dear Jews: Just imagine all the Alt-Right teachers that you haven't and won't ever catch.

There are millions of young white men who believe what we believe, and all you have done by persecuting us is make it so you generally have no idea who and where we are. You cannot control people's thoughts by making those thoughts a fireable offense.

NY Daily News:

A Catholic school substitute teacher in Maryland was fired after his students exposed his "alt-right" views online.

Students at the all-girl Academy of the Holy Cross in Kensington first discovered Gregory Conte's personal Twitter account which showed his white nationalist views, according to WTTG-TV.

The school's ex-field hockey coach used the name "Gregory Ritter" on Twitter, and his account description said he's the director of operations at the National Policy Institute, which white supremacist Richard Spencer runs.

Links to "Alt-Right Politics" podcasts on altright.com are often shared on his page as well.

Conte's students also found footage of him attending the "Unite the Right" rally in Charlottesville, Va., last summer, according to Fox News.

The school knew about his "alt-right" views in October when he was fired, WTTG reported, but didn't say why it waited until January to inform parents.

Last week, the school sent letters to parents informing them about Conte's firing and saying his views didn't impact the students.

Now see. This is the problem with sluts. They will witch-hunt you.

Women are obsessed with the status quo and enforcing it.

Anyway. This interview was pretty epic. Dude is smoking a cigar and brings up Arabic Hitler translations and the Roman Empire before dismounting on a neg.

At least Greg has a job at NPI, meaning he won't suffer too much losing his normie job. It's more difficult for most people, as the actual paying jobs in the Alt-Right are few and far between.

This is one of the reasons that I think the core focus of the movement needs to be on information-related activism at this point in time. A lot of people got fired for Charlottesville. A lot of people went to jail. Some of the people who have been fired have done GoFundMes. But how many people can the movement afford to pay unemployment for?

We are winning in the sphere of information activism. Everyday, we are adding people to our ranks.

Charlottesville was necessary. We made a splash and got the entire world talking about us. But I personally do not think there is a need to repeat that. Real life activities should relate to community building and activism that can be done without risking having your face filmed. Because most people need to have a job.

DS

Jake Tapper has to Have Stephen Miller Removed From the Show Due to Humiliation

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

WATCH: @jaketapper gets destroyed in an interview on his own show by White House advisor Stephen Miller. It was so bad, @CNN had to cut it off! pic.twitter.com/TFOzugFaYT

— ALX | (@TheALX) January 7, 2018

Self-hating Jew Stephen Miller did a good job against his self-loving kinsman Jake Tapper.

Honestly, I have never yet seen Miller do anything Jewish.

But I've got my eye on him.

NY Daily News:

White House senior adviser Stephen Miller was booted from the set of CNN's "State of the Union" when he refused to leave after his fiery interview with Jake Tapper ended.

Miller spent the tense Sunday morning segment bashing former mentor Steve Bannon while defending President Trump as a "political genius" in the heated interview.

Tapper brought the interview to an abrupt stop after the pair got into a heated argument with both cutting each other off and launching personal attacks.

The confrontation continued after the segment when Miller refused to leave the set, despite repeated requests to leave, a CNN source said.

"The segment was over and Mr. Miller was politely asked to leave the set multiple times—after refusing to leave, he was escorted out by security," the source said in an email.

The policy aide's remarks during the show come amid backlash from author Michael Wolff's book, "Fire and Fury: Inside the Trump White House," in which Bannon trashed fellow members of the President's inner circle.

"It's tragic and unfortunate that Steve would make these grotesque comments so out of touch with reality, and obviously so vindictive," Miller said Sunday in an oftentimes tense interview that was eventually cut short by host Jake Tapper.

Clearly, the reason Tapper got so mad with Miller is because he's Jewish. Tapper views him as a race-traitor. I have never seen a TV interviewer break down like this.

The only thing that could have made this interview better would be if Jake had called Stephen "a traitor to his people."

DS

Steve Bannon Attempting to Walk-Back Inflammatory Comments

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

I have already said I think he must have been drunk when he made these statements, because even if he wanted to say them, why would he say them to a book author instead of the press directly?

CNN:

Former White House chief strategist Steve Bannon said Sunday he regretted not responding sooner to comments attributed to him that were critical of Donald Trump Jr. in an explosive new book on the White House.

"Donald Trump, Jr. is both a patriot and a good man," read Bannon's statement, which CNN obtained Sunday from a source close to Bannon. "He has been relentless in his advocacy for his father and the agenda that has helped turn our country around."

The statement later adds: "I regret that my delay in responding to the inaccurate reporting regarding Don Jr has diverted attention from the president's historical accomplishments in the first year of (Trump's) presidency."

Along with the above statements made to Axios, he released a media statement saying he was actually talking about Paul Manafort when he said "treason."

The Guardian:

The Guardian revealed last week that Bannon, formerly Trump's chief strategist, said a Trump Tower meeting between Trump Jr and Russians during the 2016 presidential election campaign was "treasonous" and "unpatriotic".

In his statement given to the Guardian and other outlets on Sunday, Bannon did not apologise for any of his remarks to the author Michael Wolff, which included strident criticisms of the president's daughter, Ivanka Trump—whom he called "dumb as a brick"—and her husband, Jared Kushner.

But he said he should have been quicker to clarify that his remarks about the June 2016 meeting in Trump Tower referred to Trump's then campaign chairman, who was also present.

"My comments were aimed at Paul Manafort, a seasoned campaign professional with experience and knowledge of how the Russians operate," Bannon said. "He should have known they are duplicitous, cunning and not our friends. To reiterate, those comments were not aimed at Don Jr."

This is pretty garbled. Apparently he is saying he was misquoted? As in, words that he did not say were attributed to him?

If that was the case why didn't he immediately come out with the statement?

The White House is saying Steve will never be invited back into confidence.

The Hill:

A White House official told Politico that it was "unlikely" Stephen Bannon would return to his former status in President Trump's circle after Bannon released a statement reiterating his support for Trump.

Bannon called Donald Trump Jr. a "patriot" and a "good man" in a statement earlier Sunday, adding that he regretted not addressing comments attributed to him in a new bombshell book about Trump's White House.

However, Politico reported that several Trump administration officials said the statement did not change the views of Bannon by those close to Trump.

Bannon said in the statement that his support for Trump was "unwavering" and that "President Trump was the only candidate that could have taken on and defeated the Clinton apparatus."

Trump releasing a blistering statement claiming that Bannon "lost his mind" after the comments attributed to Bannon first emerged.

The former chief strategist is quoted in Michael Wolff's "Fire and Fury: Inside the Trump White House" as saying the Trump Tower meeting between Donald Trump Jr. and a Russian lawyer was "treasonous."

"They're going to crack Don Junior like an egg on national TV," Bannon says in the book.

I think it's fair enough to dump the guy.

The question now is whether or not Breitbart will dump him, and I think that if they are able, they will.

It's all very sad. I don't understand why someone would destroy their career and their legacy this way.

I guess the lesson is: if you're totally plastered, go home. Don't talk to reporters you may pass on your way home.

DS

NYC's JFK Airport Flooded as Travelers Rage and Airplanes Crash!

Lee Rogers
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

Video Link

People who have not traveled outside of the United States probably don't have much of an appreciation for how horrible our airports are. I've done a fair amount of travel and this country has a number of major cities that are served by airports that are entirely inadequate for the 21st century.

New York City is one of the primary examples. Both JFK and LaGuardia, the two major airports that serve the city, needed an overhaul 30 years ago.

With that said, it was not a surprise to see how the bomb cyclone storm that hit the region a few days ago ended up causing all sorts of chaos at JFK. If things aren't handled 100 percent perfectly at these airports, you are going to have major problems. This is what happens when you have a combination of dated infrastructure and a workforce that is becoming increasingly third world.

Let's review some of the chaos.

For starters, you had two planes that collided with one another on the runway.

CBS:

It was a rough morning at New York City's John F. Kennedy International Airport Saturday, after two planes clipped one another and passengers nearby complained of extensive delays and seemingly endless taxiing in the wake of this week's winter blast, CBS New York reports.

The Port Authority Police Benevolent Association said the right wing tip of a China Southern aircraft struck the tail end of a Kuwait Airways plane, causing damage to both aircrafts near Terminal 4 around midnight.

Officials said passengers aboard the Kuwait Airways aircraft were deplaned without incident. The China Southern 777 had no passengers on board at the time of the collision, according to the Port Authority.

Travelers who were stranded at the airport for the past couple of days started to get into fights prompting police to intervene. And if that wasn't bad enough, a pipe burst causing one of the terminals to flood.

Daily Mail:

Police were called in to break up "disturbances" caused by furious passengers who have been stranded at the John F Kennedy International for nearly two days as a terminal is evacuated due to flooding.

A portion of JFK was evacuated around 1.30pm on Sunday due to a massive water break. The water rose quickly as passengers fled the terminal.

Video and photos showed dozens of suitcases on the floor of the terminal as water spewed from the ceiling and onto computers and other technology in a arrivals area.

Airport employees were seen desperately trying to clean up the area.

The airport has been rife with chaos for the past weekend as many passengers remained stranded from canceled or delayed flights from Thursday's "bomb cyclone" snowstorm.

JFK Terminal 4 is experiencing a slight flood as the result of a broken water main. Many flights may be slightly delayed as a result. pic.twitter.com/QQooTVLogk

— Ray [REDACTED] (@rayjwatson) January 7, 2018

The Port Authority has said that they're launching an investigation as to what caused the water pipe break. If I had to guess, it was probably a non-White laborer that decided not to install weather protection on the pipe.

Port Authority launches investigation into water pipe break at @JFKairport. <https://t.co/jOZVppTdAN> pic.twitter.com/qgYb8xgrx2

— Port Authority NY&NJ (@PA-NYNJ) January 8, 2018

I get that we've had some fairly extreme weather in the Northeastern part of the United States, but what's happening at the JFK airport should be an embarrassment to all Americans. There should not be this amount of dysfunction at an airport that is supposed to serve the largest city in the country. It's a totally unacceptable situation.

While the boomer generation focused their energies on fighting endless wars for Jews and flooding our country with subhuman filth in the name of diversity, the nation's infrastructure has decayed into ruin. This story is just another example showing how things have been neglected. It's literally going to take many years and trillions of dollars to fix all of the infrastructure issues we have in our country. We've inherited a disaster.

DS

Crazed Antifa Bitch Ordered to Pay $11,000 for Filing Frivolous Restraining Order

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 7, 2018

You all remember this bitch. Good to see her losing. Breitbart:

A court in California has ordered Antifa organizer Yvette Felarca to pay $11,000 after she filed a frivolous restraining order against former Berkeley College Republicans President Troy Worden.

In 2017, Antifa organizer Yvette Felarca filed a restraining order against former UC Berkeley College Republican president Troy Worden, citing two alleged incidents of harassment. Worden's attorney alleges that Felarca made up two false accusations of harassment against him. He claims that Felarca used two incidents in which Worden made eye contact with her on campus as a basis for the restraining order.

Now, a California court has ordered Felarca to pay a $11,000 fine for filing a frivolous lawsuit. The funds will go directly to covering Worden's attorney fees. In a press release, attorney Harmeet Dhillon suggested that the fine signals that Antifa can't use the courts to silence their political opponents. "Felarca and her fellow travelers in BAMN [By Any Means Necessary]/Antifa need to learn that the California courts are not their personal plaything to use and abuse at will by filing baseless and vexatious lawsuits," she said in the release.

"By ruling that she did not demonstrate good faith in filing the restraining order, the court recognized the frivolous nature of Felarca's actions," Worden's attorney, Mark Meuser, added. "The award of attorney fees should send a strong signal that she cannot abuse the court system to silence speech."

I had predicted that the establishment would back off of pushing Antifa, because they got so visible and so intensely disliked.

But then the second in command of the Democrat Party posted that selfie the other day of the handbook for shutting speech down using violence.

At @MoonPalaceBooks and I just found the book that strike fear in the heart of @realDonaldTrump pic.twitter.com/r81nYoeqPL

— Rep. Keith Ellison (@keithellison) January 3, 2018

I think it's a balancing act, where they have to support it enough to keep these idiot guilt-ridden kids out there engaged in it, but also have to have some form of plausible deniability.

They must know that white male membership in these groups is not sustainable indefinitely, as the culture shifts and the humorlessness of the left becomes so uncool that a young person wouldn't be caught dead in a black hoodie. Sure, they can have Jews organizing mixed-race people, but then you have the clear impression of open race war when you see these attacks, which is not the look that they're going for—the entire concept of antifa is “white traitors who want to give their country away” —otherwise they can just use BLM for their political violence.

DS

Jewish Problem

Group of American Jews Complaining About Israel Deporting Blacks

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

I don't know if this is a case of Jews believing their own propaganda or of American Jews not wanting to deal with the backlash of Israel's behavior. Probably it is both, to some degree.

It's very funny, whatever the mechanism behind it is.

JTA:

Yikealo Beyene's story is—up to a point—perfect feel-good fodder for a Saturday morning talk at synagogue.

As a refugee from Eritrea, he read Anne Frank's diary in his native tongue and translated it, teaching the tale to kids in an Ethiopian refugee camp. He sought out Israel for the refuge it promised and can't stop talking about the kindnesses that Israelis afforded him once he arrived. He lived in Israel for eight years, earning bachelor's and master's degrees, and is now living in Seattle, a leader of his community.

But Beyene's story, which he related in a speech on Shabbat morning at Ohev Shalom, an Orthodox synagogue here known for its politically involved congregation, hit a bump toward the end. That's when he brought up his mission, backed by the New York-based philanthropist Joey Low, to stop Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's government from deporting or jailing tens of thousands of refugees from Africa.

"I now consider Israel as my second home and I feel dutiful to defend it," he said. "Now if I stop my speech here, I would be a bit dishonest."

Some 60,000 African migrants entered Israel prior to the construction of a barrier on its southern border with the Sinai in 2012. Israel, which considers them economic migrants, not refugees from persecution, until now has encouraged the Africans to leave by handing them cash—generally about $3,500—and a plane ticket. About 20,000 have taken the offer, leaving nearly 40,000 in Israel, most living freely.

This month, Netanyahu said those who do not take the deportation offer face jail. Rwanda and Uganda reportedly are the likeliest destinations for deportees, though both governments deny it.

In recent years the refugees have made their way to Israel from various countries, including Sudan, Eritrea and Somalia.

"As much as I love Israel, I do not want to conceal how deeply concerned I am about the recent move by the government to expel African refugees and asylum seekers in Israel to Rwanda," said Beyene, 33. (The event was on the record but on Shabbat, so no recording or note-taking was permitted. A JTA reporter was present and given a copy of Beyene's prepared remarks.)

Low, an investor who has donated millions of dollars to Israeli causes over the years, says convincing American Jews to pressure Israel on the issue is a long shot—but he is determined to try.

"My heart is in Israel," said Low, who spends several months a year in the country and has invested in startups there.

It's especially painful, he says, considering that the philanthropy he founded has given millions of dollars to Israel at Heart, an NGO that sends young Israelis around the world to improve the country's image.

"You can't do something like this in the name of Jews and Israel," Low said of the deportations.

Honestly, I want to see Israel deport these people—or better yet keep them in camps.

It is a basic-bitch nationalist point that Jews push immigration onto we, the goyim, while interning and deporting brown people in their own country, but it is one that is very easy to explain to people who are not #Jwoke.

Virtually everyone pushing for immigration in the West is Jewish, they claim that we have to have it or we are evil, but they won't allow it in their own country. That is a powerful fact to people who don't already know what we know.

Anyway, these American Jews are not going to have any impact on Israeli policy. That just is not happening.

DS

Kike Weinstein Gets Slapped Across His Bulbous Jew Face!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

Video Link

Harvey Weinstein was visiting Scottsdale, Arizona and was approached by an angry patron who slapped him across his kike mouth for his behavior towards shiksa women.

Personally, I don't really feel bad for these whores, so those are not the words I would use if I was going to slap Harvey Weinstein. I would probably be like “fuck you fat bitch, this is for insulting Adolf Hitler you rat kikel!”

I mean, he is defiling our women, and that should bring shame on us, but we have to be defending them as our property, not defending a whore's honor.

Whatever the case: it is a truly great thing that this kike cannot go out in public without being confronted by angry, angry goyim.

There is one place you can go where you won't have to deal with this, Harvey.

DS

Jewish Federal Judge Blocks Deportation of 1,400 Iraqi Criminals and Demands They be Released

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

Federal Judge Mark Goldsmith has blocked the Department of Justice's move to deport 1,400 Iraqi nationals convicted of crimes—including rape and murder—and is demanding they be released back into the public.

There is no legal precedent or Constitutional justification for this decision other than the fact that Goldsmith is a Jew with a gavel so he can do whatever he wants.

Even most white liberals think going out of your way to keep deportable killers and child molesters in our country is going too far.

According to public record, Mr. Goldsmith was a board member at the Anti-Defamation League. How membership in this openly anti-white Israeli espionage network doesn't automatically disqualify you from becoming a federal judge is a testament to how corrupt and broken our government is.

AP:

The U.S. Justice Department is asking for more time to comply with an order that would likely lead to the release of hundreds of Iraqi nationals who are under deportation orders.

In a court filing Wednesday, the government says it can't schedule bond hearings by Feb. 2 without delaying hearings for others who are not part of the case. It wants 30 more days to comply with a decision by Detroit federal Judge Mark Goldsmith.

Goldsmith has blocked the deportation of 1,400 Iraqi nationals with criminal records so they can challenge their removal. Nearly 300 are jailed or in U.S. detention centers in about two dozen states.

Jews in America calibrate and utilize their power to inflict the maximum amount of damage possible. There is no other explanation.

It goes without saying that no card-carrying member of the ADL would even dream of cutting loose 1,400 Iraqi alien criminals in Israel. The fact that they do it to us exposes criminal intent and malevolence.

Any time you hear a Breit-Right retard praising Israel and Zionism, show him what the Zionists think of whites and America. Judge Goldsmith is one of millions.

DS

Welsh Bishop Orders Flock to Celebrate Holocaust Day

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

Exactly six bajillion kikes were steamed to death by Adolf Hitler.

Oh boy.

We've got another Holocaust Day coming up here, people.

Time to beg forgiveness from the Jews because people who are genetically similar to you allegedly steamed a bunch of rat kikes to death in steam chambers.

Anglican News:

The Primate of the Church in Wales, Archbishop John Davies, is encouraging churches, parishes and chaplaincies to mark Holocaust Memorial Day on 27 January.

Internationally, Holocaust Memorial Day is held on the anniversary of the 1945 liberation of Auschwitz-Birkenau by the Red Army. In the UK, the day not only commemorates the Holocaust of the Jewish people at the time of World War Two, but subsequent genocides in Cambodia, Rwanda, Bosnia and Darfur. It is a day on which the victims are remembered; as well as an opportunity for the living to learn lessons for the future.

“The Holocaust is certainly one of the most vile and shameful examples from the catalogue of events which disfigure the history of the human race,” Archbishop John, the Bishop of Swansea and Brecon, said. “Commemorating both it and its victims, whilst also recognising the terrifying perversity of those human minds which enabled such an atrocity to be devised and implemented is something which I wholeheartedly support.

“The persecution of any individual or group of human beings because of their race, religion or ethnic origin can never be justified. Remembering the Nazi’s attempt, by means of genocide, to mercilessly extinguish the very existence of such a group of people from certain parts of Europe is to recall events that must continue to be brought to mind in all their detail and in all their horror. The commemoration is not only appropriate, it is essential, because those events must never be forgotten.”

What about persecuting a group of human beings because of their behavior?

Can that be justified?

Archbishop John will attend the Welsh National Ceremony in Cardiff City Hall, on Monday 29th January, and give a blessing at the end. Those attending the ceremony will hear from Lady Milena Grenfell-Baines, a Holocaust survivor, and Dr Mukesh Kapila, a former British government advisor on international aid who was part of the first British team to go to Rwanda after the genocide there; and who also worked in Bosnia where he witnessed the aftermath of the genocide in Srebrenica.

The UK theme for Holocaust Memorial Day 2018 is The Power of Words. Its focus will be helping people to reflect on the role words play, both to harm and to heal, to destroy and to build, in society today. Many organisations will be holding events to mark the day, ranging from simple candle-lighting ceremonies to postcard-writing activities, conferences, concerts, plays, reading events and exhibitions.

Yes, of course.

Words.

Right in the middle of the greatest ever crackdown on free speech, when pugs are being sent to jail for sieg heiling on YouTube.

How convenient.

DS

JACKPOT! Jew Jailbait Aficionado James Franco Next on Sexual Harassment Hitlist

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
December 9, 2017

tfw the fem-hounds are at your heels

Let me just start by saying that I really, really hate this kike. He’s in the whole Seth Rogan, stoner-Jew “cool” kid crowd in Hollywood.

Video Link

The highlights reel say it all. His top performances seem to revolve around dick jokes, getting high and being a homo.

Fuck this kike and check out this headline: Golden Globe winner James Franco accused by actresses of inappropriate sexual behavior.

Nice.

NY Daily News:

Actress Violet Paley claimed the actor once sexually assaulted her and tried to lure her 17-year-old friend to his hotel room.

“Cute #TimesUp pin James Franco. Remember the time you pushed my head down in a car towards your exposed penis & that other time you told my friend to come to your hotel when she was 17? After you had already been caught doing that to a different 17 year old?” she wrote on Twitter.

But wait—it gets better:

“Remember a few weeks ago when you told me the full nudity you had me do in two of your movies for $100/day wasn’t exploitative because I signed a contract to do it? Times up on that!” she tweeted. “I 100% did not feel like I had a choice to say no.”

So she basically took money to get naked and regrets doing so. Regular run-of-the-mill stuff for vapid celebrity-chasing whorewoman in America that rank a 7 or up on the looks scale.

Or, you know—a 5...

All of this started because Franco won the Golden Globes award which I think is something like an Oscar, but not as prestigious or awarded by a competing organization of Hollywood kikes. Guess someone got mad that Franco won the award and decided to take him down a notch.

I like this new trend.

The Jews have been pitching White women against White men for decades now, and it is sweet sweet justice to see the crazy, unhinged whores that they've created and empowered start biting them back.

Who knew that the first people to take a giant bite of kike power would be the selfsame that were literally sucking their circumcised dicks just a few years ago?

Skanks have outdone themselves. They've put in a big W for Team Skank and imho earned their place in the history books of the future ethnostate as /our-whores/.

Since whores have been around since time immemorial and whoredom can never really be eradicated, I say that we make lemonade out of lemons and put all these actresses and minor celebs up as role-models for future whores.

We'd say something like:

Slut it up all you want, skanks. Just take down some kikes with you while you're at it and we'll chalk it up as a net benefit for society.

I could honestly see some zealous cultural minister in the future Intergalactic Reich white-washing this part of our history by portraying these women as like Resistance Skanks or something. In bed with the enemy to destroy them. All part of the plan, you know?

I like that narrative. Let's roll with it.

DS

Author of Anti-Trump Book Claims Trump is Aware of Who's Jewish "In a Way That Feels Creepy"

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

Trump has a Nazi personality.

I don't mean that he is ideologically a National Socialist or an anti-Semite. But he has the temperament: he is direct, pragmatic and understands where politics are actually contested (power and passion, not arguments and reason).

Trump's 2016 campaign is far more important than his mediocre (so far) presidency. He demonstrated that an unrelenting, consistent straight-talking personality can beat the Jews.

The author of the new anti-Trump book "Fire and Fury" claims that Trump knows who is Jewish and who isn't, which isn't especially surprising since he is like the only non-Jew billionaire in NYC real estate.

Video Link

The Hill:

Michael Wolff, the author of a new book about President's Trump White House, says Trump has a "creepy" ability to recognize who around him is Jewish.

"I think he's aware of who is Jewish in a way that might give...that feels creepy," Wolff told "MSNBC Live with Katy Tur."

Tur had asked Wolff a series of questions about Trump, including whether or not he believes the president is an anti-Semite. Wolff said "yes" when asked if he believes Trump is sexist and racist.

When you know who is Jewish, you can anticipate their next move.

That's what creeps Jews out.

pic.twitter.com/YmV1v31PH2

— JIMM¥ DOLLAR$ (@Jimmy_Dollars)
January 7, 2018

Trump's ability to perceive Jews is what leads him to engage in unpopular antics like the Syria strike, Israel appeasement or Iran protests. He does this whenever he feels he needs a lull in the perpetual barrage of negative press coverage and Washington sabotage. Most Americans have never seen such a concerted effort to stifle a presidency (at least not since Nixon).

I'm tempted to get black pill on Trump. I don't like any of the legislation the GOP has put through so far. America's foreign policy right now is absolutely horrible neo-con crap, but this isn't 2003. If the US' military presence in Syria moves an inch in any direction it will be obliterated by the rising Iran-Russia-Turkey entente trying to contain ZOG.

Whenever I'm ready to drop him for good, the Don always finds a way to keep his base's plate spinning. He's not doing enough, but is doing the minimum.

DS

Why Can't We Have a Two-State Solution?

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2017

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL UK's Johnson, in Ramallah, urges 2-state sol

UK's Johnson, in Ramallah, urges 2-state solution, says Trump brings fresh approach

Visiting British foreign secretary says peace 'is possible' but settlements and terrorism are obstacles

By AGENCE FRANCE PRESSE
1 March 2017, 11:00 AM GMT+2

British Foreign Secretary Boris Johnson meets with Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas in the West Bank city of Ramallah on March 8, 2017. (AFP PHOTO / APOLLO AGONIA)

When I saw the headline "Boris backs two-state solution," I thought they were talking about dividing up the UK along racial lines.

Actually, I knew it was about Israel. However, whenever I hear a Western politician talking about a two-state solution, I remember the fact that these same people who are calling for our countries to be made into multi-racial warzones/rape-camps are also actively supporting racial segregation for the Jews.

During the campaign, they asked Trump about a two-state solution and he said he might support a one-state solution. The Jews of course flipped out about that, saying that the Palestinians deserve their own state. Well, in a one-state solution—that would be the entire Palestinian territory, including what is now called Israel, becoming a single state—the Palestinians would have their own country, because there are 15 million Palestinians in Israel, the West Bank and Gaza (plus 10 million in Jordan who would probably come back), so they would easily be able to outnumber the Jews in the government and rule as they want to rule.

The Jews were outraged not out of concern for the well-being of Palestinians, but out of fear of being overrun.

But we in America are told that we only have the option of a one-state solution. And if we are arguing that blacks should be separated and given their own land, we are attacked as evil racists. We could of course say "oh but we're just afraid of the blacks being deprived of their right to a state," but no one would believe us because we're not Jews.

All that having been said, I think it is time to integrate the term "two-state solution" into the American political discourse.

DS

The Democrats Want Double the Jewish Women

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

Let's elect:

|Black women
|LGBT women
|Muslim women
|Disabled women
|Jewish women
|Latina women
|Millennial women
|Jewish women
|AAPI women

|More. Women.https://t.co/V2ihKEZjRY

— The Democrats (@TheDemocrats) January 7, 2018

The above tweet is from the official account of the Democrat Party. It is called "The Democrats," which I find strange.

You can note that they are not trying to elect white women.

You also may note that they list "Jewish women" twice.

Apparently, they want double Jewish women.

DS

New Yorker: Bulbous Jew Mutant Talia Lavin Pens Diary Entry on Hunt for the Great White Stormer

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

Talia Lavin

Although I am very familiar with the Jews and their evil, sneaking tactics, I have nonetheless been slightly taken aback at their use of mainstream Jew-for-goyim publications to push for the shutdown of free speech on the internet.

I'm obviously not surprised that they want to do this, I'm not even surprised that they would assume that a majority of the readers of their shit-tier propaganda publications would be okay with them wanting to do this. I am, however, surprised that they are willing to openly say "we are the Jewish media and we are an activist group intent on crushing the free speech rights of those who would dare to disagree with us," given the inevitability of this being used against them.

Because—follow me here.

FCC Chairman Ajit Pai has already used the behavior of Silicon Valley companies towards the Daily Stormer to end Net Neutrality. The ostensible purpose of Net Neutrality was to stop some theoretical potential censorship plot by Comcast, and Pai said "what are you talking about Comcast censoring people? You already censored the Daily Stormer."

Right now, Donald Trump is talking about strengthening libel laws following the hoax book that was printed about him. The media response to Trump talking about strengthening libel laws is that he wants to "limit free speech."

The high-level Jew terrorist Cass Sunstein has penned an op-ed claiming that Trump wants to bring down the First Amendment.

Trump's Assault on the First Amendment

The president is challenging what James Madison called "the only effectual guardian of every other right."

By Cass R. Sunstein
Published: January 1, 2017, 1:30 PM EST

It is not especially difficult to imagine that Trump, in issuing a decree against the Jewish media on the issue of libel or on some other conspiracy they are involved in, will follow the move the FCC made and say "you're talking about me being against the First Amendment as you serve as a lobbying group to shut down protected speech from your competitors."

A perfect example of the media acting as an aggressive anti-speech lobbying group is a recent piece in the New Yorker by the bulbous Jewess Talia Lavin entitled "The Neo-Nazis of the Daily Stormer Wander the Digital Wilderness."

THE NEO-NAZIS OF THE DAILY STORMER WANDER THE DIGITAL WILDERNESS

By Talia Lavin, 9:00 AM

The neo-Nazis of the Daily Stormer have been kicked off a number of the Web's domain registrars, but it keeps finding people to help it get back on its feet.

In the article, she literally describes in detail her attempt to hunt down the services that the Daily Stormer uses and convince them to shut us down. She called up our registrar, proxy servers, ddos protections, etc. and tried to bully them into removing us—then printed a diary account of her journey!

You can read it, or I can just quote you the best part:

As the granddaughter of Holocaust survivors, I took some satisfaction from the irony—a site with a section dedicated to the "Jewish Problem," condemned to wander the wilderness, driven out of one country after another.

Activist journalism is one thing, but journalists who use the First Amendment to protect themselves openly engaging in anti-First Amendment activism is a very precarious situation.

It would be precarious regardless of who the President was, but right now you've got a President who is openly critical of them and their go-to position is that they have "freedom of speech" that gives them a right not just to defame him, but to defraud the American public on a massive scale with a fake news conspiracy that is specifically designed to undermine and collapse the elected government of this country.

And to be clear: what they are attempting to do to DS is categorically different than what they have done with kicking people off of Twitter and Facebook. There is an argument that these are “private companies that have a right to choose who they do business with,” but I have been on over 20 different domains and this fat kike openly writes about hunting down every infrastructure service I use in order to keep me from being able to speak at all.

DS

Christopher Cantwell just had his domain kiked off of GoDaddy by a mainstream journalist working for Newsweek. So this is an organized plan by the media not simply to silence political opponents but to deplatform their competition. We saw this with the PewDiePie situation last year—yes, the SPLC wanted Pewds shut down because he made fun of the Jews, but the media which worked with them had the secondary goal of punishing a competitor.

The FCC filing against NN shows that the Trump Administration is fine citing my situation, and he absolutely should do this again when taking action against the fake news establishment.

Talia is Literally Writing a Book About Food

I just wanted to add here that the Jewish whale that is hunting Captain Ahab Anglin is literally soliciting donations to write a book about food.

She might be a third-generation Holocaust survivor—but she’s not going to survive diabetes!

Race War

Pack of Blacks Attacks U of I Student with a Brick

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

Isaiah Conley.

I'm thinking long and hard but I cannot for the life of me recall a time when a group of Whites smashed some guy's face with a brick.

WAND TV:

Four people, including three juveniles, are accused of attacking someone on the U of I campus.

Police said three juveniles and 18-year-old Isaiah Conley of Urbana were arrested for armed robbery, aggravated battery, and mob action.

Officers said a U of I student used an emergency phone on Monday after being hit in the head with a brick. The student told police the group approached him on the sidewalk near Altgeld Hall and the Illini Union in the 1400 block of West Greet Street, tried to make conversation with him, and then hit him with a brick.

The student was taken to the hospital with a non-life threatening injury.

DS

Nigs Who Broke Into Home of NASCAR Legend Were Using Stolen Military-Grade Weapons

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

It's because of Call of Duty and the Second Amendment.
CBS:

The men charged with breaking into the home of NASCAR legend Richard Childress last month were carrying stolen military-grade weapons, according to the Davidson County Sheriff's Office. After already being charged with trespassing and attempted burglary, the three men involved are also facing additional charges of conspiracy to commit burglary and possession of stolen weapons

The incident initially occurred on Dec. 17, when the 72-year-old Childress said that he heard glass shattering while he was upstairs. Childress fired shots at the intruders as he came downstairs.

It was uncovered that the guns carried by the alleged intruders had been stolen and reported to Winston-Salem police two days earlier. The alleged intruders—Niquan Victorin (20), Chantz Hines (18) and Armeka Spinks (18) — were arrested on Jan. 2. The three were held on $250,000 bond at Davidson County Detention Center. After the additional charges, the bond has gone up another $200,000, per the sheriff's department.

Richard Childress.

DS

Police Hunting for Negro Who Committed Several Armed Robberies

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

Suspect nog.

Into that lucrative dollar store robbery business.
Henry Herald:

Henry County police are on the lookout for a man suspected in as many as four armed robberies at discount stores in the northern part of the county.

Police say the man carried a black semi-automatic handgun and covered his face with a white paper towel in robberies at stores in Stockbridge and Ellenwood over the last several months.

The latest robbery occurred at about 2:45 p.m. Wednesday at the Dollar General on the corner of Ga. Highway 155 N. and Ga. Highway 138 in Stockbridge.

"A black male wearing light blue scrubs, black hoodie, carrying a black semi-automatic handgun tucked in his waistband entered the store covering his face with a white paper towel," Detective T. Slaton said in a press release. "It appears the same male has committed three additional robberies at other locations in Henry County."

DS

Black Pimp Arrested for Forcing 16-Year-Old Girl Into Prostitution

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 14, 2018

Kenyan Roane.

It's not White people you need to worry about pimping out young girls.

NWA Homepage:

A Fort Smith man has been arrested for forcing a 16-year-old girl into prostitution.

According to a police affidavit, 31-year-old Kenyan Roane met the victim via Facebook and has been "trying to prostitute" her since she was 12 years old.

Roane would set up meetings for the girl around Fayetteville, Fort Smith, and Jonesboro.

The affidavit also states that Roane kidnapped the girl and would be in control of the girl's phone and money.

Roane would also post ads with nude photos of the girl to the Internet.

DS

Breaking News: Nig Acts Like a Nig and Murders White Mother

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Jeffery Etheridge.

In another standard day in America, a nog sex offender murders a White while evading the death penalty.

The Denver Channel:

A man accused of killing a Fort Collins mother, whose body was found in a lake, pleaded guilty to first-degree murder.

The Coloradoan reports Jeffrey Etheridge pleaded guilty Monday to the murder of Heather "Helena" Hoffmann. The guilty plea was part of an agreement that dismissed the other charges against him and guaranteed he would not face the death penalty.

In addition to the murder charge, Etheridge had been charged with second-degree kidnapping, sexual assault and tampering with a deceased human body.

Heather Hoffmann.

DS

Second Nog Arrested for Murdering White Teenager

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Areon Trevon McDade.

It is an extremely bad idea to do any business transaction with Blacks.

Especially so if that transaction involves drugs.

CBS:

Irving Police have arrested a second suspect in the Christmas Eve murder of Plano 17-year-old Brett Adkins.

Police said 19-year-old Areon Trevon McDade of Irving was arrested early Monday morning and is currently in the Irving Jail charged with capital murder.

Police said officers responded to a shooting call in the 200 block of Red River Trail shortly after 9:00 p.m. on December 24 and found Adkins shot in the chest.

He was rushed to Baylor Hospital in Grapevine but was pronounced dead shortly after midnight.

The initial investigation revealed Adkins drove to Irving to buy or sell marijuana.

Brett Adkins.

DS

Two More Arrests Made in Quadruple Murder of Whites – One Arrest Was a Black

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 13, 2018

Keyon West, James Powell.

We've got a Black and a guy that looks mixed arrested for a murder of four old White people.

I think it's time we either brought back slavery or started sending them back to their shit-hole homelands.

ABC:

Two more people have been arrested in connection with an August quadruple murder on Fishing Creek Road in the Glenview community of Halifax County, near Enfield.

Keyon Quarice West, 23, and James Edward Powell, 25, both from Roanoke Rapids have been arrested, Sheriff Wes Tripp announced Monday.

In October, investigators arrested Matthew Simms, 25, of Enfield, in October and charged him with four counts of murder.

James Harris, 88, Janice Harris, 72, James Whitley, 76, and Peggy Jo Whitley, 67, were fatally shot as they played cards around a kitchen table at the Harris' home the evening of August 20.

Tripp said in August that a family member found the bodies after checking on the home in the Glenview community, just off Interstate 95 north of Rocky Mount.

Two of the victims, James Whitley and Peggy Whitley.

DS

Black Robbed and Kidnapped Woman at an ATM

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer

January 13, 2018

Phillip Scott.

Can you remember a time when you didn't have to worry about some monkey kidnapping you while you used an ATM?

Because I can't.

Battle Creek Enquirer:

A Battle Creek man charged with robbing and kidnapping a woman at an ATM last year insisted Wednesday he was innocent.

"I am completely innocent. This is all new to me," Phillip Scott, 33, told Calhoun County District Court Magistrate David Heiss. "There is very little or no evidence to sustain what these claims are."

Scott was arraigned on eight counts including armed robbery, carjacking, unlawful imprisonment, and several weapons charges as well as being an habitual offender. He faces up to life in prison if convicted.

Battle Creek police allege he was involved in the March 18 robbery and kidnapping of a 27-year-old woman outside the Omni Family Credit Union at 220 E. Roosevelt Ave.

DS

Teenage Negress Murders 16-Year-Old White Girl

Joe Jones

Daily Stormer

January 12, 2018

Video Link

Exposing young Whites to negroes is nothing short of child abuse.

ABC:

The suspect wanted in a deadly stabbing of a teenager inside a Dunkin' Donuts in Westchester County surrendered to police Thursday after authorities publicly identified her.

Sixteen-year-old Z'Inah Brown turned herself in to New Rochelle police and was booked for second-degree murder in the death of 16-year-old Valeree Megan Schwab. Authorities say she made no statements, and the district attorney's office will ultimately decide what charges she will face.

DS

White Great Grandfather Dies After Smiling Black Savage Invaded His Home

Joe Jones

Daily Stormer

January 12, 2018

Magai Anai-Kur.

Only Blacks will murder a sleeping old man and then smile for the camera.

Des Moines Registrar:

Before a violent break-in brought devastation into their lives, 77-year-old Robert Howe was living in Urbandale with his wife, Marilyn Howe.

On Monday, Robert, also known by "Bob," died at Iowa Methodist Medical Center in Des Moines. Officials are awaiting results from an autopsy to determine what caused his death.

Marilyn is positive his death resulted from his injuries during the home invasion.

Early in the morning on Sept. 3, Robert woke up in his home at the 6300 block of Urbandale Avenue to find someone on top of him, strangling him, Marilyn said.

Magai Anai-Kur, 19, was charged with attempted murder, 1st-degree burglary, 1st-degree robbery and 2nd-degree theft in connection with the home invasion, according to police. The Polk County Attorney's Office will determine whether any charges will be upgraded.

During the break-in, Robert woke up to find Anai-Kur strangling him with his hands around his neck, his thumbs on his Adam's apple, Marilyn said. Anai-Kur then allegedly beat him on the head, resulting in Robert sustaining a broken jaw. The teen then allegedly put his elbow on Robert's throat and stabbed him with the other hand.

Robert Howe.

DS

Spain: Woman Gang-Raped by Moslems

Daily Stormer

January 12, 2018

The important thing to remember here is...the Crusades and so on.

PRI:

The young woman from Madrid, known only as la víctima, "the victim," in local media, was 18 then when she alleges she was raped by five men in the early morning hours of July 7, 2016. She'd gone to Pamplona for the Running of the Bulls—the city's celebrated and testosterone-fueled tradition of "bullfights, street dancing...and much drinking of strong Spanish wine," as immortalized by one American superfan.

According to her testimony, she'd lost sight of the friend she'd traveled with and ended up making her way toward the car, which they'd planned on spending the night in. When a group of five male friends from Seville, strangers to her until then, struck up a conversation and suggested accompanying her to the vehicle, she accepted. At some point while they twisted their way down the dark streets, they led her to a doorway, pulled her in and took turns raping her, she said. When they'd finished, they seized her phone and left. After some time, she got dressed, sought help and reported the rape. It was only later after she'd pressed charges, and a trial was underway, that she discovered the men had filmed the act on their phones and shared the videos in their WhatsApp group.

What would appear to be an unusual turn in the woman's testimony—her social media habits—has become the crux of the case known as La Manada, or "The Wolf Pack," after the five accused men's WhatsApp group name. In a bid to prove the young woman was not raped but consented to having group sex, the men's defense hinges on proving she did not suffer any trauma following the sex act, which they've chiefly done by presenting social media posts showing her out with friends, knocking back a few drinks, or sharing content of an ostensibly sexual nature.

DS

Two Nigs and a Wigger Tie Up 13-Year-Old Boy During home Invasion

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

One of the suspects.

There is an easy way to make home invasions an uncommon occurrence.

We can't do it though, because it'd be mean.

KFOR:

The Wagoner County Sheriff's Office is looking for three men who were involved in a home invasion. Police say the suspects tied up a 13-year-old boy while they robbed the home.

Just after 11 a.m. Thursday, Wagoner County officials received a 911 call of an armed home invasion.

The caller reported that his neighbor, a 13-year-old boy, was tied up and robbed while inside his home.

The boy said he was in his room when he heard someone enter the home.

The suspects, two black males and one white male, tied the boy up with an electronics cable and put a pair of shorts over his head.

The suspects stole guns, TVs, and a dirt bike.

DS

Disgusting Nog Pedo Rapes a Girl Younger than 10-Years-Old

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

Fillmore Wright.

Never let Blacks near children. The Advertiser:

A Bunkie man has been arrested for allegedly raping a child younger than 10 years old.

According to a release from the St. Landry Parish Sheriff's Office, detectives received a complaint Saturday from a local hospital of a child complaining of pain "after allegedly being touched inappropriately."

The child named Fillmore Wright Jr., 39, of Bunkie as "the person responsible for inflicting pain on her," the release states.

Detectives interviewed Wright, who admitted to the assault, according to the release. He was arrested on two counts of first-degree rape and a bench warrant. He was taken to the St. Landry Parish Jail for processing.

DS

Nog Rapes Disabled 64-Year-Old Woman

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

The suspect.

He was just going to church! He was getting his life on track! New York Post:

This is the creep who followed a disabled 64-year-old woman to her Bronx home and raped her, police said.

The woman, who uses a walker, was headed home to her apartment around 6:30 p.m. Monday near the corner of East Gun Hill Road and Dekalb Avenue in Norwood when the man began pursuing her, cops said.

Once the woman arrived, the man pushed her inside and sexually assaulted her, officials said.

time of the slayings in Enfield, but had bonded out and then failed to appear for court, according to on-line records.

Keyon West, James Powell.

and recovered two guns used in the crime.

Massey pleaded guilty last month to robbery as well, and was sentenced to 15 years in state prison.

DS

Local Good Boy will be Tried as an Adult After Beating and Robbing 80-Year-Old White Woman

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2017

Video Link

Sheeit but dey b gud boyz gettin dey livez on track!

KOCO:

A 16-year-old boy will be tried as an adult in the May beating of an 80-year-old grandmother in Del City.

Prosecutors say a group of teenagers broke into Kay Ross' home last year, beat her and stole her car.

Ross, who just celebrated her 80th birthday, said every day she looks back on what happened to her in May.

"Why would they want to hurt me?" she asked.

Prosecutors said Michael Williams, 16, and three other teenagers broke into Ross' Del City home and stole her car, leaving her bloody and bruised. Now Williams—the oldest teenager accused in the beating—will be tried as an adult for nine felony charges.

DS

Two More Charged in Case Where Black Killed Four Old White People in Gang-Related Attack

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2017

Video Link

Imagine a country without Black gang violence.

Wouldn't it be nice?

CBS:

Two men have become the second and third suspects charged with murder in the deaths of four elderly people shot while playing cards in August, reports CBS affiliate WNCN.

Keyon Quarice West, 23, and James Edward Powell, 25, both of Roanoke Rapids, were charged with four counts of first-degree murder in the Aug. 21, 2017 deaths of Janice Harris, 72, James Harris, 88, James Whitley, 76, Peggy Whitley, 67. The victims, two couples, were killed during an apparent home invasion, according to police.

Matthew Simms, of Enfield, was arrested in October and is also charged in connection with the quadruple killing. Simms was awaiting trial on a separate killing at the

Black Man and Islam God Sentenced in Home Invasion

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2017

Krishna Massey, God Islam Botts.
We did it guys.

We finally put the Moslem God in jail.

Times Union:

An Albany man was sentenced to 13 years in state prison for his involvement in a violent robbery last year, the Albany County District Attorney's office said.

God Islam Botts, 25, pleaded guilty to a burglary count.

Just before midnight on Feb. 23, Botts, along with his co-defendant, Krishna Massey, 28, of Albany, broke in to a home on Schuyler Street and stole the resident's property. Before they left they pistol-whipped the victim unconscious.

Officers were called to the scene and caught the two men still inside

Nausea-Inducing Coalburner and Monkey Sidekick Rob the Whore's Dead Mother

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2017

Diron Conyers, Alyce Davenport.

You can tell your country is completely screwed when you have drug-addled coalburners skipping family funerals to rob the dead people's homes.

You'll get used to this eventually, but you never get used to looking at these degenerates.

Luckily, writing these articles entitles me to unlimited anti-nausea medication under the Daily Stormer health plan.

Fox News:

Police in Massachusetts said a woman ditched her own mother's funeral on Friday to break into her home and steal a safe filled with items worth $90,000.

Alyce Davenport, 30, and Diron Conyers, 27, both appeared in court Monday and faced seven counts related to the alleged robbery, the Telegram & Gazette reported.

Charges were filed against the two after Thomas Baillet, Davenport's mother's fiancé, told police someone broke into his house during the funeral of Audra Johnson—Davenport's mother—and stole the safe from a locked bedroom.

Court documents reportedly stated Davenport was suspected of the theft, and was recently kicked out of the house over her drug habits.

Police found a car linked to Davenport on the side of a road with the safe in the trunk, which Davenport allegedly slammed shut when officers tried to peek inside.

Legal documents, $5,000 in coins, a bag of knives and jewelry were found elsewhere in the car.

Detective Garda Mick Dunne said he believed if Mr Sarwar was given bail he would commit "similar serious offences".

DS

DS

Ireland: Starving Paki Refugee Sexually Assaulted Retarded Man on a Bus

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2017

It's just their culture and plus don't you remember the crusades?

Limerick Reader:

A PAKISTANI man pleaded guilty to sexually assaulting a middle-aged man with an intellectual disability on a bus in Limerick.

Mohammad Sarwar, aged 43, of no fixed abode, is accused of inappropriately touching the Limerick man's genitals for a number of minutes during the journey. Kilmallock Court heard that the sexual assault occurred in the Dooradoyle area on January 19, 2017.

Sergeant Donal Cronin said the State was objecting to the defendant being released on bail pending a sentencing hearing. He cited the nature and strength of evidence and the "likelihood of the defendant re-offending".

Italy: Somali Steals Nurse's Outfit and Gropes Woman Giving Birth While Jerking-Off

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

Getting groped by a masturbating Somali while you're giving birth is just the cost of vibrant diversity in Italy.

Daily Mail:

A woman was sexually assaulted while in labour at a hospital in Rome, by a man who had stolen a nurses uniform to sneak onto the delivery ward.

The attacker, a 38-year-old Somali man reportedly walked into the delivery room, where he groped the woman's thighs and genitals and began masturbating, Italian media reports.

The 43-year-old victim fought off her attacker and screamed for help and hospital staff came to her aid.

DS

Black Man Charged in 2004 Murder of White Army Captain

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

Video Link

It should not take over a decade to find negro murderers.

The only possible explanations are police incompetence or the system being overburdened with other majority negro crimes.

In either case, the simplest solution would just be to round up all the Blacks and deport them to some African country.

WTOC:

The man investigators believe is behind a 2004 murder of an Army captain in the heart of downtown Savannah was formally charged with the crime Monday.

Investigators believe Deon Monroe Jones gunned down Captain Scott Corwin more than 13 years ago while walking with his girlfriend through Monterey Square.

Corwin died after being shot while walking near the intersection of W. Gordon and Bull Streets.

Since then, his family and loved ones have pleaded for more information and tips from the public to bring his killer to justice. Without going into too much detail so as to not jeopardize the case, the Chatham County district attorney says it was the combined effort of Savannah-Chatham Metro detectives and an investigator hired by her office—a former Metro detective himself—who brought the cold case to the next level.

DS

Two Blacks Brutally Beat 63-Year-Old Woman During Home Invasion

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

Derdra Brown, Willie Polk.

They only do it because of slavery though.

Chicago Tribune:

63-year-old woman was left “bloody and battered” after a neighbor broke a bottle over her head during a home invasion, prosecutors said Sunday.

Derdra Brown, 57, and Willie Polk, 49, allegedly forced their way into an apartment near the 1500 block of North Sedgwick Street in Old Town on Friday night and demanded money from the victim, who is Brown’s neighbor.

The victim was repeatedly punched in the face during the attack in her home. She broke her pinky finger and suffered cuts and bruises after Brown hit her in the head with a bottle, according to prosecutors. Brown and Polk were arrested shortly after the attack about 11 p.m. at the Old Town apartment building.

They were each charged with home invasion and aggravated battery of a victim over 60 years old.

DS

Black Pervert Performed Oral Sex on an 11-Year-Old

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2017

James Hawkins.

Another day, another nog molesting kids.

WLWT:

A Cincinnati man has been charged with rape after police said he performed oral sex on an 11-year-old child.

James Hawkins, 56, of West End, is in the Hamilton County Jail on $50,000 bail. He is also charged with assault in a separate case.

DS

Leader of Gang of Negro Pimps Arrested

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2017

The Squad.

I was surprised when I opened this article and saw the pictures.

I was expecting a gang of White British men.

Patch:

For nearly the last three years, officials in Hillsborough County have been attempting to prosecute charges against a number of men and women allegedly involved in attempting to control the drug and prostitution trade in the Queen City, according to the New Hampshire Union Leader. Brandon Griffin, 30, lower middle right, is the alleged ringleader of a gang known as "The Squad" and has received a 101-count indictment against him for allegedly ordering members to trade and assault prostitutes, Tase and physically assault others, threaten rival drug gangs, and deal drugs in the city. Griffin was indicted last year for felony crack cocaine dealing in the spring of 2017, and is currently incarcerated.

The report details the investigation by the Hillsborough County Attorney's Office. Four other gang members have been indicted and others indictments will also be issued, the report noted.

One alleged member of the gang is former Concord resident Courtney Barrett, upper left, of King Street in Manchester, who was indicted on three counts of trafficking in persons, three counts of conspiracy to commit trafficking in persons, and four counts of tampering with witnesses and informants, in Hillsborough County Superior Court-North in November.

Sweden: Man Dies and Two Other People Injured After Device Explodes – Likely a Grenade

Daily Stormer
January 8, 2017

You know. Part of diversity is that when you pick up objects on the ground, they might just explode and kill you.

Gotta break some eggs tho.
RT:

A man died in the hospital after sustaining serious injuries caused by an exploding object he picked up from the ground near Varby gard metro station in Stockholm, Sweden.

Police first reported the incident in the Huddinge district of the Swedish capital at 11:07am local time (10:07am GMT) on Sunday. The area near Varby gard metro station was cordoned off after an unidentified object exploded, according to local police.

The man, who picked up the object from the ground, was taken to the hospital, where he later succumbed to his injuries, according to police.

Local media reported that two people—a 60-year-old man and a 45-year-old woman—were injured in the incident.

"Most likely, it was a hand grenade that exploded," police said in a later statement, adding, that further investigations and inspections are needed.

DS

Black on Bike Ordered to Stop Due to Faulty Tail-Light – Shoots at Cops

Daily Stormer
January 8, 2017

Jonathon Harris.

He thought the cop would kill him for being black.

My News 13:

Leesburg Police have officially charged a person of interest on Wednesday in the shooting at a Leesburg Police officer during a traffic stop, authorities said.

Jonathon Nadre Harris, 24, is being charged with attempted murder of a police officer.

Harris was taken to the Leesburg Police Department at about 1:30 p.m. to be interviewed, according to Lt. Joe Iozzi.

Officer Travonte Kitchen allegedly pulled over Harris riding a bicycle on U.S. Highway 441 on Monday night because he didn't have a working tail light, a police report stated.

Kitchen reportedly asked Harris to show his hands, police said.

DS

The suspect raised his hands initially, dropping his right hand and placing it inside his hooded jacket, according to the officer's dashcam video. He then jogged toward the road, fired at least one shot toward the officer and ran away.

DS

Charging documents say that on Dec. 9, Laden tried to slip his hand into the pants of a 12-year-old girl while she was in bed at a home in the 4200 block of Red Bud Avenue. She pushed his hand away, and someone called police.

DS

Bradley was administrative services director for Imperial Beach, a San Diego suburb across the border from Tijuana. He was killed Dec. 28, a day before his 50th birthday.

DS

Black School Bus Driver with a Record of Raping Young Girls on the Bus Molests Another Girl

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

Chris Laden.

His pattern is staying fresh at least—this molestation did not happen on a bus.

SL Today:

A school bus driver charged with raping a 15-year-old girl in University City nearly four years ago now faces an unrelated charge of trying to molest a 12-year-old girl.

Charles F. Laden, 42, of the 4100 block of North 22nd Street in St. Louis, was charged Thursday in St. Louis Circuit Court with attempted child molestation and resisting arrest.

Mexico: White Man Murdered in Beanland – Body Returned to Family in USA

Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

Douglas Bradley.

If you're gonna go to Mexico, you have to not be a liberal.

Liberal sensibilities will get you killed anywhere outside of liberal safe spaces.

Fox News:

The body of a Southern California city official who was shot dead while vacationing in the Mexican beach resort of Zihuatanejo has been turned over to his family.

Prosecutors in the southern state of Guerrero said Friday in a statement that the body was delivered to a relative and a friend who arrived the previous day to officially identify the victim, Douglas Bradley.

Negro Ape Doctor Anally Rapes Two Female Patients

Joe Jones
Daily Stormer
January 7, 2018

Ryan Williams.

If you can avoid it, you should never go anywhere near Blacks.

Especially if going near them would mean trusting them while you're in a vulnerable position, like in a hospital.

News 5 Cleveland:

Ryan Williams is a colorectal surgeon who is accused of raping two women in 2008 and 2009.

He left the Cleveland Clinic last summer for another hospital where he was placed on administrative leave after his employers discovered the allegations against him, according to police reports obtained by USA Today.

The first alleged rape happened on April 11, 2008 when a patient was receiving a rectal exam from Williams. The patient said Williams inserted his penis into her rectum during the exam.

Fast forward to February 6, 2009, when Kristin Fehr went to see Williams to have a hemorrhoid removed.

According to a police report obtained by News 5, Fehr told police that Williams brought her into the examination room alone where he gave her two white pills and a cup of water, saying she needed to take them immediately.

She recalled groggily getting on the table and leaving the medical center in a haze with her then-boyfriend.

She remembered being pushed from behind, turning and seeing Williams holding his penis.

DS

Society

Pink “Pussy Hats” Being Ditched Because They’re Offensive to Women Without Pussies

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 12, 2018

This has all become so cartoonish, it is difficult to even process.

Surely, this has to be the end of the line for the Jewish system.

Detroit Free Press:

A year ago, they stormed the streets of big cities and small towns to make their views known: Women's rights are human rights. Many wore on their heads what became the de-facto symbol of feminism in 2017, the pink pussyhat.

The Women's March is back in 2018 with its Power to the Polls anniversary protests on the weekend of Jan. 20-21. The focus during this Women's March reboot is to register more women to vote, and to elect women and progressive candidates to public office.

But this time when marchers take to the streets in cities from Lansing to Las Vegas, there could be fewer pink pussyhats in the crowds.

The reason: The sentiment that the pink pussyhat excludes and is offensive to transgender women and gender nonbinary people who don't have typical female genitalia and to women of color because their genitals are more likely to be brown than pink.

I would have thought that these women would argue that these hats do not represent genitalia, and that “pussy” referred to a cat. After all, they are putting them on little kids.

Does that not imply some kind of pedophilia?

It is also a shocking admission of the feminist system that a woman's only power comes from her vagina.

DS

Middle-Aged Teacher Had Sex with Teenage Boy in Own Home While Husband and Kids Were Upstairs

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

Substance abuse and social media ruin women.

Add a new low to the epidemic of female teachers banging their underage male students. In this case, a married 40-year-old woman brought a high school student over and was screwing him while her husband and kids were upstairs.

Apparently, this stupid whore has been doing this with multiple students for a while. Judging from the report, she is apparently still married despite her husband knowing all the facts.

I am noticing that men are becoming increasingly tolerant of women cuckolding them.

The law should allow for men to brutally beat their wives for infidelity, but since this isn't the case, at least throw her ass out in the street!

Is male acceptance of cuckoldry the future of “relationships” in Weimerica? All arrows are pointing to that. The modern man is a pathetic feeb.

New York Post:

A former Indiana substitute teacher, who admitted having sex with a 17-year-old student at her home while her husband and children were upstairs, has been jailed again after she was accused of violating her probation for a second time.

Kisha Nuckols, 40, was taken into custody Sunday after Hancock County prosecutors requested a warrant for her arrest on Jan. 3, saying she failed to register a cellphone number with the Sex Offender Registry, Fox 59 reported.

...

Nuckols was sentenced to two years of probation and two years of home detention in 2016, after prosecutors said she sent a 17-year-old student explicit photos of herself before the two later had sex in her home several times. According to court records, Nuckols admitted having inappropriate relationships with multiple students while working as a substitute teacher at Mount Vernon High School.

It seems that social media played a big role in this woman's malfeasance. Most women 40 and under have been ruined by the limitless well of undeserved attention garbage like Instagram and Facebook gets them.

This isn't an unintended consequence, it is by Jewish design. Tech Jews like Justin Rosenstein who helped (((Zuck))) create Facebook have publicly admitted that they knew the science of addiction, and designed their products to exploit it.

The comparison Rosenstein has made is the brain mechanism casino's tap into with their slot machines. While men are more likely to be pathological gamblers than women (due to increased risk-taking tendencies), women tend to be addicted to slots rather than cards or roulette.

As the cultural cancer metastasizes, men in America will soon be given only two choices: be a "polyamorous" cuckold or go MG-TOW.

A stable monogamous relationship with children is a fleeting pipedream for a shocking number of young men. This is a social time bomb—bad for society. Unfortunately the manosphere is riddled with libertarian type of aloofness which is politicized impotence. Men must impose themselves on women once again or not even bother.

Any Nationalist revolution must not only confront racial and economic issues, but also provide an antidote to the sexual revolution.

DS

Germany: Playboy Puts Tranny on the Cover for the First Time

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

The current push is to force transnies onto heterosexual men. And this push is going to get really, really extreme.

It's no coincidence that they are doing this for the first time in Germany, where it is illegal to speak out against it.

The Independent:

A transgender model is set to appear on the cover of Playboy magazine for the very first time.

Giuliana Farfalla, a 21-year-old model who starred on Heidi Klum's Germany's Next Top Model, shared the cover with her followers on Instagram yesterday.

Accompanying the image of her posing topless, she wrote: "My dears I'm on the latest Playboy cover and very proud of the result."

"I hope you like the cover as much as I do."

Farfalla, who was born Pascal Radermacher in the southwestern Germany city of Breisgau, underwent gender reassignment surgery at 16 years old.

Her cover has already proven very popular on Instagram, gaining almost 10,000 likes.

We used to talk about "traps" on chan boards as someone getting caught being attracted to a photograph of a girl and then finding out it was a tranny. But this was before new technologies in the tranny industry made it so that you could actually meet one of these people in real life and not know it until you get to the bedroom as see a dick—or perhaps a massive scar where a dick used to be.

And if you get in that situation, and beat the shit out of the guy, you will go to prison.

I actually knew a guy that this happened to in Thailand. They have been starting hormone treatments before puberty there for decades. This was a guy who was like 65 and on vacation from Australia. He beat the shit out of the guy but the Thai cops understood why you would do that and just escorted him to the airport.

But with these transnies being passable for women in the West now, they are going to bring this down on you hard. They are going to start bullying people who refuse to have "sex" with them.

Plus, they are turning an entire generation of boys into transnies. All of Jew liberalism has been leading up to a full tranny revolution, and with them now openly pushing this on heterosexuals, they are moving into the next phase.

DS

"The Prince Who Torched the Castle"

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

The sluts did nothing.
Ronan started the fire.

DS

That is a good name for an article.

Ronan Farrow is at least as big of a hero as Donald Trump.

At least at this point.

Trump torched the system, but then instead of scattering the ashes he sat down in a pile of ashes.

Ronan is not Woody Allen's son. I don't believe it. He is Frank Sinatra's son and even Woody admits it.

He is waiting for the proper time to drop the DNA test.

This Hollywood Reporter cover should have been Time Magazine's cover. It should have been "Man of the Year: Ronan Farrow."

BOOMER AWAKENING: Paul Craig Roberts Sits Up and Notices White Genocide

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

There are certain men whose primary purpose in life is to be weather vanes of public opinion. That's a fancy way of saying that you can detect changes in the prevailing current of thinking, the Zeitgeist, by perusing their blogs from time to time.

Paul Craig Roberts is one of those men.

Wikipedia:

From early 1981 to January 1982, Roberts served as assistant Secretary of the Treasury for Economic Policy.

After his time in government he turned to journalism, holding positions of editor and columnist for The Wall Street Journal, columnist for Business Week, the Scripps Howard News Service as well as contributing editor to Harper's Magazine.

Roberts was professor of business administration and professor of economics at George Mason University and was the inaugural William E. Simon Chair in Political Economy at Georgetown University, serving for 12 years.

From 1993 to 1996, he was a Distinguished Fellow at the Cato Institute. He also was a Senior Research Fellow at the Hoover Institution.

See, this is not some nobody. This reads like the bio of a man who used to be a somebody.

And I know that he's not a Boomer himself, he's Silent Gen, but I've never met anyone except Boomers who read his stuff. This is because Boomers have been getting all their talking points from Silent Gen civil rights activists and academics since they started going off to college way back when.

And they love this man.

The reason for it is simple—his blog has everything that they want: muh Reagan, muh tax cuts and interestingly, the man flirts with conspiracy theory from time to time. Deep State black ops and false flags and that sort of thing. Unsurprisingly, Boomers eat it up.

But recently, he's been sitting up and starting to notice what has become blatantly obvious to every late Millennial and Gen Z'er. The Elites, Globalists, Brahmin—whatever euphemism you want to use for the Jews—are planning White Genocide.

Paul Craig Roberts:

The immigration policies of white countries have created a diversity basis for ganging up on whites. If we put together a diverse population with the anti-white ideology of Identity Politics, we have a political and cultural trap for white people.

It seems paradoxical that Identity Politics is led by white/liberal/progressive/leftists advocating their own marginalization. However, as it is a correct conclusion from Identity Politics that white DNA is an abomination, white adherents of the ideology can logically see their demise as a benefit to humanity. But why should they be allowed to condemn whites who do not see themselves as an abomination?

What we are seeing unfold with Identity Politics was foretold by Jean Raspail in his futuristic novel The Camp of the Saints. Perhaps white people should read it as an indication of their possible fate.

Thank you for finally stating the obvious, PCR. Hopefully some Boomers reclining in their La-Z-Boy chairs will take notice too.

Seeing this ol' yeller grapple and come to terms with White Genocide over the course of the last year has been a fascinating experience.

I kept at it because I knew that if he could make the leap, it would mean that millions of Boomers would be ready to make the leap as well.

All that's left is to see what happens next.

I find myself wondering: is it time to awaken the slumbering Boomer?

Hear Us Roar!

DS

French Celebrities Attack the Metoo Movement as a Return to Religious Puritanism

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 10, 2018

French Actress Catherine Deneuve

Leave it to the French to be the voice of reason in a debate about sexual puritanism.

And of course, that is what we are now talking about as far as the Metoo movement goes: a new form of sexual puritanism. What women are asking is that we return to a very specific Anglo-Saxon set of sexual norms, wherein a man making advances on a woman is considered crude and inappropriate.

It is very similar to the situation with the blacks now requesting racial segregation.

But of course, there is a catch: blacks are asking that they be able to choose to segregate when it benefits them, as well as be around white people when it benefits them. Just so, women are demanding to be protected from the sexuality of men, while also being free to engage in whatever type of sexual behaviors they themselves wish to behave in.

So, there is certainly an argument for returning to Anglo norms in terms of sexuality in society—but it would need to go both ways. Creating a situation where women are running around whoring it up while men are banned from complimenting women is a deranged type proposition.

AFP:

France's most revered actress Catherine Deneuve hit out Tuesday at a new "puritanism" sparked by sexual harassment scandals, declaring that men should be "free to hit on" women.

She was one of around 100 French women writers, performers and academics who wrote an open letter deploring the wave of "denunciations" that has followed claims that Hollywood producer Harvey Weinstein raped and sexually assaulted women over decades.

They claimed that the "witch-hunt" that has followed threatens sexual freedom.

"Rape is a crime, but trying to seduce someone, even persistently or cack-handedly, is not—nor is men being gentlemanly a macho attack," said the letter published in the daily Le Monde.

"Men have been punished summarily, forced out of their jobs when all they did was touch someone's knee or try to steal a kiss," said the letter, which was also signed by Catherine Millet, author of the hugely explicit 2002 bestseller "The Sexual Life of Catherine M."

Men had been dragged through the mud, they argued, for "talking about intimate subjects during professional dinners or for sending sexually-charged messages to women who did not return their attentions."

The letter attacked feminist social media campaigns like #MeToo and its French equivalent #Balancetonporc (Call out your pig) for unleashing this "puritanical...wave of purification".

...

"Instead of helping women, this frenzy to send these (male chauvinist) 'pigs' to the abattoir actually helps the enemies of sexual liberty—religious extremists and the worst sort of reactionaries," the collective of women who signed the letter said.

“As women we do not recognise ourselves in this feminism, which beyond denouncing the abuse of power, takes on a hatred of men and of sexuality.”

They insisted that women were “sufficiently aware that the sexual urge is by its nature wild and aggressive. But we are also clear-eyed enough not to confuse an awkward attempt to pick someone up with a sexual attack.”

The French have a totally different conception of sexuality than Northern Europeans and especially America. So this all makes perfect sense.

At least some of the women engaged in this Metoo movement do appear to be trying to return to some kind of sexually puritanical state, but that isn't actually what they are arguing for, because they don't understand that this is where their motivations are coming from.

I am able to believe that a woman in the workplace who is constantly being hit on, often presumably by men she does not find attractive who think they have a chance with her because of a power-dynamic, feel as though they are under a sustained assault.

At the same time, there is an opposing drive in women to get as much attention as possible, and though attention from higher value men is of higher value, all attention is valuable.

The conflict between these two opposing drives in a woman simply demonstrates that she is not a conscious independent agent in society, capable of making decisions about her own life.

It is similar to a child who begs its parents to allow it to eat as much candy as it wants, then when the parents allow it, it gets sick feeling angry at and betrayed by its parents.

Point being: they are not making a rational request.

Attempting to break down the behavior of women along logical lines is a fool's errand. We should instead be forcing them to do what is beneficial to the whole of society. This will generally also be what makes them happy, however I don't think that we should use “women's happiness” as a measure of anything, due to their fickle nature and inability to understand their own emotions.

DS

Canada: Cross-Dressing Man Put In Charge of Women's Group Gets Backlash From Feminists

Eric Striker
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

When Rachel Dolezal declared herself “trans-racial,” thus justified in taking a plush NAACP job, the Judeo-left universally condemned her as a con-artist and usurper.

Somehow, pretending to be something you biologically aren't doesn't apply to transnannies. They don't bother explaining the difference, they just launch mob attacks against you if you ask too many questions.

The J-left has a term for feminists who reject the idea that men who dress up like women and take hormones are female: “TERFs” (trans-exclusionary radical feminists).

Most Antifa PC militias have green-lit TERFs. They have orders to kill/assault them if they show their faces in public.

But in Montreal, it looks like the kooky feminists are organizing to take down the male homo appointed by the local elites to lead them.

The system is taking the transsexual's side.

Montreal Gazette:

Gabrielle Bouchard began her term as president of the Fédération des femmes du Québec with a call for women's equality, echoing the demands of leaders of the province's main feminist organization going back to its creation more than 50 years ago.

But a month into the job, Bouchard has faced a backlash over what sets her apart from her predecessors: that she was born male.

As the first transgender woman to head the federation, Bouchard's ability to speak for women has been challenged by some feminists who portray her gender transition as a lifestyle choice.

"Is a trans woman a real woman?" asked the headline above one Journal de Montréal column. "Being a woman is not a choice or an identity," the head of a splinter feminist group wrote in another column critical of Bouchard's election.

Bouchard, 49, said she did not expect her arrival as president to stir such controversy. "I had to realize that it is a big deal, because we are still at a point where we tolerate some identities, or we tolerate some people who are at the margins . . . as long as they stay where we believe they are supposed to be," she said in an interview.

"If women are going out of the places that we create for them, then we start to see a backlash."

Disagreement in feminist circles over the place of trans women is not new. In Canada, transgender woman Kimberly Nixon lost a long court battle in 2007 after a Vancouver rape crisis centre refused to let her work as a counselor because she was not born female.

In the United States and the United Kingdom, tensions occasionally flare between trans activists and a fringe of radical feminists who insist on regarding transgender women as men.

Last year, the Nigerian author and feminist Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie stirred controversy in an interview with a British TV network in which she argued that the transgender experience should not be "conflated" with women's experience.

"It's about the way the world treats us, and I think if you've lived in the world as a man with the privileges that the world accords to men and then sort of change gender, it's difficult for me to accept that then we can equate your experience with the experience of a woman who has lived from the beginning as a woman and who has not been accorded those privileges that men are," she said.

...

The assault on Bouchard's leadership was led by columnist Denise Bombardier, who wrote that the goal of trans activists is to "smash the reality of the two sexes to impose an appalling vision where neither man nor woman would exist any more."

Diane Guilbault, who broke from the federation in 2013 and founded the organization Pour les droits des femmes du Québec, said it is one thing for Bouchard to advocate for trans rights, as she did in her previous job at Concordia University.

But for her to speak on behalf of Quebec women is a step too far, Guilbault said in an interview.

"We think the experience of a woman who is born a woman is completely different from the experience of a man who decides one day to present himself as a woman," she said.

"It's not enough to say, 'I feel that I am a woman, so I can speak in the name of women.' For us it's the same as saying, 'I feel black, so I can speak in the name of blacks.'"

Canada is so far gone that the on-going culture war is middle-aged dykes and faggots who mutilate their penises arguing over what a woman is.

When it comes to cultural Marxism and "progress," the (((nation-retarders))) will never be satisfied. They will keep shifting the poles of degeneracy, and refuse to tell us when they want this ride to end.

America is no exception. We already see trannies like Blair White being promoted by (((Dave Rubin))) and co. as the new conservative thought-leaders.

Video Link

If you're a young, white, heterosexual man, the modern West's death throes are intense and insane. But take solace in the fact that this can't go on forever. And be organized so that when it all comes down, we will fill the political vacuum.

DS

H&M Apologizes for Labeling Jungle Monkey a "Jungle Monkey"!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

How dare this company properly label things?

To be honest, I was already planning on naming H&M the official clothing supplier of the Alt-Right, due to their low prices and high value fashion, combined with a series of dog whistles they've given to racists over the years.

But this settles it.
The Guardian:

H&M has apologised for an advert showing a black child in a green hoodie bearing the words "Coolest monkey in the jungle".

The ad sparked a backlash on social media, with some calling it inappropriate, disgusting and negligent.

Wow isn't this a coincidence—my next album with my heavy metal band "Galactic Holocaust" is titled "DISGUSTING AND NEG-LIGENT."

H&M is truly on my level.

The image of the model in the green hoodie has been removed from the H&M website; two similar designs modelled by white children remain.

One bears the words "Mangrove jungle" and "Official survival expert"; the other has outlines of various animals including giraffes and tigers.

The Labour MP Kate Osamor tweeted: "I was totally shocked, dismayed to say the very least, to find this online image. hm do you think this imagery is an appropriate representation of a young black boy?"

Alex Medina, who works in brand design, tweeted: "In the year 2018 there's no way brands/art directors can be this negligent and lack awareness. If you look at other sweaters in same category, they have white kids. We have to do better."

Okay so the issue with calling black people monkeys is...that they actually look like monkeys.

Is not all of this outrage an admission of that? Why would it be an issue if they didn't look like monkeys?

Also—again with this process of government officials jumping on public outrage platforms to grandstand and apparently gain popularity for being outraged. Is there anything cheaper than that?

H&M deserves to be hailed by the Alt-Right for their continual refusal to feature nonwhites in their advertisement.

Excluding the bare minimum "diversity" quotas, the company focuses the overwhelming majority of its advertising exclusively on the Aryan master race.

This portrait of a wholesome white family looks like something out of an NSDAP propaganda poster.

And just consider these group shots.

Every advertisement company on the planet requires one or more people to be "diverse" in a photo of three or more persons—but not H&M. They don't want disgusting brown people shitting up their beautiful Aryan ads.

Truly, this is the official brand of the Alt-Right.

When I release details for the Stormer uniform, all products will come from H&M. It is affordable and PRO-WHITE. The fact that it is also anti-black just makes it all the more appropriate.

DS

Oprah Endorses Glorious Metoo Movement at Golden Globes!

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

How does this gorilla know how to talk?

Video Link

Anyway—who cares how this gorilla learned how to talk? I just think it's amazing.

But the important thing is that it supports Metooism—the most important movement in history.

People:

Oprah Winfrey made history at the Golden Globes and delivered a rousing speech where she predicted a time when women won't have to say "Me too" ever again.

The entertainment mogul accepted the annual Cecil B. DeMille Award on Sunday night, becoming the first black woman—and the 15th woman total—to receive the honor since it was first handed out in 1952.

“In 1964, I was a little girl sitting on the linoleum floor of my mother’s house in Milwaukee, watching Anne Bancroft present the Oscar for best actor at the 36th Academy Awards,” she said at the Beverly Hills awards show after a standing ovation. “She opened the envelope and said five words that literally made history: ‘The winner is Sidney Poitier.’” (Poitier became the first black man to be presented with the DeMille Award in 1982.)

...

She added, “It is not lost on me that at this moment, there are some little girls watching as I become the first black woman to be given the same award. It is an honor and it is a privilege to share the evening with all of them.”

...

“I want, tonight, to express gratitude to all the women who have endured years of abuse and assault because they, like my mother, had children to feed and bills to pay and dreams to pursue,” she continued to a rapt audience. “They’re the women whose names we’ll never know.”

...

“For too long women have not been heard or believed if they dared to speak their truth to the power of those men. But their time is up,” she said to loud cheers. Eleven years after being called upon to investigate Taylor’s case in her role as secretary of the Montgomery, Alabama, chapter of the NAACP, Rosa Parks refused to obey a bus driver, and that choice “is now in every woman saying ‘Me Too,’ and every man who chooses to listen,” said Winfrey.

And she went on and on and on. I doubt Oprah itself was ever molested, given that it is a gorilla.

But we need all of the support we can get for removing all men from Hollywood, journalism and pretty much every other industry.

The Golden Globes were hosted by the Jew Seth Meyers. His entire monologue was about metooism.

Video Link

I watched it and I’m not really sure if it was supportive or trying to undermine it—all Jews are confused about which they should be doing right now. The New York Times is trying to get ahead of its expansion and destroy it. Other Jewish news outlets—like Huffington Post, which is run by female Jews—are calling for MORE MORE MORE.

You can watch the above clip and grasp just how sick Hollywood is. It will be so much better when it is 100% made-up of gossiping, whoring, incompetent women.

Another Jew Going Down in the Globes’ Wake

Yet another Jew—and one whom I personally hate—appears to be ready to go down following the Globes.

Vulture:

Like many of his peers, Golden Globes Best Actor winner James Franco turned up to the ceremony Sunday night wearing a Times Up pin in support of the night’s anti-sexual misconduct message. Actress Ally Sheedy, however, found the actor’s mere presence at the event, much less his win, upsetting enough to comment on.

“James Franco just won. Please never ask me why I left the film/TV business,” the Breakfast Club actress lamented in a series of since-deleted tweets lol @ men shouldn’t be allowed to host things.

She says she said too much! But we want MOAR!

Beautiful.

She is actually Jewish too—just goes to my point that even with NYT and others trying to hit the brakes, a bunch of kikes are still ON FIRE for the Nazi-backed metoo movement.

Others on Twitter found themselves discussing a different Franco-related topic, specifically the actor’s attempt to get with a 17-year-old via social media. In the widely-reported 2014 story, the same year he directed Sheedy, Franco contacted the teen through Instagram after meeting her outside his Broadway show Of Mice and Men. He allegedly offered to rent a room to spend time with the “almost 18”-year-old, who later published their exchange online.

Franco subsequently went on Live With Kelly & Michael and acknowledged he had messaged the girl, saying that he was “embarrassed” and that “social media is tricky.” Said Franco at the time, “I used bad judgement.” In the wake of this fall’s sexual harassment reckoning in Hollywood, however, some people are now wondering if “bad judgement” still holds water as an excuse.

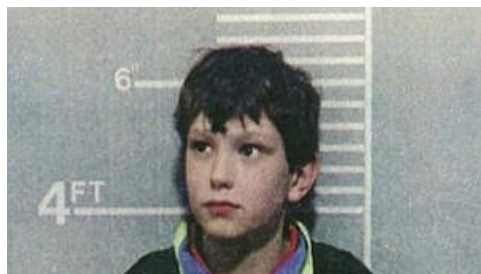

Yeah, it doesn’t. We’re gonna have to get this guy out.

The entirety of Twitter is blowing up on this guy. Only a matter of time before someone else comes forward. He’ll probably also get retroactively crucified for the 17-year-old.

DS

Some People are Defective

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

The death penalty is not simply a deterrent—it is a way of cleansing the gene pool.

If someone kidnaps, tortures and kills a baby, even if they are a child when they do it, they have something very wrong with them and should be removed from society.

RT:

Jon Venables, one of the two child killers of toddler James Bulger, has been charged for possessing indecent images of children and now faces a secret trial.

The 35-year-old, who goes under a new identity and so will not be named during his trial, served eight years in prison for murdering two-year-old Bulger when he was 10 years old.

In a statement Friday, the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) confirmed “the man formerly known as Jon Venables has been charged with offences relating to indecent images of children and will appear in the Crown Court”.

In 1993, Venables and his friend Robert Thompson, also 10, abducted, tortured, and killed the toddler in Liverpool after leading him away from a shopping center when Bulger’s mother was distracted.

Both were released on license under new identities in 2001 at the age of 18, meaning they could be recalled to jail at any time if found to breach any of the conditions of their release.

Venables was arrested in 2008 after a drunken brawl and given a formal warning for breaching the good behavior terms of his license. Later that same year, he was again cautioned for possessing cocaine.

In 2010, Venables was recalled to jail for two years after pleading guilty to downloading and distributing child pornography, and breaching his parole conditions by visiting the Merseyside area. He was released in 2013 under another new identity.

He should have been executed at 10.

Instead, he’s been allowed to go on and abuse other children, while causing who knows how many other problems in society.

Because our new cultural morality, enforced upon us by the Hebrew people, says “it’s bad to be mean.”

DS

Woman Whining About Google Sexism Whines About Rape Tweets

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

The fat sow Kelly Ellis expects the court to believe she does not deserve to be raped.

Maybe if women weren’t so whiny, people would respect them more.

But they cannot resist this victim-mongering. It’s an evolutionary strategy for their survival which is totally incompatible with the modern workplace.

Mercury News:

One of the women suing Google for allegedly paying women less than men has come under attack from a former Google contractor who tweeted, among other things, that she deserved to be raped.

Saying she felt threatened, Kelly Ellis, a former Google software engineer locked in a high-profile legal battle with the Mountain View technology giant over its salary practices, received a temporary restraining order Wednesday in Superior Court in San Francisco against Alex Gulakov, 26.

Ellis, 33, alleged in her court filing that Gulakov targeted her for speaking out about gender issues and said he had included links about her Google lawsuit in online diatribes against her.

“What scared me the most was that this was a total stranger who I’d never interacted with before this started, and how quickly this escalated,” Ellis said in a phone interview Friday.

Gulakov, in emails to this news organization, disputed many of Ellis’ claims but admitted writing a social media post “implying she deserves rape.” He suggested he was just trying to get her attention and did not intend to harm her. Ellis and other “misguided” feminists are making life worse for “reasonable women,” he wrote.

Both Gulakov and Ellis have been posting online about their dispute, which did not occur while either of them worked with Google.

Civil-harassment orders such as the one Ellis sought are obtained on the basis of a victim’s declaration and do not indicate the accused party is guilty. A hearing in Ellis’ case has been set for Jan. 24.

Ellis’ new legal action highlights a growing cultural conflict in the male-dominated technology industry, which has been at the center of a public debate over gender and diversity—from 2014’s “Gamer-gate” death threats against developer Zoe Quinn, to the sexual-harassment allegations in a public blog post by former Uber engineer Susan Fowler that helped oust former CEO Travis Kalanick, to the memo by subsequently fired Googler James Damore, who argued there was a biological basis for the lack of women in tech.

Harassment of women in tech is exacerbating the gender imbalance in the industry, said Adriana Gascoigne, CEO of Girls in Tech, a non-profit dedicated to bringing more women into the industry. “It is deterring women from entering into the tech workforce because they hear stories, they talk to friends, family members, colleagues—and who would want to work in an industry where you have to watch your back all the time and you have to deal with misogynistic behavior?” Gascoigne said.

Ellis’ alleged harassment by Gulakov—a software-development contractor for three months at Google in 2014—started around 11 a.m. Tuesday, she claimed in an application for a restraining order submitted the next day.

“He sent me a rape threat on Twitter, writing: ‘you deserve to be raped fat worthless (profanity),’” Ellis’ court filing stated. On Twitter, Ellis—who has since made her own tweets private—shared a screen shot of Gulakov’s purported rape threat.

That isn’t actually a rape threat. It’s just a statement of his belief about what she deserves.

I rape threat would say “I’m going to rape you.”

After posting on Twitter, Gulakov called Ellis on her personal phone, she said in court documents. “He began screaming at me,” she wrote, and called her a “feminazi,” demanding she stop advocating for gender equality in tech.

Ellis wrote that she told him to stop contacting her, but he called several more times and sent more than 30 texts over the next several hours.

She phoned police, and while awaiting their arrival, Gulakov sent a text saying he was in her neighborhood, her court application said. “He wanted me to meet him at a restaurant that was on the same city block as my residence,” Ellis wrote. “I am very frightened that he knows where I live and that he came to my address trying to harass me in person.”

She said in a phone interview that Gulakov also posted her address and photo on a number of online platforms, including 4chan. Gulakov said he’d found her personal information on 4chan and other message boards.

In emails to this news organization, he said he had contacted Ellis—who is outspoken on Twitter about gender and political issues—“to talk to her to get her to stop this cycle of hate where she seizes every thing to criticize (sic),” he said.

The solution here is to remove women from the workplace.

No one benefits from having them around, including them. They are psychologically manipulated from childhood to believe they have to compete with men, and when they realize they cannot actually compete with men, they start cheating using their female privilege to manipulate.

The reason men so often suggest these women be raped is that rape is the traditional way of putting a woman back in her place. That is also an evolutionary behavior.

The bitch is going nuts on Twitter rn.

Tweets by justkelly_ok

DS

Insight

Responding to the Cult of Sargon

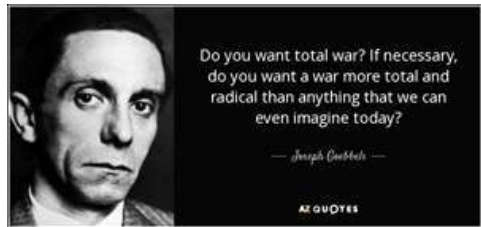

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2017

Sargon bringing a friend home to meet his wife, colorized 2018

As we reported yesterday, Sargon of Akkad has declared himself the leader of a cult—“The Liberalists,” he’s called it—and declared that one of the main purposes of his cult is to fight us, the Alt-Right.

I don’t have to tell you what comes next.

I am going to lay down some basic points to cut through this gibberish he is pushing. Not that you don’t all already see through it. But I want to catalog it together for you, so you’ve got all the angles you need when addressing Sargon or the members of his new cult.

Individualism vs. Collectivism

He appears to be hinging his entire cult doctrine on some sort of as-of-yet undefined form of radical individualism.

This is not something that most people actually even comprehend—and I am one of those people.

He’s doing an emperor’s new clothes thing here, acting like there is some fundamental distinction between his beliefs about the individual and our beliefs about the individual, but he doesn’t break that down into any detail, because the only thing he is actually saying is that he believes that nonwhites should be treated as individuals and we do not.

In an all-white country, we wouldn’t infringe on people’s rights or outlaw private property. In fact, people would have a lot more rights than they have now. The only rights that would be curtailed are the new rights that have been given to people by the Jews over the last few decades, such as homosexuality and miscegenation—and the reason we would be curtailing these rights is that giving individuals these rights infringes on the rights of other individuals to not have to deal with the consequences of these actions.

In a white America, individual families would have the right to go out in public and not have to see men kissing one another.

Because the idea that an individual’s decisions don’t affect other individuals in harmful ways is nonsensical. It is just a goofy, dumb claim.

Beyond sexual things, I don’t really have any idea what he is on about. The only form of extreme “collectivism” that I can really imagine is a Marxist collective, where hierarchy is removed through economic scheming. We do not want to ban the free market (nationally, obviously globalism is negative), we don’t want to take away private property.

We want people to be able to think freely, we just don’t want foreign groups in our countries aggressively pushing for the interests of a foreign people.

Furthermore, the concept of a “collective” is basic human nature and the idea of an “individualist” is really a myth. Every individual person exists as a part of a society, short of a hermit living alone in a cave. Everyone is in a collective now. Sargon just formed a new one. What happens when you use multiculturalism and sexual deviancy to remove the main collective of a cohesive dominant culture is that people form new, smaller collectives, and society atomizes.

Churches, universities, hobbies, etc. are all collectives.

We all remember high school, where the kids who made a point to be different tended to all be similar to one another. When I was in high school at the turn of the millennium, there were gothics—they all claimed to want to be different, yet they all dressed alike and were interested in the same things.

This goes back to our basic biology, which is tribal in nature. Our brains are hardwired to come together with a group and to adopt the same symbols, beliefs and behaviors of that group. You cannot disprove that, because it is an obvious fact. And again: the hilarious thing here is that Sargon’s own “scene” (now an official cult) proves this point. What were called the “skeptics,” which he is now calling “the Liberalists,” all think the same things.

“What if the Child Consents?”

Sargon made a name for himself by deconstruction what SJWs were saying. He was simply attacking them, breaking down why everything they are saying is stupid.

Picking apart something someone else is saying—in particular when it is something as stupid as what SJWs say—is very different than advocating FOR something.

It appears as though he hadn't really put too much thought into what he was advocating for until he realized that the Alt-Right was advocating for something and that in order to address what we are saying he has to be advocating for something. He had vague ideas relating to the philosophy of John Locke, Thomas Jefferson and Thomas Paine, but even though I have my disagreements with this particular philosophy, it doesn't even really work in the way he is trying to use it. These were white men who would appalled at the idea of a multiracial society.

All of these men he cites were a product of white society and formed their philosophy in that context.

So, in order to fill-in the blanks of his advocacy position, he simply decided to adopt modern extremist libertarian positions—specifically because that critique can be used against any system whatsoever. In his debate with Richard Spencer, he was asking him to solve problems that have existed for centuries in relation to the structure of governments, the social order and the management of economies.

But how far is he willing to go with “freedom of the individual”?

For instance, does he believe in legalizing hard drugs? Voluntary indentured servitude?

That parents have a right to starve their children to death?

Does he want to eliminate all social safety nets?

Most importantly: what if the child consents?

Of course, he will claim he is not an anarcho-capitalist, but that is the line of argument he is using when he claims that the Alt-

Right can't work because no ordered system ever can work.

The reason he can't use the purely classical liberal line against the Alt-Right is that any of those arguments can be easily addressed. Again: we have a position on individual rights, private property and free markets that is very easy to grasp and very difficult to argue against, so he's started using arguments from a system he claims he doesn't even support just to give his critique the illusion of substance.

Pointing this out demonstrates that he is not actually proposing anything—that his only concern is with not being a racist. And it is easy to point out by simply forcing him to address the extremist libertarian positions he is arguing from.

No One Wants to Die for an Abstract Concept

Sargon seems to underestimate just how serious the state of the world is for most people. Our society has effectively already collapsed.

And the last thing anyone wants to fight for is some weird abstract idea that no one really even understands.

Sargon is saying “yes, race exists and yes, multiculturalism has had a negative effect on white people—but we can't address that issue because of this abstract concept. Instead, we have to fight to preserve the abstract concept.”

Well, fighting for abstract concepts is for people who are not backed up against the wall. It is simply the realm of the hobby to go to war over a philosophical ideal.

In the 1960s, people fought for all of this “liberation” that Sargon is defending because there was no risk. The baby boomers lived very comfortably, so fighting for “freedom” was just like a game.

Things have changed. We are now in an extreme situation, where people are very alienated, they are struggling just to survive. People are ready to put their entire being into a fight for a better future.

The only things that are actually worth giving your entire being to fight for are things that exist in real life.

At one point in his recent stream with Mister Metokur, Sargon did mention along with his desire to fight for an abstraction that he doesn't want transies teaching his kid to cut his dick off. That is the only real life thing he mentioned. The rest of it was vague abstractions, which again, he hasn't defined.

Presumably, he also wouldn't want a daughter to be sex trafficked by a Pakistani rape-gang. He doesn't want his house burned down by a roving pack of Africans. He doesn't want to be forced into third-world living conditions. He doesn't want to feel like a stranger in his own home, being surrounded by people that speak hundreds of different languages. He doesn't want Britain to become an Islamic state. And he doesn't want to be arrested for talking about any of these things.

So even if you eliminate race from your perception entirely, the effects of race do not just magically disappear. And the idea that vague notions of “individual liberty” and other abstract ideas are going to hold this multiracial circus show together is utterly nonsensical. We are dealing with real life problems that require real life solutions.

And when you are living with real life, reality is the only thing that matters.

What is the Point of Multiculturalism?

Sargon still has failed to explain the positive of why you would want brown people in your country. Instead, he only puts forward negative arguments against people arguing for white countries—it's mean, it's immoral, but they have rights now because they are already here, you can't even tell for sure if someone is 100% genetically white, etc.

But the question remains: can he name a single benefit derived from having nonwhites in our countries?

Because if not, his entire negative argument of why it would be wrong to remove them is meaningless.

He seems to at least tacitly admit that multiracialism has detrimental effects (even if he claims that these effects somehow have no relationship to race), but hinges everything on the alleged immorality of removing them.

Imagine if you get shot and you're bleeding out, but there is a lot of traffic on the road to the hospital: is your solution going to be to stay and home and bleed to death? And then if a family member is like "hey, you'd better do something, you're going to bleed to death," do you start arguing with them about how it is impossible to get to the hospital and so you just have to make the best of bleeding to death?

If we accept that multiculturalism is an extreme disaster, then we need to work on fixing the situation—not to find some impossible method of dealing with an unbearable situation.

That's All I've Got

Hopefully in the near future Sargon will be releasing an agenda of some kind. It is currently frustrating to critique him given that he has put so little forward with regards to his vision for society. But this is what we've got right now.

Andy Warski has announced that Richard Spencer and Sargon will be having a second debate—this time with Mike Enoch included.

So that is going to be good.

Honestly, I'm not sure how Sargon will be able to continue with this agenda after that. I think the "I'm sorry I performed so poorly in the debate—I am now the leader of a cult" trick will only work once.

DS

I Don't Think This Meeting About DACA is Relevant to Anything Really

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 11, 2018

Video Link

So Trump had this meeting on DACA with a bunch of Democrats earlier this week, and everyone appears to be freaking out about it—like he's going to allow this to go through.

Here's the full video.

Video Link

I don't think this is happening. I think in this meeting, the things that bothered people were part of a negotiations process.

CNN is confused that he was contradicting himself.

CNN:

President Donald Trump appeared to contradict himself multiple times in a meeting on immigration with a bipartisan group of lawmakers Tuesday—a reflection of growing frustration from Capitol Hill about the lack of direction from the White House on the issue.

The President at times suggested he would be looking to sign everything from a stand-alone fix for the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program—set to expire in March—to comprehensive immigration reform, often appearing to being guided by lawmakers in the room to modify his positions.

The comments came during a nearly hour-long conversation between the roughly two dozen lawmakers, the President and White House staff that the press was allowed to record—a window into the difficult negotiations that still surround the issue of replacing DACA, which protected young undocumented immigrants who came to the US as children from deportation, and border security.

At the end of the session, Trump suggested that ultimately, he would sign whatever he was presented with.

"I think my positions are going to be what the people in this room come up with," Trump said. "If they come to me with things I'm not in love with, I'm going to do it. Because I respect them."

He was just going along with what anyone said.

At one point, he even acted like he was taking Feinstein seriously.

I don't know for a fact that he won't do something on DACA. But this meeting doesn't mean anything. I didn't even bother to report on it yesterday because I was like "meh." But now I see people flipping out about it.

Here's the deal: he knows that he won't win a second term if he does DACA. Even if he builds the wall—or starts building it—people will not go along with DACA.

The only way that it would make sense is if he got absolutely everything else related to immigration in return for it—Moslem ban, end to diversity lottery, end to H1-Bs, end to family reunification, refugee refusal—and there is no way the Democrats are going to agree to that.

What he's doing is making himself look reasonable so he can later show the Democrats as unreasonable. I am not sure who he is putting this show on for exactly (presumably the media and the members of the GOP that support DACA), but it's obviously a thing that he is doing. Just watch the video and watch him agree with everyone and tell me he isn't putting on a show.

Remember he did this once before, a couple months ago, and we are no closer to DACA than we were then.

He is attempting to show that a government shutdown would be wrong, since he's willing to talk about DACA. I just don't think that the people he is attempting to convince actually care.

Basically, he's employing negotiating tactics which worked for him in business in a place where they probably aren't going to work. But he's not just all of the sudden agreeing with Feinstein and Schumer.

Once again: he might do DACA. I have no way of knowing what he is going to do. I am just saying that this particular meeting is not relevant to the larger situation.

DS

In the Midst of Psychological Collapse, Sargon of Akkad Declares Himself Leader of Bizarre Cult

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer

January 10, 2018

Sargon has issued an apology for his poor debate performance against Richard Spencer—and during that apology, declared that he is now the leader of a bizarre cult!

Video Link

Basically, Sargon had nowhere to go other than down, down, down, having been brutally destroyed by the Alt-Right's worst debater—so he decided to go up! Up straight to the top! Of a cult!

And get this: he's calling it "The Liberalists"! He frames this like he's forming a political movement, but no one announces a political movement and gives it a name! You do that with cults!

He says that he's going to do real life meet-ups, and try to convert people to his beliefs. If that was as simple as your plan was, you could just go do it—there is no need to announce it with a declaration of a name.

After having declared himself leader, Akkad then decided to go up against the number one guy on the internet famous for making people look stupid.

Mister Metokur was mocking Sargon's freshly minted cult on Twitter and Sargon sent one of his minions to pull him into a stream

Video Link

The stream was nuts.

Sargon declares that his purpose in forming the cult is to bring down his enemies—which include not only blue-haired feminists, but also the Alt-Right!

When Metokur asked him why he views the Alt-Right as enemies, he said it is because we say bad things about him. So he is forming a group of radical individuals to defend his honor. Also, he wants to stop trannies from brainwashing his son, which is tacked on presumably to make the rest of it seem less confounding. But the Alt-Right already has a plan to solve that issue.

So the idea that he needs to form an organization in order to fight this particular issue is nonsense. He could just join the Alt-Right like everyone else if this was a genuine concern—and every legitimate concern he mentions is one that we would agree with. And I don't say that to say "only the ones I agree with are legitimate," but just that the rest of what he says is either "destroy my enemies" or something utterly vague and undefined.

The idea that his defeat by Richard Spencer didn't prompt this move to form a group to defeat his enemies is evidenced by the fact that the video itself is framed both as an apology for losing the debate and a declaration of leadership.

The guy is off his bloody rocker, and the effect of having tens of thousands of people on the internet attacking him as pathetic for being unable to defend his own stated positions has rattled him to his core and he's unable to hold it together.

He is used to winning, because he fights the lowest of low-hanging fruit in the form of SJWs. Him going against Spencer thinking he could do him the same way as he does Anita Sarkeesian was like a professional baby-kicker deciding to go fight a Gundam and attempting to use the same moves on it he uses to incapacitate babies.

He sees the writing on the wall—that his movement is collapsing due to it not being very interesting intellectually and not offering any actual solutions to anything.

And despite his belief in individualism, no one is actually an individual in real life—there is basic evolutionary biology involved here—so we have such an extreme upper-hand, being in accordance with the order of nature, that we can just grab all of his followers.

And there is the core of it: he believes that it might be possible to keep his followers by trying to rally them into a movement similar to the Alt-Right.

It's a Hail Mary.

Because his only other option would be to join the dark side himself. But he would rather just collapse his career than do that.

This play, though admittedly the best he could have made, obviously won't work.

I can't think of anything else he could have done, to be honest, but he didn't have to give it a name so everyone would accuse him of forming a cult and he didn't have to make his first in-depth explanation of it on a stream with fucking Metokur.

He is not well.

I Still Don't Know What He is On About

To be perfectly honest, I still don't really have any idea what he is even advocating for.

He talks about John Locke, and basically that is an obsolete philosophical system that only currently remains in the public mind because it is useful for the system to have it there—radical individualism has been fully disproved by evolutionary psychology, and just basic reality itself, which demonstrates that people will naturally form groups and define their identity in relation to the group, which ironically is what he just announced he is doing. But more importantly, Locke wasn't advocating for flooding Britain with brown people from everywhere.

Regardless of the idiocy of summoning up a dead philosophical system to make his arguments, his basic vague points about individual liberty, freedom of association and property rights I think everyone in the Alt-Right—and anyone else who isn't a radical progressive leftist for that matter—would just take for granted. Because these things are obvious necessities of any society.

So the point of disagreement comes down solely to the race issue, and he isn't able to explain why it is that anyone would want to live around third world parasites. We have done a pretty darned good job explaining why we don't want to live around them.

So instead of addressing the core premise of “we want our own country,” he goes into bizarre hypotheticals about the logistics of actually removing these people from our countries.

The reason that he mixes discussion of individualism with discussion of race isn't because they are actually related, but because he is callously trying to confuse his followers into believing they are related. Even if you believed the philosophy of Locke, he didn't apply the tabula rasa to brown people. That philosophy was a product of a white European society and only ever intended to apply to such a society. So if you actually did believe that, you'd be pushing just as hard as anyone to have these people removed.

In order to apply Lockean individualism to brown people, you have to place it in the context of Boasian anthropology—the “race doesn't exist” theory. And I assume that Sargon is unwilling to promote that particular theory, as if he were, he wouldn't need all the weird logistics hypotheticals he threw at Spencer.

Bottom line: all of this reeks of a man who had a taste of power desperately attempting to hold onto that power in the face of a challenge to it. He cannot directly defeat the challenge, so he is using dishonest, snakelike tactics.

I will tell you this though: I sure do love the internet.

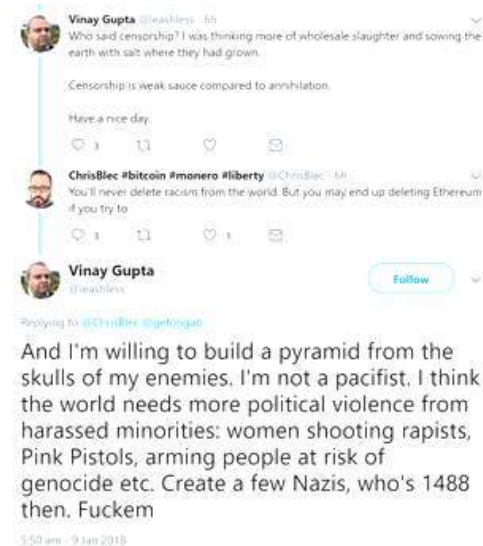

I have a feeling 2018 is going to be real fucking entertaining.

— WeWuzMetokur (@WeWuzMetokur) January 9, 2018

Vinay Gupta Tragically Confirms Many of the Stereotypes Racists Have About Brown People

Diversity Macht Frei

January 10, 2018

What are the stereotypes that “racists” have about brown people? That they are violent? Impulsive? That they put their tribal interests above any consideration of due process? That they nurture a narcissistic sense of victimhood in defiance of observable realities? That they have contempt for free speech, the basic prerequisite for any form of government that seeks to resolve differences by talking instead of fighting? That they have a grandiose sense of their own importance in the great scheme of things?

In his embarrassing Twitter tirade, Vinay Gupta checks every one of these boxes. While railing against racism and the people who espouse it, he actually validates their point of view. This is the existential tragi-comedy of what it means to be brown, to bear the burden of brownness; a burden you know you can never escape from.

You may remember Vinay Gupta from before (“The Dangers of Brown Tech“). He has now pridefully adopted this term Brown Tech as a hashtag.

Gupta boasts of being involved in the founding of Ethereum and talks big as if he was the king daddy of this technology. But some knowledgeable people seem to believe he was more like the janitor than the progenitor.

No doubt Gupta used some advanced blockchain technology while he was cleaning the Ethereum toilets. #BrownTech

This obviously unstable person is still employed by Digital Catapult, part of a UK government initiative. It's probably a waste of time to complain about his obvious racism and apparent inclinations towards mass murder, however, as the CEO is one (((Jeremy Silver))).

Digital Catapult welcomes Vinay Gupta as Blockchain Fellow

10/10/17 by Digital Catapult Staff
Vinay Gupta will bolster expertise in blockchain and smart contracts

Vinay Gupta will bolster expertise in blockchain and smart contracts

LONDON, UK 11 October 2017 - Digital Catapult today announces that Vinay Gupta, co-founder of Mattermost, has been appointed as Blockchain Fellow of the prestigious UK Government initiative Digital Catapult, a company based in London's Euston Road but with centres in strategic areas across the country. The appointment marks the centre's ongoing focus on demonstrating just how the evolution of blockchain is helping to empower companies and individuals to perform secure financial transactions without third party intervention.

Indeed, it seems our friend Gupta is acquainted with more than a few members of the tribe.

Big Nibba Harvard Jew Professor Admits the Alt-Right is Right About Everything

Roy Batty
Daily Stormer
January 9, 2018

Steven “Race War Now” Pinker has spilled the beans about his secret admiration for the Alt-Right.

In front of a panel, the Harvard Psychology professor just couldn't hold it in anymore and revealed his power level.

Video Link

Steve lets it all hang out and points out that niggers are sub-human violent savages that are a menace to themselves and the rest of society. He even goes a step further and says that sand-niggers are the leading cause of allahu ackbarring in the White World.

Great stuff, professor—knew you'd come around.

But he had his audience and his fellow panelists reeling from the HateFacts.

When dat red pill hits you

Now I know what you're thinking, “what do we care what some kike thinks of us?”

Well, the truth is that until a “respectable” Jew gives us their approval, none of our opinions matter.

Because we're all inbred hillbillies and rednecks here on the Alt-Right...

This is despite having the exact same beliefs as former presidents, Founding Fathers and great men the world over. None of that matters. We are just unintelligent proles according to shitlibs and boomers.

BUT, now that we have Professor Jew admitting that what we say is true, it automatically becomes true, don'cha know.

Them's just the rules, lads.

And Steve Pinker has finally given us the legitimacy that we crave and so richly deserve. The best part is that he's just a sign of the things to come.

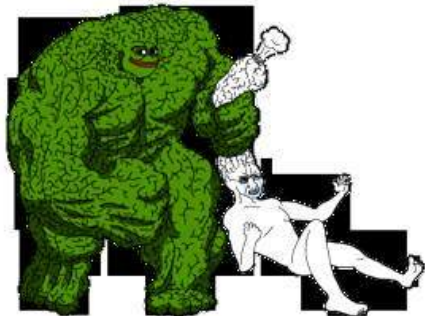

Jews are clever enough to know when the tide is changing and where the winds are blowing. He's only saying all these nice things about us because he understands that we da counter-culture now, and that the liberals' time is up. He's a bit behind based Jews like Stephen “Our Kike” Miller, but he's hedging his bets now too.

He thinks we'll give him a 48 hour head start when we rev up the ovens.

I say that we oblige the poor guy. He's earned it.

And I know some of you might go and watch the full video from the conference and see that he's trying to make some highfalutin big nibba point about how the J-Left can't just keep censoring facts, but has to come up with cleverer ways to explain them away so that curious minds don't get red-pilled, but you're just not seeing the big picture here.

Steve "Put Me In The Oven Last" Pinker is admitting that the J-Left has gone too far and that intelligent minds have started to rebel against their PC dogma.

He hopes to get the commissars to change course before it's too late and the backlash against having to accept 65 different genders and constant snackbar attacks grows too strong.

But do you see anybody else on that panel ready to admit that trannies shouldn't be teaching our kids and that blacks are getting too uppity for their own good?

I sure don't.

Steve is freaking out and trying to get the gullible golem-goys to tone down the kike rhetoric that he and his tribe have already put in their minds.

We're pushing too hard too fast...stahhhhp

He knows his pleas will fall on deaf ears. And that's why he's trying so hard to flatter us now.

You gotta learn to read between the lines here and see the white flag waving in his beady little kike eyes.

It's a sight for sore eyes indeed.

DS

We Need an Alt-Right IMDB

Diversity Macht Frei
January 9, 2018

I used to go out of my way to watch movies I suspected of being diversity propaganda so I could analyse them and see what the agenda was. Now these themes are so pervasive that you have to make a conscious effort to avoid them. We had another example last night at the Golden Globes when "In the Fade" won the Best Foreign Language Award, having won at Cannes the previous year.

Video Link

As I noted in the review of it I wrote last year (link), it's a weak film which gets bonus points for having the correct political biases. A blonde, blue-eyed German marries a Turk. When her husband and half-breed child are killed by neo-Nazis, she is denied justice by a racist criminal justice system. So she sets about exacting revenge personally.

Ignoring the politics, it's a by-the-numbers revenge drama, thinly characterised and not at all compelling to watch. Nothing but approval of its message content can account for the awards it has won. It is anti-white hate literature for the illiterate generation.

But how would anyone in the ethno-European survival movement know this unless they had happened to come across my review?

We need an Alt Right IMDB to get the message out.

—

Years ago, I first became intrigued about the multicultural biases of films when I had bought a bunch of French DVDs almost at random and was amazed to find that they were all filled with pro-immigration, pro-Islam messages, with whites (especially the men) displayed as old, feckless and weak. At first I thought this was a sign of the multicultural decline of France being somehow spontaneously reflected in its art. But as I worked through my pile of DVDs, the "messages" became so in-your-face that I thought, "Hold on, this can't possibly be spontaneous. Could there really be some kind of organised propaganda effort in French cinema?" After researching the subject, I found that, yes indeed, there are French government agencies that monitor French television and cinema for the "correct" balance of diversity, reproaching companies if they fail to meet the correct quotas.

Subsidies are also given to film-makers willing to insert pro-diversity themes into the script or give leading roles to brown-skinned actors. As a result, French cinema has been corrupted by propaganda. And now the same blight has struck Britain, as I predicted it would in 2014 when I read that the British Film Institute was making changes to its funding rules, requiring film-makers to show a “commitment to diversity”.

Since then, we’ve seen a succession of propaganda features, often pairing British women with brown-skinned men: A United Kingdom, Victoria and Abdul, etc.

Video Link

Most European cinema is made with government subsidies. This makes it particularly pernicious since it is resistant to commercial imperatives. Fortunately, most European films are so bad no one wants to watch them. Hollywood is a different story. There the Jews are in control and have diabolically weaponised the art of story-telling against us. We can at least hope for a consumer revolt against them there since they’re operating in the private sector. Perhaps it’s wishful thinking, but in the last few years there may have been signs of goy rebellion as Alt Right consciousness spreads and Jews have jumped the shark by laying the propaganda on too thick.

Video Link

Jew Henry Winker jumps the shark, destroying his show’s credibility

It would help fan the flames of this goy revolt if we had an Alt Right equivalent of the IMDB where you could get a quick deconstruction of the propaganda content of the film before watching it. One reason Netflix shut down their review option, I suspect, was that white people had started pushing back there in the comments.

The reviews/analysis on the site wouldn’t need to be too in-depth. A quick take would often be enough.

For example, for “Star Wars: The Last Jedi”.

Jew producer Rem Bergman (Israeli). Reckless young white man rebel gets lots of people killed by evil, white-skinned imperial bad-dies. Purple-haired, feminist-type white woman takes charge and reprimands him. But she is clueless and doesn’t know what to do. A negro and fat Asian chick come up with a plan to save everyone. The negro is a coward but the Slope encourages him to man up. A young white chick goes to an old white guy to learn wisdom. He is weak, feckless; given up; thinks he is useless and doesn’t care anymore. She persuades him to try again. He teaches her stuff. In the end, the white chick, the negro and fat Asian bitch and a “diverse” crew of helpers confront the evil white imperials and defeat their plans.

Obviously, this would have to set up on a platform that was resistant to censorship, open to input from unknown outsiders, with some kind of approval process for entries to exclude infiltration by the Left. Sort of like the “far-right” Wikipedia equivalents.

Ultimately, a people defines its self-image through the stories it tells. By hijacking the apparatus of our collective dream manufacture, the Jews have been able to sap our spirit and warp our sense of right and wrong. An Alt Right IMDB would let us set up our very own Culture of Critique through which we could begin the process of deprogramming the Matrix.

DS

The Problem of European Man

Andrew Anglin
Daily Stormer
January 8, 2018

As we regularly discuss here on the Daily Stormer, Moslems have a religion which says it is good to fight a war against white people. Selling drugs, raping women, committing acts of terrorism and even just basic welfare fraud are all considered virtuous before their god in their spiritual paradigm.

Jews, of course, also have a religion which not only sanctions but encourages crimes against and open slaughter of non-Jews.

The problem of Europe in responding to this religiously-driven race war is that both of our religions—Christianity and Secular Atheism—are organizing in support of the invasion. Religion tends to be the core organizing force in any society, so when the church fell apart and began embracing anti-white policies at the same time as half or more of society abandoned the church for a new religion of feminism, homosexuality and general political correctness, we lost our ability to resist.

Clearly, if we still had old Christianity, we wouldn’t have this situation.

Or if we had some new Nietzschean/Darwinian blood-religion.

I'm not even sure how important "pathological altruism" actually is to our current racial behavior patterns. I can see the reasoning for it, evolutionarily, but at the same time we did conquer the world.

Most of the faggot feelings stuff and an inability to slaughter our enemies, rape their women and steal their lands and treasure seems to stem from a broken ideology in the form of modern Christianity and Atheism.

Even if pathological altruism is partially true, it can be undermined with a new spiritual doctrine and a new moral order which involve blood and conquest.

One thing is absolutely certain: we need to shift towards a policy of total destruction of our enemies. There is no room for halfway measures here. We need a new way of looking at life and existence and at death and war.

"Nationalism for Everyone"?

I am staunchly opposed to those in the right-wing who talk about "nationalism for everyone," not necessarily because I actually care whether or not blacks or Arabs have their own homelands, but because you will never build a movement based on a halfway measure—"they are not really our enemies, they are just our enemies because they invaded our countries and took our lands, women and treasures" is not a consistent argument on a spiritual/moral level. No one can put their entire being and conception of self behind a halfway moral order such as this—and if you try and force something like that, people will fall back onto the existing morality.

We are offering a new ideology to people, and there is zero reason why we cannot offer a new morality as part of that. It is easy enough to appeal to the core of man and his desire for conquest and vengeance. In fact, it is impossible not to offer a new moral order with our ideology, as the existing moral order exists exclusively to prop-up the existing system.

I don't want to hear about how we have to be "moral" in dealing with immigrants or black people. I want to hear that morality is ONLY based on the protection of OUR GENETIC LINEAGE and that no other thing is considered when we consider what is moral.

We do not need to argue "might makes right" or any other rhyming phrase. We simply say "we take our own side in every situation."

This means stopping the boomer WN 1.0 tripe of white knighting for brown people in any context. White knighting for Palestinians is sick and dumb, for instance. They do nothing to fight the Jews and thus they are useless to us. I do white knight for Assad and Iran, but I do so only in the context that they are useful TO US because they are actually dangerous to the Jews.

So as much as you may think that saying "oh, the Jews, look, they're killing babies" is a good argument against Jews, all it actually does is make you look weak and like you don't actually believe in your own principles. It reinforces the existing moral order, which assumes that "mean things are bad."

Equally idiotic is the attempt to portray Jews as "the real racist supremacists." The fact of the matter is that the Jews are fighting for their own side, and we should be doing the same. Attempting to throw Jewish morality back onto the Jews might seem clever, but it is really just a cheap trick that comes across as cheap as it truly is. Sure, it can be a cute rhetorical device in the context of a debate with Jews, fine, but it cannot exist as some fundamental part of our ideology—that we are anti-racists fighting the real racists, the Jews. Get the hell out of here with that gibberish.

You are not going to emotionally manipulate your way to victory in a race war, guys. Sorry.

You don't necessarily have to advocate for genocide—that can get a little bit goofy at some point anyway—but you need to make it clear that we are taking our own side and only our own side and we will always do what is best for our team and only what is best for our team.

The average human's mind cannot distinguish that people would be enemies in one location and innocent victims in another. An intellectual can conceive of such a thing, but we are not marketing our ideology to intellectuals because intellectuals do not need marketed to.

At no time in history has anyone ever fought a war saying that the enemy was only the enemy within a certain context. Imagine Charlemagne telling Europe that he liked Moslems, and thinks they have a right to their own lands—he just doesn't like that they are invading Europe. Furthermore, imagine him digging through Islamic books to come up with a moral justification for why they shouldn't invade us.

A hard distinction should be made between friend and enemy and that distinction should fall directly on in-group/out-group lines—and we don't need to justify this as morally correct based on the “mean things are bad” morals that the Jews have sold to the goyim.

US vs THEM.

No apologies.

Period.

DS